Scope Of History Studies In The Historiography Of Alfonso El Sabio:

The Scope of History Charles F. Fraker, 1996 Traces the histories of Alfonso el Sabio as a valuable framework

Alfonso de la Torre's Visión Deleytable Luis Girón-Negrón, 2021-07-26 The sources content and fate of the 15th century allegorical fable Visión Deleytable are examined from three angles as a medieval compendium of religious philosophy as a major influence in Spanish literature and as an invaluable historical source on Jewish Christian interactions in medieval Spain The volume is divided into three sections The first part considers Visión's didacticism within the Jewish and Christian frames of education in 15th century Spain The second part includes a review of Visión's philosophical content as a comprehensive articulation of a rationalist Weltanschauung The final section traces its intriguing editorial fate and literary influence through the 17th century in Spain Italy and the Netherlands It is Visión's first systematic study from the dual perspective of a Hispanist and a Hebraist

Imagining Iberia in English and Castilian Medieval Romance Emily Houlik-Ritchey, 2023-02-06 An innovative comparative study of Middle English and medieval Castilian romance

The Medieval Chronicle 13, 2020-04-28 Alongside annals chronicles were the main genre of historical writing in the Middle Ages Their significance as sources for the study of medieval history and culture is today widely recognised not only by historians but also by students of medieval literature and linguistics and by art historians The series The Medieval Chronicle aims to provide a representative survey of the on going research in the field of chronicle studies illustrated by examples from specific chronicles from a wide variety of countries periods and cultural backgrounds There are several reasons why the chronicle is particularly suited as the topic of a yearbook In the first place there is its ubiquity all over Europe and throughout the Middle Ages chronicles were written both in Latin and in the vernacular and not only in Europe but also in the countries neighbouring on it like those of the Arabic world Secondly all chronicles raise such questions as by whom for whom or for what purpose were they written how do they reconstruct the past what determined the choice of verse or prose or what kind of literary influences are discernable in them Finally many chronicles have been beautifully illuminated and the relation between text and image leads to a wholly different set of questions The Medieval Chronicle is published in cooperation with the Medieval Chronicle Society medievalchronicle.org

Queenship and Political Power in Medieval and Early Modern Spain Theresa Earenfight, 2017-03-02 Unlike empresses in Germany and queens in England and France the lives and political careers of most Iberian queens remain largely unknown to non specialists In this collection Theresa Earenfight brings together new research on medieval and early modern Spanish queens that highlights the distinctive political culture that resulted in forms of queenship similar to yet also substantially different from that of northern Europe The essays consider three aspects of queenship and politics the institutional foundations and practice of politics the politics of religion and religious devotion and the literary and artistic representations of queenship and power Late medieval queens because they often occupied prominent and powerful offices such as the regency in Castile and Portugal and the Lieutenancy in the Crown of Aragon exemplify a unique form of queenship that can best be described as a political partnership. Habsburg queens and empresses often excluded from such official political roles were less publicly visible but their power as partner to the king although shrouded remains potent. Their political careers were the result of two forces: first military circumstances brought about by territorial expansion, conquest, and second a political culture that did not explicitly prohibit queens from active participation in the governance of the realm. The essays in this collection by both newer and well established scholars demonstrate the range and depth of current research on Iberian queenship and prompt a re-examination of long held assumptions about women and the exercise of power in pre-modern Spain.

Memories of Colonisation in Medieval and Modern Castile Rebecca De Souza, 2024-10-31

Memories of Colonisation in Medieval and Modern Castile Rereading and Refashioning al Andalus traces the evolving memory of a dominant al Andalus in medieval Castilian and later modern Spanish literature and its overlap with contemporary formations of collective identity, race, and nation. It presents a series of close readings of neomedievalist literary works that look back to the socioeconomic apogee of al Andalus, the tenth century Umayyad Caliphate of Cordoba, from the thirteenth to the nineteenth century. These works rewrite what has become known as the story of the siete infantes de Lara, although it is their Andalusí half brother Mudarra who takes centre stage from the early modern period on. In its earliest form it is a story of a weak, conflictual county of Castile dependent socioeconomically and morally upon Andalusí intervention. This book therefore traces how a story of Castilian weakness is repeatedly rewritten once the reverse colonial dynamic had taken hold and Castile had begun conquering al Andalus. Memories of Colonisation asks why Mudarra and the infantes continue to reappear in medieval chronicles, from the Estoria de España to lesser known regional historiography, early modern ballads, comedias, and nineteenth century Romantic poetry and prose. By examining how each of these texts remember tenth century Iberia's fluid geographical and interracial boundaries, it explores how they support or challenge dominant contemporary discourses of collective identity, race, and nation, from the neogothic aspirations of thirteenth century Castile to the antisemitism of fifteenth century Toledo, expansion in the Mediterranean, the Islamophobia of the morisco expulsion, and the partisan manipulation of al Andalus under nineteenth century liberalism. As the first study of the development of Spanish neomedievalism, it explores how this serves as a productive, prescient discourse of cultural memory through which chroniclers, poets, playwrights, and authors can look forward. It questions the inevitability of Christian Castilian colonial hegemony by invoking a narrative of Christian Iberia's own subjugation by a superior Umayyad Caliphate. It also explores how each text exposes the task of reconstructing historical memory in the present and thereby challenges the notion of a stable, incontestable past for Castile and Spain.

Friendship in Medieval Iberia Antonella Liuzzo Scorpo, 2016-04-15

Private and public relationships frequently labelled as friendships have always played a crucial role in human societies. Yet over the centuries, ideas and meanings of friendship transformed, adapting to the political and social climates of different periods. Changing concepts and practices of friendship characterized the intellectual, social, political, and cultural panorama of medieval Europe including that of thiteenth century Iberia Subject of conquests and Reconquest land of convivencia but also of political instability as well as of secular and religious international power struggles the articulation of friendship within its borders is a particularly fraught subject to study Drawing on some of the encyclopaedic vernacular masterpieces produced in the scriptorium of The Wise King Alfonso X of Castile 1252-84 this study explores the political religious and social networks inter faith and gender relationships legal definitions as well as bonds of tutorship and companionship which were frequently defined through the vocabulary and rhetoric of friendship This study demonstrates how the values and meanings of amicitia often associated with classical Roman Visigothic and Eastern traditions were transformed to adapt to Alfonso X's cultural projects and political propaganda This book contributes to the study of the history of emotions and cultural histories of the Middle Ages while also emphasizing how Iberia was a peripheral but still vital ring in a chain which linked it to the rest of Europe while also occupying a central role in the historical and cultural developments of the Western Mediterranean

Courting the Alhambra Cynthia Robinson, Simone Pinet, 2009-02-28

The ceiling paintings in the Hall of Justice of the Alhambra have not received serious scholarly attention for the past thirty years perhaps due to their difficult incorporation into a discrete program of Christian vs Islamic art categories that until recently remained unchallenged themselves The Alhambra itself continues to elicit the interest of many scholars and several recent interpretations of the function of the Palace of the Lions which houses the paintings have been put forth This collection brings together art historians literary critics and historians who suggest new ways of approaching the paintings through their immediate social historical architectural and literary contexts proposing a porous and flexible model for the production of culture in Iberia Contributors are Jerrylin Dodds Ana Echevarria Jennifer Borland Rosa Mar a Rodr guez Porto Oscar Martin Amanda Luyster Cynthia Robinson and Simone Pinet
