Haider-Markel,2010-08-11 Out and Running is the first systematic analysis of lesbian gay bisexual and transgender LGBT political representation that explores the dynamics of state legislative campaigns and the influence of lesbian and gay legislators in the state policymaking process By examining state legislative elections from 1992 to 2006 and state policymaking from 1992 to 2009 Donald Haider Markel suggests that the LGBT community can overcome hurdles and win elections and once in office these officials can play a critical role in the policy representation of the community However he also discovers that there are limits to where and when LGBT candidates can run for office and that while their presence in office often enhances policy representation it can also create backlash But even with some of these negative consequences Out and Running provides compelling evidence that gays and lesbians are more likely to see beneficial legislation pass by increasing the number of LGBT state legislators Indeed grassroots politics in the states may allow the LGBT community its best opportunity for achieving its policy goals The Mobilgas Economy
