Human/Animal Amie Souza Reilly,2025-04-29 Amie Souza Reilly bought an old house in the suburbs She had just gotten remarried and was looking forward to a new start with her new husband and her six year old son But immediately after moving in the next door neighbors began a crusade to push them out The two brothers followed her peered in her windows stood in her yard trapped her inside her car As they broke boundary after suburban boundary she found herself implicated in their violence Human Animal merges personal narrative and cultural criticism to unleash the complicated relationship between instinct and action violence and regret This bestiary in essays wrestles American colonialism horror films feminism and gender studies to confront the intrusive neighbors the author could not Ultimately this book asks larger questions about proximity care and the line between human and animal Illustrated with the author's own sketches Human Animal A Bestiary in Essays grapples not only with Reilly's place in her neighborhood but with America's past and current political climate

Erasing Frankenstein Elizabeth Effinger, 2024-07-23 Who gets to write poetry Whose voices are made public Whose voices are heeded Erasing Frankenstein showcases a creative exchange between federally incarcerated women and members of the prison education think tank Walls to Bridges Collective at the Grand Valley Institution for Women in Kitchener Ontario and graduate and undergraduate students from the University of New Brunswick in Fredericton Working collaboratively by long distance mail the artists and contributors made the first ever poetic adaptation of Frankenstein turning it into a book length erasure poem I or Us An example of found art an erasure poem is created by erasing or blacking out words in an existing text what is left is the poem The title reflects the nature of the project participants have worked as I's each creating their own erased pages but together worked as an us to create a collaged monster of a book Erasing Frankenstein presents the original erasure poem I or Us alongside reflections from participants on the experience Dead Woman Pickney

Yvonne Shorter Brown, 2022-04-01 Dead Woman Pickney chronicles Yvonne Shorter Brown's life growing up in Jamaica between 1943 and 1965 and teaching in Canada from 1969 Told with stridency and humour the stories include both personal experience and history Taking up the haunting memories of childhood along with persistent racial marginalization of Black people both globally and in Canada the author sets out to construct a narrative that at once explains her own origins in the former slave society of Jamaica and traces the outsider status of Africa and its peoples The author's quest to understand the absence of her mother and her mother's people from her life is at the heart of the narrative The author struggles through life to discover the identity of her mother in the face of silence from her father's brutal family In this updated edition she adds a coda finding mother constructed from archives genealogy letters and journals Initially published in 2010 this second edition includes expanded text and a foreword by Sonja Boon author of What the Oceans Remember Not the Whole Story Lea

Caragata, Judit Alcalde, 2014-04-18 Not the Whole Story is a compilation of sixteen stories narrated by single mothers in their own way and about their own lives Each story is unique but the same issues appear again and again Abuse parenting as single mothers challenges in the labour market mental health and addictions issues a scarcity of quality childcare immigration and status vulnerability struggles with custody and poverty these factors combined with a lack of support contribute to their continued struggles The themes that recur across stories illustrate that the issues the women face are not just about individual struggle they demonstrate that major issues in Canada's social system have been neglected in public policy In order for these issues to be addressed we need to challenge the flawed public policies and the negative discourse that continue to marginalize single mothers in terms of the opportunities in their own lives and in terms of how they are understood by other Canadians The first person narratives of the struggles and issues faced by low income single mothers provide narrative richness and are augmented by introductory and concluding chapters that draw the narrative themes together and offer overarching discussion and analysis

Scratching River Michelle Porter, 2022-04-15 Scratching River braids the voices of mother brother sister ancestor and river to create a story about environmental personal and collective healing This memoir revolves around a search for home for the author's older brother who is both autistic and schizophrenic and an unexpected emotional journey that led to acceptance understanding and ultimately reconciliation Michelle Porter brings together the oral history of a Métis ancestor studies of river morphology and news clippings about abuse her older brother endured at a rural Alberta group home to tell a tale about love survival and hope This book is a voice in your ear urging you to explore your own braided histories and relationships

Just a Larger Family Mary F. Williamson, Tom Sharp, 2011-05-15 The Second World War had been under way for a year when Marie and John Williamson welcomed two English brothers to join them and their two children in their small house in north Toronto for the duration of the conflict Marie wrote over 150 letters to the boys mother Margaret Sharp imagining that she could make Margaret feel she was still with her children She shepherded the boys through education decisions and illnesses eased them into a strange new life and rejoiced when they embraced unfamiliar winter sports The letters brim with detail about family holidays the financial implications of an extended family their involvement in their church and the games and activities that kept them occupied Marie's letters reflect the lives and concerns of a particular family in Toronto but they also reveal a portrait of what was then Canada's second largest city during wartime The introduction is by Mary F Williamson Marie's daughter and Tom Sharp Margaret's youngest son The book features a foreword by Jonathan Vance that puts the letters in historical context

