Rule of Experts Timothy Mitchell, 2002-11-18 Publisher Description Rule of Experts Timothy Mitchell, 2009 Rule of Experts - Egypt, Techno-Politics, Modernity Timothy Mitchell, 2012 Can one explain the power of global capitalism without attributing to capital a logic and coherence it does not have Can one account for the powers of techno science in terms that do not merely reproduce its own understanding of the world Rule of Experts examines these questions through a series of interrelated essays focused on Egypt in the twentieth century These explore the way malaria sugar cane war and nationalism interacted to produce the techno politics of the modern Egyptian state the forms of debt discipline and violence that founded the institution of private property the methods of measurement circulation and exchange that produced the novel idea of a national economy yet made its accurate representation impossible the stereotypes and plagiarisms that created the scholarly image of the Egyptian peasant and the interaction of social logics horticultural imperatives powers of desire and political forces that turned programs of economic reform in unanticipated directions Mitchell is a widely known political theorist and one of the most innovative writers on the Middle East He provides a rich examination of the forms of reason power and expertise that characterize contemporary politics Together these intellectually provocative essays will challenge a broad spectrum of readers to think harder more critically and more politically about history power and theory Egypt's Housing Crisis Yahia Shawkat, 2020-09-08 A provocative analysis of the roots of Egypt's housing crisis and the ways in which it can be tackled Along with football and religion housing is a fundamental cornerstone of Egyptian life it can make or break marriage proposals invigorate or slow down the economy and popularize or embarrass a ruler Housing is political Almost every Egyptian ruler over the last eighty years has directly associated himself with at least one large scale housing project It is also big business with Egypt currently the world leader in per capita housing production building at almost double China's rate and creating a housing surplus that counts in the millions of units Despite this Egypt has been in the grip of a housing crisis for almost eight decades From the 1940s onward officials deployed a number of policies to create adequate housing for the country's growing population By the 1970s housing production had outstripped population growth but today half of Egypt's one hundred million people cannot afford a decent home Egypt's Housing Crisis takes presidential speeches parliamentary reports legislation and official statistics as the basis with which to investigate the tools that officials have used to solve the housing crisis rent control social housing and amnesties for informal self building as well as the inescapable reality of these policies outcomes Yahia Shawkat argues that wars mass displacement and rural urban migration played a part in creating the problem early on but that neoliberal deregulation crony capitalism and corruption and neglectful planning have made things steadily worse ever since In the final analysis he asks is affordable housing for all really that hard to achieve The Political Economy of the New Egyptian Republic Nicholas S. Hopkins, 2015-05-15 Egypt is a country of its people What has been the effect on its inhabitants of the 2011 revolution and subsequent developments In 2013

a conference held under the auspices of Cairo Papers in Social Science examined this issue from the points of view of anthropologists historians political scientists psychologists and urban planners The papers collected here reveal the strategies that various actors employed in this situation Contributors Ellis Goldberg David Sims Yasmine Ahmed Deena Abdelmonem Dina Makram Ebeid Clement Henry Sandrine Gamblin Hans Christian Korsholm Nielsen Zeinab Abul Magd

Re-Thinking Agency Joanna Godlewicz-Adamiec, Paweł Piszczatowski, 2024-10-07 The book explores the multi faceted nature of contemporary reflections on agency focusing on various discursive practices that shape the posthumanist approach to the relationship between the human and non human world from a planetary perspective The chapters delve into critical human animal studies examine new non anthropocentric identity constructs and offer analyses that reinterpret meanings through semiotic inversions and challenge static cultural patterns The book concludes with discussions on decolonization practices that aim to liberate agency from oppressive systems particularly those dominated by imperial phallogocentrism

