California ... William Heath Davis, 1929      American Indian Cowboys in Southern California, 1493-1941 David G. Shanta, 2024-10-15 In 1769 1770 Spanish Catholic missionaries soldiers and Cochim Indians traveled to Alta California They relied on domesticated animals like horses and cattle for food security in the continual expansion of the Spanish empire These rapidly increasing herds consumed traditional sources of Indigenous foods medicines tools and weapons and soon outstripped the ability of soldiers and priests to control them This reality forced the Spanish missionaries to train trusted American Indian converts in the art of cowboying and cattle ranching American Indian Cowboys in Southern California 1493 1941 Survival Sovereignty and Identity by David G Shanta provides new insights into the impact of horses and cattle on the Indigenous peoples of the Spanish Borderlands after early colonization He examines how the American Indian cowboys formed the backbone of Spanish mission economies the international trade in cowhides and tallow that created the Mexican ranchero class known as Californios and later on American cattle operations Shanta shows that California Native peoples adopted cowboying and cattle ranching first as a survival strategy but then also acquiring and running their own herds and forming a new California American Indian economy based on cattle Their new economy reinforced their demands for sovereignty over their ancestral lands with exclusive rights to essential elements including the essential elements of pasture and water This book affirms the innovative nature of American Indian Cowboys and brings to light how they survived kept their cultures alive and gained recognition of their sovereign status      Seventy-five Years of Railroad History, 1997      Juana Briones of Nineteenth-century California Jeanne Farr McDonnell, 2008-09-15 Juana Briones de Miranda lived an unusual life which is wonderfully recounted in this highly accessible biography She was one of the first residents of what is now San Francisco then named Yerba Buena Good Herb reportedly after a medicinal tea she concocted She was among the few women in California of her time to own property in her own name and she proved to be a skilled farmer rancher and businesswoman In retelling her life story Jeanne Farr McDonnell also retells the history of nineteenth century California from the unique perspective of this surprising woman Juana Briones was born in 1802 and spent her early youth in Santa Cruz a community of retired soldiers who had helped found Spanish California Native Americans and settlers from Mexico In 1820 she married a cavalryman at the San Francisco Presidio Apolinario Miranda She raised her seven surviving sons and daughters and adopted an orphaned Native American girl Drawing on knowledge she gained about herbal medicine and other cures from her family and Native Americans she became a highly respected curandera or healer Juana set up a second home and dairy at the base of then Loma Alta now Telegraph Hill the first house in that area After gaining a church sanctioned separation from her abusive husband she expanded her farming and cattle business in 1844 by purchasing a 4 400 acre ranch where she built her house located in the present city of Palo Alto She successfully managed her extensive business interests until her death in 1889 Juana Briones witnessed extraordinary changes during her lifetime In this fascinating book readers will see California s history in a new and revelatory light      Colonial Intimacies Erika