Travels and Identities Peter E. Paul Dembski, 2017-01-05 Elizabeth Smith Shortt was one of the first three women to obtain a medical degree in Canada and her husband Adam Shortt enjoyed a successful career as a professor of politics and economics at Queen's University in Kingston In 1908 Adam Shortt relocated his family to Ottawa to take up a commission to oversee civil service reform under Prime Minister Wilfrid Laurier There he convinced his superiors that an onsite investigation of four European countries would expedite his effort to improve Canada's bureaucracy and in June 1911 he and Elizabeth embarked on their trip This book chronicles their Atlantic crossing and extended visit to England as well as trips to Switzerland Austria Germany and the Netherlands The Shortts were generally pleased with England and its values but Elizabeth was sharply critical of the behaviour of British nurses Her diaries and letters here reprinted critiqued the lands and peoples she visited in Europe Leading foreign feminists such as Lady Chichester and Mrs Maud of the Mothers Union in England sought her advice as did Alice Salomon in Germany the corresponding secretary of the International Council of Women The diaries and letters presented in this volume reveal the multifaceted nature of Adam and Elizabeth Shortt from public figures to difficult employers to a couple who couldn't help but live beyond their means Peter E Paul Dembski's introduction paints a picture of a couple who lived as moderate liberals with occasional conservative or radical views and who blended science and an adherence to Protestant Christianity into their thinking Their travel experiences during a period of building political upheaval provide a valuable snapshot of pre First World War European society and culture The Unwritten Diary of Israel Unger Carolyn Gammon, Israel Unger, 2014-07-22 At the beginning of the Nazi period 25 000 Jewish people lived in Tarnow Poland By the end of the Second World War nine remained Like Anne Frank Israel Unger and his family hid for two years in an attic crawl space Against all odds they emerged alive Now after decades of silence here is Israel's unwritten diary Nine people lived behind that false wall above the Dagnan factory in Tarnow Their stove was the chimney that went up through the attic their windows were cracks in the wall Survival depended on the food the adults leaving the hideout at night were able to forage Even at the end of the war however Jewish people emerging from hiding were still not safe After the infamous postwar Kielce pogrom Israel's parents sent him and his brother as orphans to France in a program called Rescue Children a Europe wide attempt to find Jewish children orphaned by the Holocaust When the family was finally reunited they lived a precarious existence between France as people sans pays and England until the immigration papers for Canada came through in 1951 In Montreal in the world described so well by Mordecai Richler Israel's father a co owner of a factory in Poland was reduced to sweeping factory floors At the local yeshiva Jewish high school Israel discovered chemistry and a few short years later he left poverty behind He had a stellar academic career married and raised a family in Fredericton New Brunswick The Unwritten Diary of Israel Unger is as much a Holocaust story as it is a story of a young immigrant making every possible use of the opportunities Canada had to offer What the Oceans Remember Sonja Boon, 2019-09-25 Author Sonja Boon's heritage is complicated Although she has lived in Canada for more than thirty years she was born in the UK to a Surinamese mother and a Dutch father Boon's family history spans five continents Europe Africa Southeast Asia South America and North America Despite her complex and multi layered background she has often omitted her full heritage replying I'm Dutch Canadian to anyone who asks about her identity An invitation to join a family tree project inspired a journey to the heart of the histories that have shaped her identity It was an opportunity to answer the two questions that have dogged her over the years Where does she belong And who does she belong to Boon's archival research in Suriname the Netherlands the UK and Canada brings her opportunities to reflect on the possibilities and limitations of the archives themselves the tangliness of oceanic migration histories the meaning of legacy music love freedom memory ruin and imagination Ultimately she reflected on the relevance of our past to understanding our present Deeply informed by archival research and current scholarship but written as a reflective and intimate memoir What the Oceans Remember addresses current issues in migration identity belonging and history through an interrogation of race ethnicity gender archives and memory More importantly it addresses the relevance of our past to understanding our present It shows the multiplicity of identities and origins that can shape the way we understand our histories and our own selves Boom! Julie Rak, 2013-06-15