Social Reform, Modernization and Technical Diplomacy Véronique Plata-Stenger, 2020-04-20 Founded in 1919 under the Treaty of Versailles as part of the League of Nations system the ILO is still today the main organization responsible for the international organization of work and the improvement of working conditions in the world Widely recognized for its efforts in building international labour standards the ILO remains little studied by development specialists and historians This book intends to fill this gap and traces the history of international development and its early pioneers through an analysis of the activities of the International Labour Office the Secretariat of the International Labour Organization between 1930 and 1946 In this book development is used as a key to questioning the ILO s place and function in the expanding inter war world The development practices and discourses that emerged in the 1930s were mainly intended to support the ILO s universalization strategy which was made necessary by the events that shook Europe at the time Development discourses and practices were also part of the esprit du temps as they were closely linked to the affirmation of the planist and rationalist ideas of the 1930s However development for the ILO was not reduced to a project of economic modernization but was seen as a tool for social engineering as evidenced by the ILO s missions of technical assistance organized since 1930 The analysis of the expertise work makes it possible to highlight the logics that prevailed in technical assistance which was more in line with institutional objectives than with the dissemination of a genuine expertise This book therefore hopes to bring new insight on the history of internationalism and international organizations during the inter war period and the Second World War as well as on the role of the ILO in the history of international development thinking and practices

The Global Politics of Science and Technology - Vol. 2 Maximilian Mayer, Mariana Carpes, Ruth Knoblich, 2014-08-20 An increasing number of scholars have begun to see science and technology as relevant issues in International Relations IR acknowledging the impact of material elements technical instruments and scientific practices on international security statehood and global governance This two volume collection brings the debate about science and technology to the center of International Relations It shows how integrating science and technology translates into novel analytical frameworks conceptual approaches and empirical puzzles and thereby offers a state of the art review of various methodological and theoretical ways in which sciences and technologies matter for the study of international affairs and world politics The authors not only offer a set of practical examples of research frameworks for experts and students alike but also propose a conceptual space for interdisciplinary learning in order to improve our understanding of the global politics of science and technology The second volume raises a plethora of issue areas actors and cases under the umbrella notion techno politics Distinguishing between interactional and co productive perspectives it outlines a toolbox of analytical frameworks that transcend technological determinism and social constructivism Colonial Bureaucracy and Contemporary Citizenship Yael Berda,2022-11-17

Colonial Bureaucracy and Contemporary Citizenship examines how the legacies of colonial bureaucracy continue to shape political life after empire Focusing on the former British colonies of India Cyprus and Israel Palestine the book explores how post colonial states use their inherited administrative legacies to classify and distinguish between loyal and suspicious subjects and manage the movement of populations thus shaping the practical meaning of citizenship and belonging within their new boundaries The book offers a novel institutional theory of hybrid bureaucracy to explain how racialized bureaucratic practices were used by powerful administrators in state organizations to shape the making of political identity and belonging in the new states Combining sociology and anthropology of the state with the study of institutions this book offers new knowledge to overturn conventional understandings of bureaucracy demonstrating that routine bureaucratic practices and persistent colonial logics continue to shape unequal political status to this day Nationalising Oil and Knowledge in Iran Mattin Biglari,2025-02-28

Iran s nationalisation of oil in 1951 was a key catalyst for the rise of resource nationalism as an animating force of global decolonisation expelling the Anglo Iranian Oil Company AIOC now known as BP after nearly fifty years of domination in southwest Iran Nationalising Oil Knowledge in Iran turns attention to the origins of nationalisation in the everyday struggles between the oil company and subaltern actors in the city of Abadan then home to the world s largest oil refinery and deeply imbricated in networks of colonialism and racial capitalism Engaging with energy history postcolonial subaltern studies and science technology studies the book focuses on the politics of expertise how nationalisation reproduced the epistemic coloniality of the oil company which rested on local dispossession social engineering as well as racial and gendered segregation It argues that nationalisation diverged from subaltern contestations of oil expertise in Abadan which presented a more fundamental challenge to colonial modernity Men of Capital Sherene Seikaly,2023-05-25

