Everyday Knowledge, Education and Sustainable Futures Margaret Robertson,Po Keung Eric Tsang,2016-06-01 Everyday knowledge offers opportunities for better understanding of significant issues of our times Reflecting these themes this book places emphasis on community wisdom The underpinning argument is that our instinctive urge for survival may not be enough if we do not share our collective knowledge and learn more about the everyday habits beliefs and actions of communities spread across the region Contributions from researchers active within local communities help build knowledge capacity and support for collaborative research

Antipodean Childhoods Helga Ramsey-Kurz,Ulla Ratheiser,2020-05-15 Though obvious the productiveness of combining the three concepts of childhood otherness and the postcolonial has not inspired much academic inquiry so far The essays assembled in this book make up for this omission and address aspects of growing up in Australia and New Zealand from various angles They base their argument on the premise that whether in settler migrant or indigenous communities children tend to be ascribed a space of their own mostly outside but never independent of that of adults How adults configure this space both practically and imaginatively for instance in the arts in adult and children's literature in film and photography or in historical documents is one of the questions answered in the process. How these configurations have developed with time and under the influence of specific historical circumstances is another. Thus the individual papers are more than a contribution to the current re-discovery of the theme of childhood in European cultures in that Antipodean Childhoods remains centrally concerned with the cultural specificity of childhoods lived in Australia and New Zealand and with the theoretical relevance of this specificity to postcolonial literary, cultural and historical studies.

The Trouble With Fire Fiona Kidman, 2011-11-01 A beautiful collection of stories by a pre-eminent writer shortlisted for major awards. Fiona Kidman has a genius for peeling back the lives of ordinary people to reveal their hidden passions and complexities. In this brilliant new collection she explores with her customary subtlety and insight how we are all touched and sometimes scarred by the flames of emotion whether it be the impossible love of a pregnant woman for a married man, grief for a dead baby or loss of a young woman in mysterious circumstances. Ranging in time from the colonial period to the present day these stories by one of New Zealand's foremost writers are beautifully crafted, intriguing and evocative. Her stories remind me of those of Alice Munro. Though they are very much of a time and place they have a universal dimension. Booksellers News Shortlisted for the NZ Post Awards and the Frank O'Connor Short Story Award.
