Patzia, 1995-05-25 In affirming the divine inspiration of Scripture we too often forget the human side of the story The narratives letters and Apocalypse of our New Testament were shaped by worn pens gripped by calloused ink stained fingers Their authors ears were more likely assaulted by the urban clatter of busy intersections and bustling markets than attuned to a still small voice Scrolls that bumped across cobbled Roman roads and pitched through rolling Mediterranean seas found their destination in stuffy dimly lit crowded Christian house churches in Corinth or Cenchreae There they were read aloud and reread handled and copied forwarded and collected studied and treasured Their ordinary story is true to their extraordinary message the mystery of the Word that became flesh The Making of the New Testament is a textbook study of the origin collection copying and canonizing of the New Testament documents Like shrewd detectives reading the subtle traces of evidence biblical scholars have studied the trail of clues and pieced together the story of these books Scribes Writing Scripture Justus Theodore Ghormley, 2021-11-29 The biblical book of Jeremiah was frequently expanded and revised through duplication by anonymous scribes in ancient Judea Who were these scribes What gave them the authority to revise divinatory texts like Jeremiah And when creating duplicates what did they think they were doing In Scribes Writing Scripture Doublets Textual Divination and the Formation of Jeremiah Justus Theodore Ghormley explores possible answers to these questions The scribes who revised Jeremiah are textual diviners akin to divining scribal scholars of ancient Near Eastern royal courts and their practice of expanding Jeremiah through duplication involves techniques of textual divination comparable the practice of textual divination utilized in the formation of ancient Near Eastern divinatory texts