An eye opening book on the history of an elite Palestinian Arab group an important contribution and a highly recommended read Middle East Journal Men of Capital examines British ruled Palestine in the 1930s and 1940s through a focus on economy In a departure from the expected histories of Palestine this book illuminates dynamic class constructions that aimed to shape a pan Arab utopia in terms of free trade profit accumulation and private property And in so doing it positions Palestine and Palestinians in the larger world of Arab thought and social life moving attention away from the limiting debates of Zionist Palestinian conflict Reading Palestinian business periodicals records and correspondence Sherene Seikaly reveals how capital accumulation was central to the conception of the ideal social man Here we meet a diverse set of characters the man of capital the frugal wife the law abiding Bedouin the unemployed youth and the abundant farmer in new spaces like the black market cafes and cinemas and the idyllic Arab home Seikaly also traces how British colonial institutions and policies regulated wartime austerity regimes mapping the shortages of basic goods such as the vegetable crisis of 1940 to the broader material disparities among Palestinians and European Jews Ultimately she shows that the economic is as central to social management as the political and that an exclusive focus on national claims and conflicts hides the more complex changes of social life in Palestine

Egypt Sherifa Zuhur, 2007 This monograph approaches three issues in contemporary Egypt failures of governance and political development the continued strength of Islamism and counterterrorism The Egyptian government forged a truce with its most troublesome Islamist militants in 1999 However violence emerged again from new sources of Islamist militancy from 2003 into 2006 All of the previously held conclusions about the role of state strength versus movements divisions that led to the truce are now void as Al Qaeda continues to plague Egypt The even more pressing need for democratization has been setback by the security situation Yet political pressures might threaten the country's stability more thoroughly in the longer run than the sporadic terrorist attacks Widespread political discontent has been expressed for the last several years and unless uneven economic conditions improve and greater consensus is achieved Egypt could move in one of three different directions

Envisioning Media Power Brett Christophers, 2009-04-16 Envisioning Media Power develops an original geographical perspective on the nature and exercise of power in the international television economy It uses theories of political economy as the basis for a comparative empirical examination of the UK and New Zealand television markets while closely considering these markets respective relationships with the US market and its globally influential media corporations In fleshing out this geographical perspective the book critically addresses the power to produce reproduce and extract profit from territorialized media markets To understand such powers the book examines processes of creation and dissemination of industry knowledge structures of industry governance and the locational characteristics of television's operational economy Through its rigorous and creative combination of conceptual insights with empirical substance Envisioning Media Power both illuminates the fabric of television's international space economy and ultimately offers a unique theoretic argument suggesting that power knowledge and geography are inseparable not only from one another but from the process of accumulation of media capital

Capitalism Contested Romain Huret, Nelson Lichtenstein, Jean-Christian Vinel, 2020-12-11 In the historical narrative that prevails today the New Deal years are positioned between two equally despised Gilded Ages the first in the late nineteenth century and the second characterized by the world of Walmart globalization and right wing populism in which we currently live What defines these two ages is an increasing level of inequality legitimized by powerful ideologies namely Social Darwinism at the end of the nineteenth century and neoliberalism today In stark contrast the era of the New Deal was first and foremost an attempt to put an end to inequality in American society In the historical longue dur e it appears today as a kind of golden age when policymakers and citizens sought to devise solutions to the two major questions labor on one side social on the other that were at the heart of the American political economy during the twentieth century Capitalism Contested argues that the New Deal order remains an effective framework to make sense of the transformation of American political economy over the last hundred years Contributors offer an historicized analysis of the degree to which that political economic and ideological order persists and the ways in which it has been transcended or even overthrown The essays pay attention not only to those ideas and social forces hostile to the New Deal but to the contradictions and debilities that were present at the inauguration or became inherent within this liberal impulse during the last half of the twentieth century The unifying thematic among the essays consists not in their subject matter politics political economy social thought and legal

Pier, 2016-04-29 David G Pier offers an ethnographic study of the Senator Extravaganza traditional dance competition in Uganda and the performers marketers and other actors who were involved in it Pier illustrates the event as part of a broader moment in Ugandan and African public culture one in which marketing is playing an increasingly dominant role Writing Political History Today Willibald Steinmetz, Ingrid Gilcher-Holtey, Heinz-Gerhard Haupt, 2013-05 In recent years political history has been rediscovered by historians In this volume the contributors approach the new political history in a constructivist way conceiving the political as a communicative space whose boundaries are constantly reconfigured through acts of verbal visual and sometimes violent communication Writing Political History Today is organized into four sections focusing on politics and the political as contested concepts boundary disputes between the political and other spheres the question whether violence is a means an object or the end of political communication and on a future agenda for writing political history
