Conversations at the Castle Mary Jane Jacob,Michael Brenson,1998 This book addresses one of the most troubling questions of contemporary art theory and practice Who is contemporary art for Although the divide between contemporary art and the public has long been acknowledged this is the first time that artists critics and the public have come together to debate the problem and to make artmaking criticism and public reaction part of the same process Like the exhibitions discussions and seminars held at The Castle during the summer 1996 Olympic Games in Atlanta this book is based on the premise that contemporary artists and the general public have something to say to each other By positing the space of conversation as one in which artworks can be experienced as creative sites open to multilayered interpretations by changing audiences the book provides an antidote to the modernist connoisseurial silence that has long been used to define quality The book is divided into three sections The first contains essays by project curator Mary Jane Jacob critic and coeditor Michael Brenson and cultural critic Homi K Bhabha Their essays describe fresh approaches to contemporary art and its audiences at a time of increased access through technology and decreased government funding The second section contains essays by the six artists collaborative teams involved in the project Their works aimed at public participation included installation performances collaborations with Atlanta communities cross country tours and the creation and presentation of food as a means to stimulate conversation and construct community The artists are artway of thinking Italy Ery Camara Senegal Mexico Mauricio Dias and Walter Riedweg Brazil Switzerland Regina Frank Germany IRWIN Slovenia and Maurice O Connell Ireland The final section contains seven

Weiss, 2013-09-15 The essential elements of a dry Japanese garden are few rocks gravel moss Simultaneously a sensual matrix a symbolic form and a memory theater these gardens exhibit beautiful miniaturization and precise craftsmanship But their apparent minimalism belies a true complexity In Zen Landscapes Allen S Weiss takes readers on an exciting journey through these exquisite sites explaining how Japanese gardens must be approached according to the play of scale surroundings and seasons as well as in relation to other arts revealing them as living landscapes rather than abstract designs Weiss shows that these gardens are inspired by the Zen aesthetics of the tea ceremony manifested in poetry painting calligraphy architecture cuisine and ceramics Japanese art favors suggestion and allusion valuing the threshold between the distinct and the inchoate between figuration and abstraction and he argues that ceramics play a crucial role here relating as much to the site specificity of landscape as to the ritualized codes of the tea ceremony and the everyday gestures of the culinary table With more than one hundred stunning color photographs Zen Landscapes is the first in depth study in the West to examine the correspondences between gardens and ceramics A fascinating look at landscape art and its relation to the customs and craftsmanship of the Japanese arts it will appeal to readers interested in landscape design and Japan's art and culture Exhibition, Shibuya Seibu Art Gallery, 1996*
