

Notes to the Reader

Before beginning, I must make a note on terminology throughout the thesis. This thesis utilizes first names when referring to any main figure, such as Ben, Virginia, Sage, Kamal, and Vida. Also, the restaurant “Ben’s Chili Bowl” will hereby be referred to as “the Chili Bowl” to maintain a distinction between the person Ben and the restaurant. Additionally, the term “IndoTrinidad[ian]” is featured throughout the thesis. I intentionally chose not to hyphenate the term, as it reflects a blending of two cultures rather than a break or conforming of one culture to another. Lastly, when referring to blackness, I capitalize “Black” only when alluding to a person, otherwise terms like “black community” and “blackness” are lowercase.

Throughout the thesis, I include photographs of main characters and events. These images are intended to illustrate the history of Ben and his Chili Bowl. The thesis features eleven images total.

Ethics of Description Matt Reeck,2023-09-29 Ethics of Description The Anthropological Dispositif and French Modern Travel Writing follows the development of a minor tradition in French literature where metropolitan authors traveling abroad demonstrate their awareness of the ethical conundrums of representing world peoples During the colonial modern era currents of anthropological thought and representational practice are identifiable throughout society and across literature the arts and the sciences Collectively they can be theorized as belonging to a dispositif the anthropological dispositif The modernization of anthropology serves as an ambivalent interlocutor for the realizations of the writers studied in this book about the difficulties of describing cultural realities that lie largely outside their ken Anthropology motivates new literary representational strategies that are alternatively in keeping with scientific mandates or operate against them Forty images are analyzed alongside literary works A postcolonial chapter shows how the ethical awareness of the colonial modern authors studied have impacted minority self representation in contemporary France

Autobiographical Identities in Contemporary Arab Culture Valerie Anishchenkova,2014-07-16 Over the last 40 years autobiography in Arab societies has moved away from exemplary life narratives and toward more unorthodox techniques such as erotic memoir writing postmodernist self fragmentation cinematographic self projection and blogging Valerie Anishchenkova argues that the Arabic autobiographical genre has evolved into a mobile unrestricted category arming authors with narrative tools to articulate their selfhood Reading works from Arab nations such as Egypt Iraq Morocco Syria and Lebanon Anishchenkova connects the century s rapid political and ideological developments to increasing autobiographical experimentation in Arabic works The immense scope of her study also forces consideration of film and online forms of self representation and offers a novel theoretical framework to these various modes of autobiographical cultural production

Participatory archives in a world of ubiquitous media Natalie Pang,Kai Khiun Liew,Brenda Chang,2017-10-02 The media environment of today is characterised by two critical factors the development and adoption of ubiquitous mobile devices and the strengthening of connectivity enabled by advances in ICT infrastructure and social media platforms These developments have changed interactions and relationships between citizens and cultural custodians as well as the ways archives are developed kept and used Archives are now characterised by greater socialisations and networks that actively contribute to the signification of cultural heritage value A range of new stakeholders many of whom include the public have sought to define what needs to be collectively remembered and forgotten The world in which one or a few professional archivists worked on the sole mission of shaping how a society remembers is being displaced by a more democratised culture and the new generation of digitally networked archivists that are its natives Using a range of case studies and perspectives this book provides insights to the many ways that ubiquitous media have influenced archival practices and research as well as the social and civic consequences of present day archives This book was published as a special issue of Archives and Manuscripts 33+ Classic Collection of Edgar Rice Burroughs.
