Morisot's Modernism and Impressionist Art Claire Moran, 2025-09-29 This volume seeks to reframe French Impressionist painter Berthe Morisot 1841 95 in the history of art via a focus on the spaces and people that informed her work and thereby offers a new interpretation of Impressionism and of modernist aesthetics Claire Moran utilizes close visual analyses of artworks in particular those of family friends domestic servants and acquaintances textual analysis of Morisot s journals and letters investigation of late nineteenth century advice manuals magazines and advertisements in relation to Morisot s life and work examination of housing floor plans and gardens and the study of specific household objects that recur in her work and their history This multi pronged method of analysis grounded in Morisot s lived experience will allow a new understanding of Morisot s art to emerge one with the potential to not only highlight the modernity of her aesthetics but also question both public and critical assumptions about Impressionism The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history gender studies French studies and history of design

Time in Fashion Caroline Evans, Alessandra Vaccari, 2020-07-09 Few phenomena embody the notion of time as well as fashion Fast moving and rooted in the now it s constantly creating its own past through the process of rapid style change Uniquely poised between the past and the future fashion s relationship with time is unorthodox Rather than considering time in the conventional sense this anthology explores three alternative ways to think about fashion and time the first identifies the seasonal nature of fashion as an industry and shows how this has impacted on workers and wearers alike The second looks at fashion design as a ceaseless process of adaptation reconstruction and recombination of motifs in which nostalgia and revivals play their part The third construes fashion s imaginary with its capacity for fantasy and myth making as a form of alternate history that asks what if Within this framework key classic texts are juxtaposed with lesser known ones in an interdisciplinary approach that includes philosophy history literature media and fashion design ranging from the 18th century to the present It will be of interest to anyone wishing to understand one of the most complex yet inescapable aspects of fashion its relationship to time and will be a critical resource for undergraduate and postgraduate students in the humanities and all those interested in fashion in all its creative commercial and cultural aspects

A Cultural History of Dress and Fashion in the Age of Empire Denise Amy Baxter, 2018-11-01 During the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries the production of dress shifted dramatically from being predominantly hand crafted in small quantities to machine manufactured in bulk The increasing democratization of appearances made new fashions more widely available but at the same time made the need to differentiate social rank seem more pressing In this age of empire the coding of class gender and race was frequently negotiated through dress in complex ways from fashionable dress which restricted or exaggerated the female body to liberating reform dress from self defining black dandies to the oppressions and resistances of slave dress Richly illustrated with over 100 images and drawing on a plethora of visual textual and object sources A Cultural History of Dress and Fashion in the Age of Empire presents essays on textiles production and distribution the body belief gender and sexuality status ethnicity and visual and literary representations to illustrate the diversity and cultural significance of dress and fashion in the period

Baroque Modernity Joseph Cermatori, 2021-11-16 A groundbreaking study on the vital role of baroque theater in shaping modernist philosophy literature and performance Finalist for the Outstanding Book Award by the Association for Theatre in Higher Education Honorable Mention for the Balakian Prize by the International Comparative Literature Association Winner of the Helen Tartar Book Subvention Award by the American Comparative Literature Association Finalist of the MSA First Book Prize by the Modernist Studies Association Baroque style with its emphasis on ostentation adornment and spectacle might seem incompatible with the dominant forms of art since the Industrial Revolution but between 1875 and 1935 European and American modernists connected to the theater became fascinated with it In Baroque Modernity Joseph Cermatori argues that the memory of seventeenth century baroque stages helped produce new forms of theater space and experience around the turn of the twentieth century In response modern theater helped give rise to the development of the baroque as a modern philosophical idea The book focuses on avant gardists whose writing takes place between theory and performance philosophical theater makers and theatrical philosophers including Friedrich Nietzsche Stéphane Mallarmé Walter Benjamin and Gertrude Stein Moving between page and stage this study tracks the remnants of seventeenth century theater through modernist aesthetics across an array of otherwise disparate materials including modern opera Bertolt Brecht's Epic Theater poetic tragedies and miracle plays By reexamining the twentieth century's engagements with Gianlorenzo Bernini William Shakespeare Claudio Monteverdi Calderón de la Barca and other seventeenth century predecessors the book delineates an enduring tradition of baroque performance Along the way Cermatori expands our familiar narratives of the modern and traces a history of theatricality that reverberates into the twenty first century Baroque Modernity will appeal to readers in a wide array of disciplines including comparative literature theater and performance art and music history intellectual history and aesthetic theory