Since the early 1990s tens of thousands of memoirs by celebrities and unknown people have been published sold and read by millions of American readers The memoir boom as the explosion of memoirs on the market has come to be called has been welcomed vilified and dismissed in the popular press But is there really a boom in memoir production in the United States If so what is causing it Are memoirs all written by narcissistic hacks for an unthinking public or do they indicate a growing need to understand world events through personal experiences This study seeks to answer these questions by examining memoir as an industrial product like other products something that publishers and booksellers help to create These popular texts become part of mass culture where they are connected to public events The genre of memoir and even genre itself ceases to be an empty classification category and becomes part of social action and consumer culture at the same time From James Frey's controversial A Million Little Pieces to memoirs about bartending Iran the liberation of Dachau computer hacking and the impact of 9 11 this book argues that the memoir boom is more than a publishing trend It is becoming the way American readers try to understand major events in terms of individual experiences The memoir boom is one of the ways that citizenship as a category of belonging between private and public spheres is now articulated Unheard Of John Beckwith, 2012-04-20 Canadian composer John Beckwith recounts his early days in Victoria his studies in Toronto with Alberto Guerrero his first compositions and his later studies in Paris with the renowned Nadia Boulanger of whom he offers a comprehensive personal view In the memoir's central chapters Beckwith describes his activities as a writer university teacher scholar and administrator Then turning to his creative output he considers his compositions for instrumental music his four operas choral music and music for voice A final chapter touches on his personal and family life and his travel adventures For over sixty years John Beckwith has participated in national musical initiatives in music education promotion and publishing He has worked closely with performing groups such as the Orford Quartet and the Canadian Brass and conductors such as Elmer Iseler and Georg Tintner A former reviewer for the Toronto Star and a CBC script writer and programmer in the 1950s and 60s he later produced many articles and books on musical topics Acting under Robert Gill and Dora Mavor Moore in student days and married for twenty years to actor-director Pamela Terry he witnessed first hand the growth of Toronto theatre He has collaborated with the writers Jay Macpherson Margaret Atwood Dennis Lee and bpNichol and teamed repeatedly with James Reaney a close friend His life story is a slice of Canadian cultural history Identity and Insurgency in the Late Middle Ages Linda Clark, 2006 The most crucial issues in current research are debated in the latest volume in the series The essays collected here provide fresh insight into a range of important topics across the period They discuss religion both orthodox as revealed by the lives of anchoresses living in Norwich and heretical as practised by lollards living in Coventry politics exploring the motivations of individuals seeking election to parliament and how the way Cade's Rebellion was recorded by contemporaries affected its subsequent perception law whether it may be deduced from manorial court rolls that lawyers were employed by peasants and an examination of the process of peace making in feuds on the Scottish border national ethnic and political identity in the British Isles social ranking and chivalry in particular knighthood in Scotland and verse a consideration of the poem Lydgate addressed to Thomas Chaucer and the occasion of its composition Contributors JACKSON W ARMSTRONG JACQUELYN FERNHOLTZ TONY GOODMAN DAVID GRUMMITT CAROLE HILL MAUREEN JURKOWSKI JENNI NUTTALL SIMON PAYLING ANDREA RUDDICK KATIE STEVENSON MATTHEW TOMPKINS

Burdens of Proof Susanna Egan, 2011-04-20 Autobiographical impostures once they come to light appear to us as outrageous scandalous They confuse lived and textual identity the person in the world and the character in the text and call into question what we believe what we doubt and how we receive information In the process they tell us a lot about cultural norms and anxieties Burdens of Proof Faith Doubt and Identity in Autobiography examines a broad range of impostures in the United States Canada and Europe and asks about each one Why this particular imposture Why here and now Susanna Egan's historical survey of texts from early Christendom to the nineteenth century provides an understanding of the author in relation to the text and shows how plagiarism and other false claims have not always been regarded as the frauds we consider them today She then explores the role of the media in the creation of much contemporary imposture examining in particular the cases of Jumana Hanna Norma Khouri and James Frey The book also addresses ethnic imposture deliberate fictions plagiarism and ghostwriting all of which raise moral legal historical and cultural issues Egan concludes the volume with an examination of how historiography and law failed to support the identities of European Jews during World War II creating sufficient instability in Jewish identity and doubt about Jewish wartime experience that the impostor could step in This textual erasure of the Jews of Europe and the refashioning of their experiences in fraudulent texts are examples of imposture as an outcrop of extreme identity crisis The first to examine these issues in North America and Europe Burdens of Proof will be of interest to scholars of life writing and cultural studies Basements and Attics, Closets and Cyberspace

