Davis, Kathryn West, 1996-05-09 Women Writers in the United States is a celebration of the many forms of work written and social tangible and intangible produced by American women Davis and West document the variety and volume of women's work in the U S in a clear and accessible timeline format They present information on the full spectrum of women's writing including fiction poetry biography political manifestos essays advice columns and cookbooks alongside a chronology of developments in social and cultural history that are especially pertinent to women's lives This extensive chronology illustrates the diversity of women who have lived and written in the U S and creates a sense of the full trajectory of individual careers A valuable and rich source of information on women's studies literature and history Women Writers in the United States will enable readers to locate familiar and unfamiliar women's texts and to place them in the context out which they emerged      The Undivided Life Judy A. Alston, Cynthia A. Tyson, 2024-04-01 Much of the research and writing on faculty of color and persistence in the Academy speaks to mentoring recruitment retention job satisfaction and the Imposter Syndrome Yet in spite of the significance though we are small in numbers and necessity of faculty of color in the Academy there is no literature to describe or explain our experiences with regards to our holistic body mind and spirit existence and persistence in the Academy Some questions that persist for faculty of color include How do I continue to persist in the professoriate either in the tenure track or as a tenured professor How can I just be me and still be a successful professor Do I have to check certain parts of me at the door or can I bring all of who I am into the Academy How can I teach research and serve with my whole self and still have my work valued and accepted Do I have to do safe research work or can I do the work that I am passionate about This collection of chapters are the personal stories from faculty of color who have persisted in the Academy despite the sometimes very steep climb      African American Autobiographers Emmanuel S. Nelson, 2002-03-30 There is growing popular and scholarly interest in autobiography along with increasing regard for the achievements of African American writers The first reference of its kind this volume chronicles the autobiographical tradition in African American literature Included are alphabetically arranged entries for 66 African American authors who present autobiographical material in their works The volume profiles major figures such as Frederick Douglass Zora Neale Hurston Richard Wright Maya Angelou James Baldwin and Malcolm X along with many lesser known autobiographers who deserve greater attention While some are known primarily for their literary accomplishments others have gained acclaim for their diverse contributions to society The entries are written by expert contributors and provide authoritative information about their subjects Each begins with a concise biography which summarizes the life and achievements of the autobiographer This is followed by a discussion of major autobiographical works and themes along with an overview of the autobiographer's critical reception The entries close with primary and secondary bibliographies and a selected general bibliography concludes the volume Together the entries provide a detailed portrait of the African American autobiographical tradition from the 18th century to the present

Teacher Educators as Critical Storytellers Antonio L. Ellis, Nicholas Daniel Hartlep, Gloria Ladson-Billings, David Stovall, 2021 The volume describes and vividly illustrates the critical qualities that make PK 12 teachers both effective and memorable These critical stories and the editors concluding conceptual analysis will prove especially valuable to pre service and in service teachers who are engaged in the important responsibility of teaching our nation's youth Each chapter will include an analysis drawn from research on identity in teacher education theory and research in education psychology and human development

Teaching Malcolm X Theresa Perry, 2014-01-02 The volume brings together a dazzling array of perspectives on Malcolm X to discuss the importance of X as a cultural hero and provide guidelines for teaching Malcolm related material at elementary high school and university levels
