Standards of Value Michael Germana, 2009-10 In Standards of Value Michael Germana reveals how tectonic shifts in U S monetary policy from the Coinage Act of 1834 to the abolition of the domestic gold standard in 1933-34 correspond to strategic changes by American writers who renegotiated the value of racial difference Populating the pages of this bold and innovative study are authors as varied as Harriet Beecher Stowe George Washington Cable Charles Chesnutt James Weldon Johnson Nella Larsen Jessie Redmon Fauset and Ralph Ellison all of whom drew analogies between the form Americans thought the nation's money should take and the form they thought race relations and the nation should take A cultural history of race organized around and enmeshed within the theories of literary and monetary value Standards of Value also recovers a rhetorical tradition in American culture whose echoes can be found in the visual and lyrical grammars of hip hop the paintings of John W Jones and Michael Ray Charles the cinematography of Spike Lee and many other contemporary forms and texts This reconsideration of American literature and cultural history has implications for how we value literary texts and how we read shifting standards of value In vivid prose Germana explains why dollars and cents appear where black and white bodies meet in American novels how U S monetary policy gave these symbols their cultural currency and why it matters for scholars of literary and cultural studies

The Eye's Mind Karen Jacobs, 2018-09-05 The Eye's Mind significantly alters our understanding of modernist literature by showing how changing visual discourses techniques and technologies affected the novels of that period In readings that bring philosophies of vision into dialogue with photography and film as well as the methods of observation used by the social sciences Karen Jacobs identifies distinctly modernist kinds of observers and visual relationships This important reconception of modernism draws upon American British and French literary and extra literary materials from the period 1900 1955 These texts share a sense of crisis about vision's capacity for violence and its inability to deliver reliable knowledge Jacobs looks closely at the ways in which historical understandings of race and gender inflected visual relations in the modernist novel She shows how modernist writers increasingly aware of the body behind the neutral lens of the observer used diverse strategies to displace embodiment onto those others historically perceived as cultural bodies in order to reimagine for themselves or their characters a purified gaze The Eye's Mind addresses works by such high modernists as Vladimir Nabokov Virginia Woolf and more distantly Ralph Ellison and Maurice Blanchot as well as those by Henry James Zora Neale Hurston and Nathanael West which have been tentatively placed in the modernist canon although they forgo the full blown experimental techniques often seen as synonymous with literary modernism Jacobs reframes fundamental debates about modernist aesthetic practices by demonstrating how much those practices are indebted to the changing visual cultures of the twentieth century

The Genesis and Structure of the Hungarian Jazz Diaspora Ádám Havas, 2022-05-18 In Hungary jazz was at the forefront of heated debates sparked by the racialised tensions between national music traditions and newly emerging forms of popular culture that challenged the prevailing status quo within the cultural hierarchies of different historical eras Drawing on an extensive four year field research project including ethnographic observations and 29 in depth interviews this book is the first to explore the hidden diasporic narrative s of Hungarian jazz through the system of historically formed distinctions linked to the social practices of assimilated Jews and Romani musicians The chapters illustrate how different concepts of authenticity and conflicting definitions of jazz as the sound of Western modernity have resulted in a unique hierarchical setting The book s account of the fundamental opposition between US centric mainstream jazz bebop and Bart k inspired free jazz camps not only reveals the extent to which traditionalism and modernism were linked to class and race based cultural distinctions but offers critical insights about the social logic of Hungary s geocultural positioning in the twilight zone between East and West to use the words of Maria Todorova Following a historical overview that incorporates comparisons with other Central European jazz cultures the book offers a rigorous analysis of how the transition from playing caf house music to bebop became a significant element in the status claims of Hungary s significant others i e Romani musicians By combining the innovative application of Pierre Bourdieu s cultural sociology with popular music studies and postcolonial scholarship this work offers a forceful demonstration of the manifold connections of this particular jazz scene to global networks of cultural production which also continue to shape it