Linda M Morra, Jessica Schagerl, 2013-01-24 Women's letters and memoirs were until recently considered to have little historical significance Many of these materials have disappeared or remain unarchived often dismissed as ephemera and relegated to basements attics closets and increasingly cyberspace rather than public institutions This collection showcases the range of critical debates that animate thinking about women's archives in Canada The essays in Basements and Attics Closets and Cyberspace consider a series of central questions What are the challenges that affect archival work about women in Canada today What are some of the ethical dilemmas that arise over the course of archival research How do researchers read and make sense of the materials available to them How does one approach the shifting unstable forms of new technologies What principles inform the decisions not only to research the lives of women but to create archival deposits The contributors focus on how a supple research process might allow for greater engagement with unique archival forms and critical absences in narratives of past and present From questions of acquisition deposition and preservation to challenges related to the interpretation of material the contributors track at various stages how funds are created or sidestepped in response to national and other imperatives and to feminist commitments how archival material is organized restricted accessed and interpreted how alternative and immediate archives might be conceived and approached and how exchanges might be read when there are peculiar lacunae missing or fragmented documents or gaps in communication that then require imaginative leaps on the part of the researcher

Borrowed Tongues Eva C. Karpinski, 2012-05-01 Borrowed Tongues is the first consistent attempt to apply the theoretical framework of translation studies in the analysis of self representation in life writing by women in transnational diasporic and immigrant communities It focuses on linguistic and philosophical dimensions of translation showing how the dominant language serves to articulate and reinforce social cultural political and gender hierarchies Drawing on feminist poststructuralist and postcolonial scholarship this study examines Canadian and American examples of traditional autobiography autoethnography and experimental narrative As a prolific and contradictory site of linguistic performance and cultural production such texts challenge dominant assumptions about identity difference and agency Using the writing of authors such as Marlene NourbeSe Philip Jamaica Kincaid Laura Goodman Salverson and Akemi Kikumura and focusing on discourses through which subject positions and identities are produced the study argues that different concepts of language and translation correspond with particular constructions of subjectivity and attitudes to otherness A nuanced analysis of intersectional differences reveals gender race ethnicity nationality culture and diaspora as unstable categories of representation

Accident of Fate Imre Rochlitz, Joseph Rochlitz, 2011-07-07 Accident of Fate is a first hand account of persecution rescue and resistance in the Axis occupied former Yugoslavia At the age of thirteen Imre Rochlitz fled to Yugoslavia from his childhood home in Vienna following the Nazi Anschluss leaving his family behind In January 1942 the Ustashe Croatian Fascists arrested and interned him in the Jasenovac death camp where he dug mass graves On the verge of death Rochlitz was released due to the extraordinary intervention of a Nazi general He escaped to the Adriatic coast where he and several thousand other Jewish refugees were protected by the army of Fascist Italy After Italy's surrender he joined Tito's Partisans becoming an officer and army veterinarian and rescued dozens of downed Allied airmen In 1945 he fled Yugoslavia's Communist regime and reached liberated southern Italy In 1947 at the age of twenty two he emigrated to the United States With unique personal photographs and documents supporting the text this eyewitness narrative covers little known topics and provides a revealing historical account of the period The book helps clarify and render accessible the complexities and contradictions of conflict and genocide in wartime Yugoslavia

Watermelon Syrup Annie Jacobsen, Jane Finlay-Young, Di Brandt, 2009-10-22 Lexi a young Mennonite woman from Saskatchewan comes to work as housekeeper and nanny for a doctor's family in Waterloo Ontario during the Depression Dr Gerald Oliver is a handsome philanderer who lives with his neurotic and alcoholic wife Cammy and their two children Lexi soon adapts to modern conveniences happily wears Cammy's expensive cast off clothes and is transformed from an innocent into a chic urban beauty

When Lexi is called home to Saskatchewan to care for her dying mother she returns a changed person. At home Lexi finds a journal written by her older brother during the family's journey from Russia to Canada. In it she reads of a tragedy kept secret for years, one that reconciles her early memories of her mother as joyful and loving with the burdened woman she became in Canada. Lexi returns to Waterloo where a crisis of her own, coupled with the knowledge of this secret, serves as the catalyst for her realization that unlike her mother she must create her own destiny. Watermelon Syrup is a classic bildungsroman, the tale of a naive young woman at the crossroads of a traditional restrictive world and a modern one with its freedom, risks, and responsibilities.
