Gothic fantasy abandoned for decades It s an ambitious project and all previous renovators have come to grief Out of the woodwork come real estate agents a jealous sister the heritage council prospective tourism operators and journalists proffering opinions and making his life a misery As the restoration goes on Raymond becomes increasingly isolated unable to trust anyone alienating his friends and giving courage to his enemies He believes that unseen forces are trying to remove him from his grand project At turns pitied admired humoured and loved Raymond undoubtedly has the knowledge vision and fortune to make Glastonbridge thrive again but will he be able to see it through Glass Houses is a gentle satire with a rapier edge perfectly capturing the socially mobile mid nineties milieu of city folk with country houses The final novel from acclaimed author and activist Anne Coombs is about finding your place of refuge and reaching for what you want

The Bulletin ,1996 Sydney's Century Peter Spearritt,2000 In this lively portrait of Sydney s development

Peter Spearritt traces a century in the life of the city from the celebrations of the Federation of Australia in 1901 to the 2000 Olympic Games. He describes the extraordinary growth of the city and its sprawling suburbs and the transition from a port and a manufacturing center to an international financial hub.

The Liberal Mind in a Conservative Party Geoffrey Robinson, 2025-06-17 Robinson analyses the peculiarly Australian intellectual tradition of liberal conservatism within the mainstream centre right Liberal Party of Australia. Conservative intellectuals in Australia have forged a pragmatic sceptical and utilitarian liberal conservatism focused on the tasks of government. It remains distant both from the romantic and organicist ideas of the populist right and the simplicities of libertarianism. Focusing on key figures within this tradition, Robinson tracks the progress of Australian liberal conservatism over the years through its origins in the work of David Hume to the thoughts of Peter Coleman, David Kemp and Andrew Norton, before moving forward to George Brandis and Gregory Melleuish. The Liberal Party of Australia has appealed successfully to the conservative sentiments of voters in a liberal society. The Liberal Mind in a Conservative Party tells the story of seven intellectuals who helped make this possible. Peter Coleman drew on John Anderson, Georges Sorel and Michael Oakeshott to champion neoconservatism. He argues that this potent political ideology has shaped a distinct political identity which rejects conservative traditionalism and libertarian economics while defending a pragmatic approach to capitalism. A fascinating read for students and scholars of Australian politics, this book will also be of great value to readers with an interest in international centre right politics.
