Some Were Patriots ~ Some Were Prodigals Beverly Brown Hart, 2013-10-11 A native of Nowata Co. OK, msbev grew up near the Verdigris River in Nowata County, OK. She attended a one-room country school part of her elementary years. Having researched family history for 40 years, she knew the true stories about real people would be lost if someone did not write them. She listened as her Pioneer Blacksmith father and her mysterious mother gave her rare glimpses into their lives. Her father even kept his name a secret; msbev did not know his complete given name until after he passed away. Now msbev knew what was behind the looks she remembered seeing pass between her mom and dad, especially if they were disagreeing. She talks with them, listens, and loves them as though they were sitting beside her. She says their conversations are better than when they were alive because she knows them so much better now. Volume 1 includes several of these stories but not the entire collection. The Runaway Tractor Heather Amery, Stephen Cartwright, 2002-06-01 Two favorite Farmyard Tales stories in Mini format are paired with adorable plush key rings. Young readers can start with the simple single line of text at the top of the page and work their way up to the more advanced lines below. The soft plush toys with key rings have been safety tested and are fun to collect. Uniontown Bypass, US-40 and US-119 Link, SR-6040, Section A04, Hopwood to Chadville, Fayette County, 1990 Operator's manual, 1984
