Johnson,2006-12-05 In his 1896 short story The Figure in the Carpet James sets forth a riddle for his critical readers as he approaches the major phase in his career He imagines a fictional novelist Hugh Vereker who tantalizes his critics with the idea of a single thread a design woven throughout all of his major works hidden in plain sight The design Vereker says is as obvious as a foot stuck in a shoe but the distinguished novelist is convinced no one will ever see it One critic Corvick however during a trip to India has an astonishing flash of revelation he sees the figure and the discovery is immense When Corvick returns and shares his epiphany with Vereker the novelist assures him that his discovery is precisely accurate there is not a single wrong note But Corvick dies in a road accident before he can write his definitive book on Verekers secret design My study will show the reader that there is a distinct figure in the carpet in the works of Henry James himself But James only uses the figure in a select group of his major novels and tales all six of which we will examine here These major works are all experimental and radical and show James allowing himself the artistic freedom to follow his own arcane and personal path The pattern is fully manifested in The Turn of the Screw in 1897 and remains the consistent thread all the way through the Masters final completed novel The Golden Bowl in 1904 I began writing about the relation of writing to painting and how James translates structural aspects of the silent art of painting into prose James borrows both silence and simultaneity from the painter his brother of the brush and experiments with their narrative equivalents I saw with increasing clarity that James admiration of the powers of painting led him into depicting nonverbal aspects of consciousness in language Finally I saw the whole system lock into place everything fit The figure in the carpet was revealed as visible silence With only a minute adjustment of focus I suddenly saw that James narrative pictorial structure that I had been tracing all these years constitutes the figure in the carpet itself The pictorial pattern literally governs every line and chooses every word James brings the reader into the full consciousness of his character by taking us into the silent radiation of the visible As readers we experience the silence before language the silence between words and the silence after language In this book I will show my reader how the figure in the carpet operates as the controlling design in every square inch of text in each of James most famous novels and tales Montgomery Ward Montgomery Ward,1925 Bridging the Gap Between Policy and Science in Assessing the Health Status of Marine Ecosystems, 2nd Edition Angel Borja,Michael Elliott,María C.

Uyarra, Jacob Carstensen, Marianna Mea, 2017-03-22 Marine management requires approaches which bring together the best research from the natural and social sciences It requires stakeholders to be well informed by science and to work across administrative and geographical boundaries a feature especially important in the inter connected marine environment Marine management must ensure that the natural structure and functioning of ecosystems is maintained to provide ecosystem services Once those marine ecosystem services have been created they deliver societal goods as long as society inputs its skills time money and energy to gather those benefits However if societal goods and benefits are to be limitless society requires appropriate administrative legal and management mechanisms to ensure that the use of such benefits do not impact on environmental quality but instead support its sustainable use The Homiletic Review ,1910
