Sharing And Helping:

Sharing ,1981 Intergroup Helping Esther van Leeuwen,Hanna Zagefka,2017-05-17 The aim of this volume is to provide an overview of research from different psychological domains with regards to intergroup helping arguing for intergroup helping as a research area in and of itself Historically research on intergroup relations has largely overlooked helping between groups which combined with the fact that most of the research on altruism and helping has focused on individuals meant that intergroup helping was primarily looked at as deriving from negative intergroup interactions such as ingroup bias or discrimination However over the last decade a small but growing group of researchers started to investigate intergroup helping as a positive social act occurring between and amongst groups With contributions from these expert researchers this volume makes the case that intergroup helping should be studied as a phenomenon in and of itself not as a mere expression of negative intergroup behaviour To advance this argument the first section covers traditional research approaches in which the willingness to help other groups is construed as a form of discrimination Then the second section looks at the reasons why people may be motivated to help other groups Finally the last section explores intergroup helping in real world settings looking at natural disaster responses and the role of morality among other topics demonstrating that intergroup relations can be truly positive Thus Intergroup Helping The Positive Side of Intergroup Behavior informs researchers in positive and group relations psychology about the current state of affairs of research on intergroup cooperation and helping and sets out an agenda for further exploration Tapping into a current trend towards positive psychology it moves away from the traditional view within intergroup relations research of the group as a source of trouble and instead focuses on truly positive intergroup relations with the ultimate goal of promoting real positive behaviour that breaches the intergroup divide Sharing Experience, Strength & Hope (SESH) Nar-Anon Family Groups,2009-06-09 Nar Anon members share their experience strength and hope in writing This daily reader carries the message of Nar Anon recovery to those who suffer the effects of another s addiction The Nar Anon Family Groups are a worldwide fellowship for those affected by someone else s addiction As a Twelve Step Program we offer our help by sharing our experience strength and hope Sugar and Spice, and Everything Nice: Exploring Prosocial Development Through Infancy and Early Childhood Chris Moore, Markus Paulus,Amanda Williams,2015-05-18 Prosocial behaviors such as sharing helping and comforting begin to emerge early in development The presence of these prosocial behaviors is important not only in childhood but throughout one s lifetime as behaving prosocially is important for social functioning and maintaining social relationships For many years researchers have been interested in how and when these behaviors develop as well as how these behaviors are influenced by a variety of factors Recently however exciting new research has shown novel and surprising findings particularly on the early development and ontogenetic origins of prosocial behavior Research in this area is important as by understanding what influences prosocial behavior we may be better able to sustain and support the development of prosociality Further a richer understanding may help us to be better able to mediate factors that impede or negatively influence positive social behaviors as well as negate triggers that may lead to negative social behaviors Many theoretical views guide different streams of developmental research in this field Here we will bring together scholars from various theoretical backgrounds to collectively explore the development of early prosocial behaviors from early infancy to early school aged children Contributors will offer insights using a variety of methodologies from various resource allocation paradigms derived from economist game theorists to looking time paradigms and more Together we seek to broadly explore questions pertaining to prosocial development for example at what age do prosocial behaviors moral understanding or social selectivity emerge Contributors will individually address unique research questions across a spectrum of topics For example how prosocial behaviors are influenced by underlying mechanisms such as moral emotions e g guilt and sympathy will be explored as will how children s expectations may shape their behaviors and how they come to care about others Questions surrounding different contexts will also be investigated For example how does empathy influence prosociality Do children treat partners differently depending on their past behaviors wealth or other characteristics Does whether there is a cost associated with behaving prosocially influence decision making By incorporating the work of numerous researchers in the field of prosocial development who contribute comprehensive reviews of past research unique theoretical perspectives and empirical approaches the proposed research topic endeavors to provide new insights into a breadth of prosocial behaviors In sum the proposed research topic will contribute to our understanding of prosocial development in the early years by highlighting the relevant factors and contexts under which prosocial behavior emerges

White Gold Susan Falls, 2017-09 Women have shared breast milk for eons but in White Gold Susan Falls shows how the meanings of capitalism technology motherhood and risk can be understood against the backdrop of an emerging practice in which donors and recipients of breast milk are connected through social media in the southern United States Drawing on her own experience as a participant Falls describes the sharing community She also presents narratives from donors doulas medical professionals and recipients to provide a holistic ethnographic account Situating her subject within cross cultural comparisons of historically shifting attitudes about breast milk Falls shows how sharing white gold seen as a scarce valuable even mysterious substance is a mode of enacting parenthood gender and political values Though breast milk is increasingly being commodified Falls argues that sharing is a powerful and empowering practice Far from uniform participants may be like minded about parenting but not other issues so their acquaintanceships add new textures to the body politic In this interdisciplinary account White Gold shows how sharing simultaneously reproduces the capitalist values that it disrupts while encouraging community making between strangers

Manvell,2012-01-31 We expect schools to be a safe haven but after more than a decade of targeted school violence prevention laws and safety plans students are still marginalized and bullied to the point of despondence retaliation and even suicide This thoughtful exploration of what makes a school a safe place is based on the understanding that violence is a continuum of acts and attitudes subtle to overt that have a negative effect on how students feel and learn A school s climate how it feels to be a member of the learning community depends on how each student is treated We are challenged to recognize the often overlooked yet pervasive forms of emotional and physical violence that students face every day After conducting an honest assessment of our own school s climate we learn how to nurture supportive relationships between students and adults and embed pro social skills and respect for diversity in everything we do When done we are equipped with the understandings tools and commitment necessary to create a safe positive school climate that is systemic and lasting
