Deification in Eastern Orthodox Theology Emil Bartos, 2007-01-01 In recent years Eastern Orthodox thought has had an increasing influence on key aspects of contemporary Western Christian thought particularly as regards the doctrine of the Trinity and mystical spirituality However the foundations and fundamental presuppositions of Eastern Christianity's theological system have remained largely unstudied and thus unknown in the West In this important study Emil Bartos examines the doctrine of deification which provides the conceptual basis for the way Staniloae and other Orthodox theologians understand the major doctrines of the Christian faith The idea that God became man that man might become God sounds almost heretical to many Western ears yet this affirmation is repeated countless times in the writings of the Eastern Fathers Beginning with the apophaticism that lies at the heart of Eastern theology Bartos examines each of the key doctrines of anthropology christology soteriology and ecclesiology as they relate to deification in Staniloae's thought Bartos' study represents not merely a contribution to contemporary dialogue between Eastern and Western theologians but also a much needed introduction to an aspect of Christian thought down the centuries that is largely neglected in the Christian West

Neoplatonism și creștinism: negație și transcendență Daniel Jugrin, 2023-05-11 Nu este nici cuvânt al ei nici nume nici cunoștință Nu este nici întineric nici lumină nici eroare nici adevăr Nu este defel nici postulare thesis a ei nici îndepărtare aphairesis Cifăcând postulările îndepărtările a celor de după ea nici nu o postulare nici nu o îndepărtare de vreme ce cauza deplină a una a tuturor este hyper toată postularea și hyper toată îndepărtarea ca cea care este preeminența a hyperocheliber de toate și dincolo de epekeina toate Dionisie Areopagitul Despre teologia mistică V Romania Keith Hitchins, 1994 From the mid nineteenth century until the Second World War the energies of Rumanian political and intellectual elites were absorbed by the building of their nation In this comprehensive and scholarly study Keith Hitchins traces these complex processes and explores how Rumania's leaders attempted to transform the ideology of modern nationhood into strong political economic and social institutions and to find ways of preserving independence in an international political and economic order dominated by the great powers As the new Rumania took shape the threads of historical continuity remained strikingly evident in government a strong administrative centralization prevailed despite the maturing of parliamentary institutions and the diversity of political expression the national economy remained beholden to agriculture despite the steady growth of industry and in cultural life traditional values persisted despite the adoption of modern forms In foreign relations the most pressing aim was to unite all Rumanians in a single state and to defend its sovereignty within an uncertain international order In all these endeavours the measure of achievement was the West After the Second World War when the Communist Party came to power this historical continuity was broken The experiment in nation building gave way to a new ideology and Rumania now turned to the Soviet political and economic model Volume 8, Tome II: Kierkegaard's International Reception - Southern, Central and Eastern Europe Jon Stewart, 2016-12-14 Although Kierkegaard's reception was initially more or less limited to Scandinavia it has for a long time now been a highly international affair As his writings were translated into different languages his reputation spread and he became read more and more by people increasingly distant from his native Denmark While in Scandinavia the attack on the Church in the last years of his life became something of a cause célèbre later many different aspects of his work became the object of serious scholarly investigation well beyond the original northern borders As his reputation grew he was co-opted by a number of different philosophical and religious movements in different contexts throughout the world The three tomes of this volume attempt to record the history of this reception according to national and linguistic categories Tome II covers the reception of Kierkegaard in Southern Central and Eastern Europe The first set of articles under the rubric Southern Europe covers Portugal Spain and Italy A number of common features were shared in these countries reception of Kierkegaard including a Catholic cultural context and a debt to the French reception The next rubric covers the rather heterogeneous group of countries designated here as Central Europe Hungary the Czech Republic Slovakia and Poland These countries are loosely bound in a cultural sense by their former affiliation with the Habsburg Empire and in a religious sense by their shared Catholicism Finally the Orthodox countries of Eastern Europe are represented with articles on Russia Bulgaria Serbia and Montenegro Macedonia and Romania
