Maintaining A Sense Of Place:

The Power of Place in Place Attachment Alexander C. Diener, Joshua Hagen, 2023-02-28 This book provides geographical perspectives on the complex and multifaceted relationship between people and their lived environments. Scholars with varied regional theoretical and topical specialties offer chapters that explore different aspects of a phenomenon so pervasive that no conception of social or political action can afford to ignore it. In the process of spatial organization and differentiation, people develop emotional attachments to specific places as well as people, objects, and practices associated with those places. Place attachments thereby shape everyday routines, e.g., routes to work, shopping, social interactions, major life choices, e.g., places of residence, education, and vacations, and identities, e.g., civic, national, and religious. These attachments occur across multiple scales, from personal dwellings to community, region, and homeland. It is our hope that this book reveals synergies between geography and other disciplines engaging with place attachment whilst invigorating research on the topic. The Power of Place in Place Attachment will be of great value to researchers and scholars of geography, identity, mobility, and urban landscape change. The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Geographical Review.

The Essential Guide to User Interface Design Wilbert O. Galitz, 2007-04-10 Bringing together the results of more than 300 new design studies, an understanding of people's knowledge of hardware and software capabilities, and the author's practical experience gained from 45 years of work with display-based systems, this book addresses interface and screen design from the user's perspective. You will learn how to create an effective design methodology, design and organize screens and Web pages that encourage efficient comprehension and execution, and create screen icons and graphics that make displays easier and more comfortable to use.

Green Building Illustrated Francis D. K. Ching, Ian M. Shapiro, 2020-11-04 FULLY ILLUSTRATED UPDATED GUIDE TO THE STRATEGIC DESIGN OF GREEN BUILDINGS In the tradition of Building Construction Illustrated, Francis D. K. Ching and Ian M. This guide provides architects, designers, and builders in the green design professional community a framework and detailed strategies for designing substantively green buildings. With a focus on sustainable sites, approaching and reaching net zero energy, low and zero water usage, minimum impact materials, and superior indoor environmental quality, this guide explains why we need to build green as well as green building theory and advancements in the industry. This Second Edition includes all new case studies featuring geographically diverse buildings with proven zero energy performance. Expanded coverage of zero energy building design as well as zero water and zero waste buildings. Practical guidance for the schematic design of high performance buildings, heating and hot water system selection, building envelope details, and integrating renewable energy. Advanced strategies such as the concept of shape efficiency and the optimal location for stairwells in buildings. Additional strategies for affordability in green design and construction. Updated references to the latest codes and standards. This Second Edition of Green Building Illustrated is an excellent resource for professionals students and those interested in the design and construction of sustainable buildings

Surviving the Prison Place Diana Medlicott, 2024-07-01 Suicide in prison is a growing problem across the developed world Originally published in 2001 this book sets out to enlarge understanding of the complexities of suicidal feelings and of the part played by some inalienable features of prison life It does this by presenting and analysing prisoners accounts of their most intimate responses to the deprivations of prison in particular the stringent control and management of their personal time and space These accounts show in more graphic form than previous literature the depth of suffering as well as the range of creative responses produced in prisoners through interaction with the prison environment Prisoners themselves have enormous need for more humane and interactive management of the problem and their accounts show clearly how prisoner expertise could be utilised in profoundly significant ways This book will be of interest to all who research live or work in prison as well as to students and practitioners in criminology penology criminal justice sociology psychology psychiatry and health

Place Making in International Practice of Landscape Architecture Yun Zhang, 2021-06-25 This book explores international practice in landscape architecture focusing on the provision of services from Australia to China during China s contemporary urbanization and Australian landscape architects approaches to place Landscape architectural practice requires planners and designers to have a deep understanding of local culture site characteristics craftsmanship and even project procedures that are often intangible How to acquire the above local knowledge has become a major challenge for international teams Through the survey of the practice of Australian landscape practices in China and the case study of Li Lake planning and design project this book reveals the process and difficulties of landscape planning and design as a transnational practice as well as its special value as a way of cross cultural fertilization This book is intended for students practitioners and researchers in the fields of landscape architecture architecture and urban planning