Mallarmé on Fashion Stéphane Mallarmé, P. N. Furbank, A. M. Cain, 2004-04 In 1874 Stéphane Mallarmé the great French poet undertook a highly idiosyncratic project the publication of a fashion magazine called La Dernière Mode The Latest Fashion that he almost single handedly compiled Using a variety of feminine and masculine pseudonyms to theorize about fashion and to advise on popular vacation destinations home furnishings and entertainment Mallarmé created a spectacularly original work The distinguishing feature of Mallarmé's magazine is that it explores the nature of fashion from the inside While it is a genuine fashion magazine it also satirizes the entire genre Various theories have been entertained about the work it has been viewed as a prose poem a hoax and a cynical money making venture Furbank and Cain however argue that such guesses are hopelessly off the mark Complete with the original artwork and a contextualizing introduction and commentary this is the definitive translation of one of French literature's greatest enigmas researchers alike studying fashion journalism history and media studies

Baudelaire and Photography Timothy Raser, 2017-07-05 While Baudelaire's Le Peintre de la vie moderne is often cited as the first expression of our theory of modernism his choice of Constantin Guys as that painter has caused consternation from the moment of the essay's publication in 1863 Worse still in his Salon de 1859 Baudelaire had also chosen to condemn photography in terms that echo to this day Why did the excellent critic choose a mere reporter and illustrator as the painter of modern life How could he have overlooked photography as the painting of modern life In this study of modernity and photography in Baudelaire's writing Timothy Raser who has written on the art criticism of Baudelaire Proust Claudel and Sartre shows how these two aberrations of critical judgment are related and how they underlie current discussions of both photography and modernism Timothy Raser is Professor of French at the University of Georgia USA

Writing Japonisme Pamela A. Genova, 2016-04-30 In her book Pamela Genova suggests that as critics move in general from a literal to a more metaphoric understanding and presentation of Japonisme the mutability of the phenomenon is highlighted in a rich and illuminating manner By exploring the conditions of the creation of these works accenting the original aims of the artists the manipulations carried out by art dealers gallery owners and boutique managers as well as the gestures of explanation interpretation and judgment offered by the professional and amateur critics Japonisme takes on an even more versatile nature Further a complex web of correspondence germinates among these artists both French and Japanese and their many critics It is in this light that the truly rich character of Japonisme comes forth since the undesirability even the impossibility of the attempt to reduce it to a single genre style era or cultural cadre attests to its elusiveness and its Protean nature Japonisme does not correspond to a single dictionary definition no matter how subtle or self-aware that definition might be By situating the dynamics of Japonisme as a response on the part of French culture to the culture of Japan we gain a keener sense of the multiplicity of modern French sensibility itself of how the awareness of a nation's language history and art forms can be creatively reflected in the images of a culture seemingly radically different from its own

Fashioning Spaces Heidi Brevik-Zender, 2015-01-01 In Fashioning Spaces Heidi Brevik-Zender argues that in the years between 1870 and 1900 the chroniclers of Parisian modernity depicted the urban landscape not just in public settings such as boulevards and parks but also in dislocations spaces where the public and the intimate overlapped in provocative and subversive ways Stairwells theatre foyers dressmakers studios and dressing rooms were in between places that have long been overlooked but were actually marked as indisputably modern through their connections with high fashion Fashioning Spaces engages with and thinks beyond the work of critics Charles Baudelaire and Walter Benjamin to arrive at new readings of the French capital Examining literature by Zola Maupassant Rachilde and others as well as paintings architecture and the fashionable garments worn by both men and women Brevik-Zender crafts a compelling and innovative account of how fashion was appropriated as a way of writing about the complexities of modernity in fin de siècle Paris

Accessories to Modernity Susan

Hiner, 2011-06-06 Accessories to Modernity explores the ways in which feminine fashion accessories such as cashmere shawls parasols fans and handbags became essential instruments in the bourgeois idealization of womanhood in nineteenth century France Considering how these fashionable objects were portrayed in fashion journals and illustrations as well as fiction the book explores the histories and cultural weight of the objects themselves and offers fresh readings of works by Balzac Flaubert and Zola some of the most widely read novels of the period As social boundaries were becoming more and more fluid in the nineteenth century one effort to impose order over the looming confusion came in the case of women through fashion and the fashion accessory thus became an ever more crucial tool through which social distinction could be created projected and maintained Looking through the lens of fashion Susan Hiner explores the interplay of imperialist expansion and domestic rituals the assertion of privilege in the face of increasing social mobility gendering practices and their relation to social hierarchies and the rise of commodity culture and woman's paradoxical status as both consumer and object within it Through her close focus on these luxury objects Hiner reframes the feminine fashion accessory as a key symbol of modernity that bridges the erotic and proper the domestic and exotic and mass production and the work of art while making a larger claim about the accessory status in terms of both complicity and subordination of bourgeois women in nineteenth century France Women were not simply passive bystanders but rather were themselves accessories to the work of modernity from which they were ostensibly excluded

