MEDIEVAL MAGIC ALPHABETS

While the runes held sway in Western Europe, the creation and use of mystical alphabets and secret codes had become a sophisticated art among the Arabs, who were renowned in the early Middle Ages as magicians. The North African Moors had extended their empire by 711 AD to include the Sahara and parts of Southern Europe. In the eighth century an army of seven thousand Berber tribesmen invaded Spain and were to hold it as a Moslem stronghold until 1492. Arab supremacy in Europe was complete.

During the period when Spain was under Moorish rule it became a centre for the study and practice of magic and occultism. Scholars and students from England, France and Germany travelled to sit at the feet of Arab, Christian and Jewish philosophers in Spain, and at Toledo was founded the only university ever established to teach magic and sorcery. In the thirteenth century, the cabbala – or mystical inner teaching of the Judaic religion – was first written down from its original oral sources by a Spanish Rabbi and this philosophy became the foundation stone of medieval occultism. It is also the guiding light of the modern revival of magical practices.

In such an atmosphere it is little wonder that the lore of secret alphabets flourished. In AD 855, the occult scholar Abu Bakir Ahmad was the first to include magical Arab scripts in his treatise Kitab Shaug Almustsham Pi Manifat Rumaz Al-Oghlan or The Book Of The Frenzied Devotee To Learn About The Ancient
