Losing Friends:

Making, Keeping, and Losing Friends Janice M. McCabe, 2025-10-21 Draws attention to the importance of support networks for students as they make keep and lose friends throughout college and beyond We re all familiar with the sentiment that college is the best time of your life Along with a newfound sense of freedom students have a unique opportunity to forge lifelong friendships at a point in life when friendship is particularly important Why is it then that so many college students are falling victim to what the US Surgeon General termed an epidemic of loneliness and isolation How do different aspects of college life help or hinder students ability to form deep connections In Making Keeping and Losing Friends How Campuses Shape College Students Networks sociologist Janice M McCabe shows that the way a college is structured whether students live in dorms or commute study abroad or stay close to campus have plentiful common areas for clubs to meet or not can either encourage or hinder the making of meaningful friendships Based on interviews with 95 students on three distinct campuses a small private college Dartmouth College a large public university University of New Hampshire and a non residential community college Manchester Community College McCabe captures a wide range of experiences and discovers how features of the campuses make it easier or harder for students to make and keep friends She shows how and why across all three institutions some students thrive in deep and lasting friendships with their peers As McCabe s research reveals we need to look at the structures of students networks the institutions they attend and the importance of their identities in these places if we are to truly uncover and address the loneliness epidemic facing today s young adults

The Downfall of America Jake Klausner, 2022-07-20 Far too often people are introduced to a caricature of the conservative movement before they ve actually heard what the average conservative has to say In The Downfall of America Jake Klausner presents a conservative perspective on the forces currently working to tear down long standing American traditions and institutions The book outlines the ways in which the Left has waged war against traditional American values and even reality itself In an age of emotional appeals it makes the conservative argument using logic and statistics The challenge conveyed to the reader is simple but critical Don t let freedom be extinguished in your lifetime make sure that it s still there for your kids and theirs

May to May - My Journey to Self-love with God Reabetswe Moabi, 2024-08-16 One of society's main problems today is a lack of self love this is evident in the way most people live their lives sadly I was also part of the statistic The fact that I was not living life to the full bothered me in many ways I was not running my own race I constantly compared myself to others I had not accepted myself for who I was and I had not taken full responsibility for my life I was merely alive and confused Although everything on the outside looked good I felt miserable I learned the hard way that what goes on inside us is more important than what people can see A lack of self love impacted most areas of my life negatively I knew something needed to change Once I had surrendered my life to God He helped me see my own value I started May to May My Journey to Self love with God to move my life in the right direction After discovering the 20 components that lead to self love my life has never been the same I could finally accept myself just as I was I am proud to say there is no other race I would rather run than my own I needed to love myself first so I could truly live

Losing Friends Digby C. Anderson, 2001

Gray Divorce Jocelyn Crowley, 2018-01-23 After twenty thirty or even forty years of marriage countless vacations together raising well adjusted children and sharing property and finances what could go wrong Gray Divorce offers a provocative look at the growing rate of marital splits after the age of 50 showcasing the voices of men and women who are considering going through or have undergone one With empathy and insight Jocelyn Crowley who has written widely on family issues uncovers the reasons for why men and women divorce and the penalties and benefits that each pay for their choice From the outside many may ask why couples in mid life and readying for retirement choose to make a drastic change in their marital status Yet nearly 1 out of every 4 divorces is gray Crowley sheds light on why divorce occurs seeing marriage in a different lens understanding the seismic shift in individual priorities and the impact of the increase in life expectancy With a deft eye she analyzes the experiences of women and men as they go through this life transition specifically how women are affected economically while men are affected socially With a realistic yet passionate voice Crowley shares the personal positive outlooks and the necessary supportive public policies that must take place to best help new divorcees Engaging and instructive Gray Divorce is a must read for anyone interested in contemporary American culture

Children's Peer Relations and Social Competence Gary W. Ladd, 2005-01-01 This book examines the role of peer relationships in child and adolescent development by tracking research findings from the early 1900s to the present Dividing the research into three generations the book describes what has been learned about children's peer relations and how children's participation in peer relationships contributes to their health adjustment and achievement Gary W Ladd reviews and interprets the investigative focus and findings of distinct research eras to highlight theoretical or empirical breakthroughs in the study of children's peer relations and social competence over the last century He also discusses how this information is relevant to understanding and promoting children's health and development In a final chapter the author appraises the major discoveries that have emerged during the three research generations and analyzes recent scientific agendas and discoveries in the peer relations discipline