Sense of Place, Health and Quality of Life Allison Williams, 2016-12-05 A significant body of theoretical and empirical studies describes sense of place as an outcome of interconnected psychological social and environmental processes in relation to physical place s Sense of place has been examined particularly in human geography in terms of both the character intrinsic to a place as a localized bounded and material entity and the sentiments of attachment detachment that humans experience and express in relation to specific places Scholars in a wide range of disciplines are increasingly exploring the relationship between place and health and recently the field of public health has been encouraged to recognize sense of place as a potential contributing factor to well being It is evident that over the last few decades sense of place has developed into a versatile construct This important book brings together work related to sense of place and health broadly defined from the perspective of a variety of fields and disciplines It will give the reader an understanding of both the range of applications of this construct within approaches to human health as well as the breadth of research methodologies employed in its investigation

The Art and Science of Relationship Richard G Erskine, Janet Moursund, 2022-11-10 This is an easy to read explication of relationally focused integrative psychotherapy counselling that will be enjoyed by novice and experienced mental health professionals worldwide Richard Erskine and Janet Moursund illuminate the central role of the therapeutic relationship and of relationships in general both in the healing process and in maintaining a psychologically healthy life They posit that the therapeutic relationship is key to helping clients become integrated or whole and present both theory and practice to demonstrate this view The book is divided into three parts Theoretical Foundations Therapeutic Practice and a full verbatim transcript of a therapy session The book's unique feature is the linkage of the transcript section with the earlier theoretical and practice oriented sections to clearly show how theory can be applied in the consulting room For virtually every exchange between therapist and patient the reader is directed back to a discussion of the specific aspect of theory and method that underly the actual words being spoken The result is theory brought to life theory brought out of the classroom or the professional workshop and into the real world of ongoing psychotherapy This book is highly recommended for students and practitioners of psychotherapy counselling and clinical psychology and will be of interest to all those who work in a mental health setting

How do our everyday environments inform our activities routines and encounters In what way has globalization affected the sites in which we work relax and interact Is there still a place for local identity in a globalized age This book examines the ways in which we use local spaces and global processes to shape our identities Showing how enhanced tourism communication developments and increased diversity have effected the way we live every day the text also explains how individuals communities and cities react to such globalizing forces on a local level Each chapter unravels complex connections between place identity and global processes and carefully outlines what core theory can tell us about key contemporary debates including surveillance environmental change and sustainability Taking examples from urban and rural life shopping malls and virtual worlds the book encourages us to look at our immediate surroundings in a sociological light Highlighting the interdependence of space and society in a rapidly changing world this text is essential reading for those studying place and identity in Sociology Cultural Studies Geography Urban Studies and Rural Studies

