Sacred Round:

The Sacred Round Elen Hawke, 2002 This is a witch's guide to magical practices by a Craft Elder Wiccan initiate and a member of the Pagan Federation 12 illustrations Mathematics Elsewhere Marcia Ascher, 2018-06-05 Mathematics Elsewhere is a fascinating and important contribution to a global view of mathematics Presenting mathematical ideas of peoples from a variety of small scale and traditional cultures it humanizes our view of mathematics and expands our conception of what is mathematical Through engaging examples of how particular societies structure time reach decisions about the future make models and maps systematize relationships and create intriguing figures Marcia Ascher demonstrates that traditional cultures have mathematical ideas that are far more substantial and sophisticated than is generally acknowledged Malagasy divination rituals for example rely on complex algebraic algorithms And some cultures use calendars far more abstract and elegant than our own Ascher also shows that certain concepts assumed to be universal that time is a single progression for instance or that equality is a static relationship are not The Basque notion of equivalence for example is a dynamic and temporal one not adequately captured by the familiar equal sign Other ideas taken to be the exclusive province of professionally trained Western mathematicians are in fact shared by people in many societies The ideas discussed come from geographically varied cultures including the Borana and Malagasy of Africa the Tongans and Marshall Islanders of Oceania the Tamil of South India the Basques of Western Europe and the Balinese and Kodi of Indonesia This book belongs on the shelves of mathematicians math students and math educators and in the hands of anyone interested in traditional societies or how people think Illustrating how mathematical ideas play a vital role in diverse human endeavors from navigation to social interaction to religion it offers through the vehicle of mathematics unique cultural encounters to any reader The Writing Revolution Amalia E. Helaine Selin,2012-12-06 Mathematics Across Cultures A History of Non Western Mathematics consists of essays dealing with the mathematical knowledge and beliefs of cultures outside the United States and Europe In addition to articles surveying Islamic Chinese Native American Aboriginal Australian Inca Egyptian and African mathematics among others the book includes essays on Rationality Logic and Mathematics and the transfer of knowledge from East to West The essays address the connections between science and culture and relate the mathematical practices to the cultures which produced them Each essay is well illustrated and contains an extensive bibliography Because the geographic range is global the book fills a gap in both the history of science and in cultural studies It should find a place on the bookshelves of advanced undergraduate students graduate students and scholars as well as in libraries serving those groups Native American Mathematics Michael P. Closs,2010-06-28 There is no question that native cultures in the New World exhibit many forms of mathematical development This Native American mathematics can best be described by considering the nature of the concepts found in a variety of individual New World cultures Unlike modern mathematics in which numbers and concepts are expressed in a universal mathematical notation the numbers and concepts found in native cultures occur and are expressed in many distinctive ways Native American Mathematics edited by Michael P Closs is the first book to focus on mathematical development indigenous to the New World Spanning time from the prehistoric to the present the thirteen essays in this volume attest to the variety of mathematical development present in the Americas The data are drawn from cultures as diverse as the Ojibway the Inuit Eskimo and the Nootka in the north the Chumash of Southern California the Aztec and the Maya in Mesoamerica and the Inca and Jibaro of South America Among the strengths of this collection are this diversity and the multidisciplinary approaches employed to extract different kinds of information The distinguished contributors include mathematicians linguists psychologists anthropologists and archaeologists South Indian Inscriptions: pt. 1-3.
