Russia and Iran, 1780-1828 Muriel Atkin, 1980-05-01 Russia and Iran 1780 1828 was first published in 1980 Minnesota Archive Editions uses digital technology to make long unavailable books once again accessible and are published unaltered from the original University of Minnesota Press editions Modern Russo Iranian relations date from the late eighteenth century when after several centuries of commercial and diplomatic contact the two nations entered a period of extended warfare for possession of the Caucasian borderlands disputed territory that eventually fell to Russia In her history of that struggle Muriel Atkin reassesses the motives of major figures on both sides and views the Iranians with more sympathy than Western and Russian historians have usually accorded them Russia embarked on her course in the Caucasus for reasons connected with defense or trade and with a longterm imperial goal based on uncritical acceptance of prevailing European doctrines of empire The new dynasty in Iran on the other hand had to fend off Russian attack and secure the borderlands in order to justify its basic claim to power In the end the wars brought major disruption to the already unstable borderlands and left Iran with a discredited government and a controversy over reforms and relations with the West that would continue to cause turmoil in subsequent generations Hearings United States. Javier Trevino, 2017-07-05 In analyzing the socio psychic nature and operations of intuitive legal rules Petrazycki formulates a theory of law around five conceptual themes anti formalism imperative attributive legal relationships law s functional control law s subjective reality and morality Petrazycki presents the two ways by which law coordinates and regulates social conduct as through its distributive and organizing functions Law and Morality has a basic objective to analyze interrelations between positive and intuitive law Petrazycki s socio psychic orientation toward law is behavioral as well as thoughtful He finds the most suitable methods for obtaining knowledge about legal experiences to be internal and external observation His technique of introspection is similar to Max Weber s conceptual method Petrazycki distinguishes between two kinds of interpretive understanding External observation involves deriving the meaning of an act or symbolic expression from immediate observation without reference to any broader context and internal observation involves placing the particular act in a broader context of meaning involving facts that cannot be derived from a particular act or expression Petrazycki's socio-legal ideas remain relevant in today's society. His arguments concerning the global expansion of human love have an attraction for those working towards a better world. In the context of positive psychology and the growing happiness industry, Petrazycki's ideas will compel legal scholars to consider his arguments. Petrazycki's work stands out for the scientific ambitions and systematic nature of his thought as well as the influence of his work on later scholars in the sociology of law.
