Lost Daughter Of Happiness:

The Lost Daughter of Happiness Geling Yan, 2001-04-18 In the late 1860s a young woman named Fusang is kidnapped from China and sold into prostitution in San Francisco's Chinatown. Chris, her first customer, is twelve years old. For weeks he has spied on her; now he meets the object of his obsession and can only gaze at her, stunned by her beauty. The Lost Daughter of Happiness is an epic and moving love story of individuals intoxicated with one another and yet repeatedly separated by prejudice and mistrust. The relationships are full of passion and rage, and the novel chronicles the lives of the main characters over decades against a backdrop of social turmoil: the anti-Chinese hysteria that plagued San Francisco. Fusang is an extraordinary character, both powerful and resigned. Chris finds himself torn between the security of his staid white world and the sensual allure of hers. And then there is the gangster Da Yong, who is rumored to carry daggers dipped in ancient poison, who wears a ring on every finger and who sells his naked photograph, which is used as a talisman, evil to ward off evil. He enters Fusang's life with brutal force, but when his world and Chris's eventuate...

The Lost Daughter of Happiness Geling Yan, 2010 Geling Yan traces the lives of two individuals separated by prejudice and mistrust but bound forever by their passion for one another. Fusang is a Chinese girl shanghai'd from her village in China, brought to California and sold into the seedy underworld of prostitution. Soon she falls into an obsessive relationship with a young boy, Chris. But many barriers are laid between the lovers by Chris's wealthy family and, most menacingly, by Fusang's murderous pimp who bestrides Chinatown with a clutch of daggers at his waist.

Immigrant Fictions Rebecca Walkowitz, 2010-03-01 Immigrant Fictions is a groundbreaking collection that brings together studies of world literature, book history, narrative theory, and the contemporary novel to challenge methods of critical reading based on national models of literary culture. Contributors suggest that contemporary novels by immigrant writers need to be read across several geographies of production, circulation, and translation. Analyzing work by David Peace, George Lamming, Caryl Phillips, Iva Pekarkova, Yan Geling, Theresa Hak Kyung Cha, Anchee Min, and Monica Ali, these essays take up a range of critical topics, including the transnational book and the migrant writer, the comparative reception history of postcolonial fiction, transnational criticism, and Asian American literature in the U.S., mobility and feminism in translation, linguistic mediation, and immigrating fictions, migration, and the politics of narrative form.

The Ingredients of Happiness Lucy Burdette, 2023-07-04 Is there a recipe for the perfect life? Thirty-two-year-old happiness guru Dr. Cooper Hunziker has it all: a dream job as assistant psychology professor at Yale University, a soon-to-be-published self-help book, The Happiness Connection, and the perfect guy. But there's a problem: Cooper isn't happy. Of course, it doesn't help that she's facing cut-throat competition for her tenure at Yale, an accusation of plagiarism that could cost her everything, or that her new book has irritated the department chairman, who assigns her to co-lead a happiness group at the New Haven library. As her friendship with the other ladies in the group flourishes, Cooper finds herself questioning her choices. Forced to face a life-changing betrayal, a gargoyle's wisdom, and her own traumatic past, can she

World Literature Approaches: Practices and Pedagogy combines theoretical explorations and pedagogy to explore approaches to teaching some of the key concepts, issues and topics in world literary studies. Recognising the evolving and at times contested meanings of world literature, this book treats world literature as a mode of reading and one that provides opportunities to create a space for critical discussions and reflections on understanding, unpacking and at times challenging some of the assumptions and practices in world literary studies. Contributors discuss a wide array of topics including the role of translation and literary marketplace in global circulation of texts, the function and problematics of paratexts, questions of co-authorship in transnational contexts, debates on major/minor in world literature, cosmopolitanism and the impact of English as a lingua franca on the development of the field. Accompanied by reading questions, individual and group exercises as well as suggested further readings, this collection offers a practical resource for instructors and an accessible guide to advanced undergraduate and postgraduate students taking world literature courses in different parts of the world. A Hundred Years of Happiness Nicole Seitz, 2009-03-02