Paris Fashion Valerie Steele, 2017-09-21 Paris has been the international capital of fashion for more than 300 years Even before the rise of the haute couture Parisians were notorious for their obsession with fashion and foreigners eagerly followed their lead From Charles Frederick Worth to Gabrielle Coco Chanel Christian Dior and Yves Saint Laurent fashion history is dominated by the names of Parisian couturiers But Valerie Steele's Paris Fashion is much more than just a history of great designers This fascinating book demonstrates that the success of Paris ultimately rests on the strength of its fashion culture created by a host of fashion performers and spectators including actresses dandies milliners artists and writers First published in 1988 to great international acclaim this pioneering book has now been completely revised and brought up to date encompassing the rise of fashion's multiple world cities in the 21st century Lavishly illustrated deeply learned and elegantly written Valerie Steele's masterwork explores with brilliance and flair why Paris remains the capital of fashion

Domestic Space in France and Belgium Claire Moran, 2022-01-13 Domestic Space in France and Belgium offers a new addition to the growing body of work in Interior Studies Focused on late 19th and early 20th century France and Belgium it addresses an overlooked area of modernity the domestic sphere and its conception and representation in art literature and material culture Scholars from the US UK France Italy Canada and Belgium offer fresh and exciting interpretations of artworks texts and modern homes Comparative and interdisciplinary it shows through a series of case studies in literature art and architecture how modernity was expressed through domestic life at the turn of the century in France and Belgium

Modernist Short Fiction and Things Aimée Gasston, 2021-08-10 This book reappraises the philosophical value of short fiction by Virginia Woolf Katherine Mansfield and Elizabeth Bowen examining the stories through the lens of specific everyday objects Looking at Woolf and armchairs Mansfield and snack food and Bowen and fashion accessories it probes the aesthetic resonance between these stories form and contents and also considers the modes of thinking they might promote Conceiving of their short fiction as intrinsically radical and experimental even within a wider context of modernist innovation this book shows how these important women writers brought quotidian objects to riotous life in such a way that tasked readers with reevaluating their everyday existence Overall Modernist Short Fiction and Things argues that short fiction epitomises modernist aesthetics functioning as a resonant source for investigation and complementing and expanding our understanding of modernist epistemology

The Press and Popular Culture in Interwar Europe Sarah Newman, Matt Houlbrook, 2015-09-25 This collection shows the importance of a comparative European framework for understanding developments in the popular press and journalism between the wars This was it argues a formative and vital period in the making of the modern press A great deal of fine scholarship on the development of modern forms of journalism and newspapers in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries has emerged within discrete national histories Yet in bringing together essays on Britain France Germany Italy and Poland this book discerns points of convergence and divergence and the importance of the European context in shaping how news was defined produced and consumed Challenging the tendency of histories of the press to foreground processes of Americanisation and the displacement of older notions of the fourth estate by new forms of human interest journalism the chapters draw attention to the complex ways in which the popular press continued to be politicized throughout the interwar period Building on this analysis the book examines the forms processes and networks through which newspapers were produced for public consumption In a period of massive social political and economic upheaval and conflict the popular press provided a forum in which Europe s meanings and nature could be constructed and contested The interpersonal material and technological links between newspapers news corporations and news agencies in different countries served to define the outlines of Europe Europe was called into being through the circulation of news and the practices and networks of the modern mass press traced in this volume This publication is highly relevant to scholars of the history of journalism and cultural historians of interwar Britain and Europe This book was originally published as a special issue of Journalism Studies

Modernism at the Beach Hannah Freed-Thall, 2023-03-07 Winner 2024 MSA Book Prize Modernist Studies Association At the beach bodies converge with the elements and strange treasures come to light Departing from the conventional association of modernism with the city this book makes a case for the coastal zone as a surprisingly generative setting for twentieth century literature and art An unruly and elusive confluence of human and more than human forces the seashore is also a space of performance a stage for loosely scripted improvisatory forms of embodiment and togetherness The beach Hannah Freed Thall argues was to the modernist imagination what mountains were to Romanticism a space not merely of anthropogenic conquest but of vital elemental and creaturely connection With an eye to the peripheries of capitalist leisure Freed Thall recasts familiar seaside practices including tide pooling beachcombing gambling and sunbathing as radical experiments in perception and sociability Close readings of works by Marcel Proust Virginia Woolf Claude McKay Samuel Beckett Rachel Carson and Gordon Matta Clark among others explore the modernist beach as a queer refuge a precarious commons a scene of collective exhaustion and endurance and a visionary threshold at the end of the world Interweaving environmental humanities queer and feminist theory and cultural history Modernism at the Beach offers new ways of understanding twentieth century literature and its relation to ecological thought