Philosophy and Geography III Andrew Light,Jonathan M. Smith,1998 Places are today subject to contrary tendencies They lose some functions which may scale up to fewer more centralized places or down to numerous more dispersed places and they gain other functions which are scaling up and down from other places This prompts premature prophecies of the abolition of space and the obsolescence of place At the same time a growing literature testifies to the persistence of place as an incorrigible aspect of human experience identity and morality Place is a common ground for thought and action a community of experienced particulars that avoids solipsism and universalism It draws us into the philosophy of the ordinary into familiarity as a form of knowledge into the wisdom of proximity Each of these essays offers a philosophy of place and reminds us that such philosophies ultimately decide how we make use and understand places whether as accidents instruments or fields of care Place-Keeping Nicola Dempsey, Harry Smith, Mel Burton, 2014-03-21 Place Keeping presents the latest research and practice on place keeping that is the long term management of public and private open spaces from around Europe and the rest of the world There has long been a focus in urban landscape planning and urban design on the creation of high quality public spaces or place making This is supported by a growing body of research which shows how high quality public spaces are economically and socially beneficial for local communities and contribute positively to residents quality of life and wellbeing However while large amounts of capital are spent on the creation of open spaces little thought is given to and insufficient resources made available for the long term maintenance and management of public spaces or place keeping Without place keeping public spaces can fall into a downward spiral of disrepair where anti social behaviour can emerge and residents may feel unsafe and choose to use other spaces The economic and social costs of restoring such spaces can therefore be considerable where place keeping does not occur Place Keeping also provides an accessible presentation of the outputs of a major European Union funded project MP4 Making Places Profitable Public and Private Open Spaces which further extends the knowledge and debate on long term management of public and private spaces It will be an invaluable resource for students academics and practitioners seeking critical but practical guidance on the long term management of public and private spaces in a range of contexts Exploring Community Festivals and Events Allan Jepson, Alan Clarke, 2014-10-17 The development of the festival and event industry has seen large scale growth and extensive government support as a result of objectives to enhance and project the image of place and leverage positive sponsorship and regeneration opportunities As we move deeper into austerity measures prompted by economic recession community festivals and events as a sacred or profane time of celebration can be considered even more important than ever before This book for the first time explores the role and importance of community culture and its impact through festivals and events Split into two distinct sections the first introduces key themes and concepts contextualises local traditions and culture and investigates how festivals and events can act as a catalyst for tourism and create a sense of community It then questions the social and political nature of festivals and community events through examining their ownership The second section focuses on communities themselves seeking to examine and discuss key emerging themes in community event studies such as the role of diaspora imagined communities pride and identity history producing and consuming space and place authenticity and multi ethnic communities Examples are drawn from Portugal the Dominican Republic the USA Malaysia Malta Finland and Australia making this book truly international This significant volume will be valuable reading for students and academics across the fields of Event Tourism and Hospitality studies as well as other social science disciplines Proceedings of the 1995 Northeastern Recreation Research Symposium ,1995 Long-term Dynamics of Lakes in the Landscape John J. Magnuson, Timothy K. Kratz, Barbara J. The Authorship of Place Dennis Lo, 2020-09-14 The Authorship of Place is the first monograph dedicated to the study of the politics history aesthetics and practices of location shooting for Taiwanese Mainland Chinese and coproduced art cinemas shot in rural communities since the late 1970s Dennis Lo argues that rural location shooting beyond serving aesthetic and technical needs constitutes practices of cultural survival in a region beset with disruptive and disorienting social changes including rapid urbanization geopolitical shifts and ecological crises In response to these social changes auteurs like Hou Xiaoxian Jia Zhangke Chen Kaige and Li Xing engaged in location shooting to transform sites of film production into symbolically meaningful places of collective memories and aspirations These production practices ultimately enabled auteurs to experiment with imagining Taiwanese Mainland Chinese and cross strait communities in novel and contentious ways Deftly guiding readers on a cross strait tour of prominent shooting locations for the New Chinese Cinemas this book shows how auteurs sought out their disappearing cultural heritage by reenacting lived experiences of nation building homecoming and cultural salvage while shooting on location This was an especially daunting task when auteurs encountered the shooting locations as spaces of unresolved historical social and geopolitical contestations tensions which were only intensified by the impact of filmmaking on rural communities This book demonstrates how these complex circumstances surrounding location shooting were pivotal in shaping both representations of the rural on screen as well as the production communities institutions and industries off screen Informed by cutting edge perspectives in cultural geography and media anthropology The Authorship of Place both revises Chinese language film history and theorizes groundbreaking approaches for investigating the cultural politics of film authorship and production This extraordinary book discusses the uses of location shooting in films by contemporary Taiwanese and Mainland Chinese directors ranging from Li Xing to Jia Zhangke It highlights the ways in which place memory and identity stances respond to social changes and geopolitical disparities In a world full of uncertainty the argument about the imaginary homeland as an experienced cinematic reality only renders it more urgent and universally relatable Ping hui Liao University of California San Diego The Authorship of Place is certainly a welcome intervention into the study of Chinese cinemas and their auteurs that further contributes to the wider study of location shooting as well as cultural geographies and place based imaginaries of film It is rare to find a book dealing with space place in and around cinema that is this inventive and nuanced in its methodologies Stephanie DeBoer Indiana University

Habitus: A Sense of Place Emma Rooksby, 2017-09-19 Habitus is a concept developed by the late French sociologist Pierre Bourdieu as a sense of one's place a sense of the other's place It relates to our perceptions of the positions or place of ourselves and other people in the world in which we live and how these perceptions affect our actions and interactions with places and people Habitus implies that a web of complex processes links the physical the social and the mental Inspired by this concept this compelling book brings together leading scholars from interdisciplinary fields to examine ways in which spaces and places are constructed interpreted and used by different people This second edition contains updated chapter material together with an entirely new introduction and revised conclusions which recognise the importance of Bourdieu's work This publication is a tribute to Pierre Bourdieu's remarkable contribution to the fields of sociology anthropology geography political philosophy and urban planning
