Rural Development and Women in Africa International Labour Office, 1984 Proceedings and papers prepared for the ILO Tripartite African Regional Seminar on Rural Development and Women held in Dakar Senegal on June 15 19 1981 Rural Development International Labour Office, 1991 Entries in English and various other languages Social Conditions in Sub-Saharan Africa R. Carr-Hill, 1990-11-09 Sub Saharan Africa is at the centre of the debate about development and about the relationship between prosperity in the North and poverty in the South However the data base for much of the argument is very weak The purpose of this book is to present an up to date picture based on a critical evaluation of several hundred studies Separate chapters consider food fuel and water health and education and then three cross cutting issues urbanisation women and human rights The uniqueness of the book is not only in the care with which the data is examined but also in the emphasis upon interpreting data within a framework oriented towards the monitoring of the satisfaction of basic human needs Mortgaging Women's Lives Pamela Sparr, 1994 Een evaluatie aan de hand van een reeks case studies van de impact van het economisch beleid van het Internationaal Muntfonds en de Wereldbank op vrouwen in de ontwikkelingslanden met onder meer aandacht voor het gevoerde overheidsbeleid en de impact van de door de internationale instanties opgelegde maatregelen op plattelandsvrouwen Women Workers International Labour Office, 1995 Produced from the LABORDOC database lists 953 English language publications technical reports working papers and other documents produced at ILO headquarters or in ILO field offices or prepared in connection with ILO programmes Third World Book Review , 1984 The Political Economy of Hunger: Volume 1: Entitlement and Well-being Jean Dreze (ed), Amartya Sen, 1990 Part of a major report on world hunger instigated by the World Institute for Development Economics Research this volume deals with possible solutions to the problem of regular outbreaks of famine in various parts of the world Making the Woman Worker Eileen Boris, 2019 This book explains how the 20th century labor standard regime forged by the International Labor Organization cast the woman worker as a special type of worker but a century later previously excluded home based workers placed caring labor at the center of debates over the future of work amid new precarity Raising the Productivity of Women Farmers in Sub-Saharan Africa Katrine Anderson Saito, Hailu Mekonnen, Daphne Spurling, 1994 World Bank Discussion Paper 230 Based on four country studies and extensive household surveys this paper documents the breakdown of traditional farming systems in Sub Saharan Africa and its implications for the role of women in agriculture The Revaluation of Women's Work Sheila Lewenhak, 2013-11-05 This book provides a survey and analysis of the different ways in which women's work is valued throughout the world It challenges the narrow definition of work as paid work as that excludes so many of women's activities It looks at ways in which women's worth has been consistently undervalued in industrial as well as non industrial countries in socialist as well as free enterprise economies These practices distort the national product of countries heavily dependent on women's labour but above all they are among the most obvious marks of the exploitation of women Technological changes are already altering established female male divisions of labour Transnational enterprises often located in Special Economic Zones are reducing differences between industrial and nonindustrial countries Valuing women s work correctly whether unpaid in the home or underpaid outside it is part of the battle against discrimination and poverty Men who do similar work also benefit It is the crucial step towards the achievement of male female equality The book will be particularly valuable for those concerned with the issues in trade unions women s groups international agencies and NGOs and for course in economics and social studies

Development Crises and Alternative Visions Gita Sen,Caren Grown,2013-11-05 More than half of the world s farmers are women They are the majority of the poor the uneducated and are the first to suffer from drought and famine Yet their subordination is reinforced by well meaning development policies that perpetuate social inequalities During the 1975 85 United Nations Decade for the Advancement of Women their position actually worsened This book analyses three decades of policies towards Third World women Focusing on global economic and political crises debt famine militarization fundamentalism the authors show how women s moves to organize effective strategies for basic survival are central to an understanding of the development process

Projects with People Peter Oakley,1991 People s participation has begun to influence the practice of development substantially This study provides an interpretation of how participation occurs uses case studies to highlight various approaches and develops elements of a strategy and a methodology Labour Information International Labour Office,1991 This reference book provides a core list of publications in the labour field covering both reference materials and selected ILO publications in English It covers employment training labour relations labour administration working conditions and environment social security promotion of equality and workers education Capitalism's Hidden Worlds Kenneth Lipartito,Lisa Jacobson,2020-01-24 A dynamic social history of shadow capitalism spanning the late nineteenth and twentieth centuries Observers see free markets the relentless pursuit of profit and the unrelenting drive to commodify everything as capitalism s defining characteristics These most visible economic features however obscure a range of other less evident often unmeasured activities that occur on the margins and in the concealed corners of the formal economy The range of practices in this large and diverse hidden realm encompasses traders in recycled materials and the architects of junk bonds and shadow banking It includes the black and semi licit markets that allow wealthy elites to avoid taxes and the unmeasured domestic and emotional labor of homemakers and home care workers By some estimates the unmeasured economic activity that occurs within the household informal market and underground economy amounts to a substantial portion of all economic activity in the world as much as 30 percent in some countries Capitalism s Hidden Worlds sheds new light on this shadowy economic landscape by reexamining how we think about the market In particular it scrutinizes the missed connections between the official visible realm of exchange and the uncounted and invisible sectors that border it While some hidden markets emerged in opposition to the formal economy much of the obscured economy described in this volume operates as the other side of the legitimate state sanctioned marketplace A variety of historical actors from fortune tellers and forgers to tax lawyers and black market consumers have constructed this unseen world in tandem with the observable public world of transactions Others such as feminist development economists and government regulators have worked to bring the darkened corners of the economy to light The essays in Capitalism's Hidden Worlds explore how the capitalist marketplace sustains itself how it acquires legitimacy and even prestige and how the marginalized and the dispossessed find ways to make ends meet Contributors Bruce Baker Eileen Boris Eli Cook Hannah Frydman James Hollis Owen Hyman Anna Kushkova Christopher McKenna Kenneth Mour Philip Scranton Bryan Turo

Poverty in Developing Countries World Employment Programme,1992 Topics include agricultural development basic needs development strategy and planning economic development and policy employment food production housing needs income distribution and industrialization Indexes are divided by references authors corporate authors subject and geographical aspects

Scientific-technological Change And The Role Of Women In Development Pamela D'onofrio-flores,Sheila M Pfafflin,2019-07-11 This critique by women of male generated and male dominated technologies grows out of a consciousness of women as essential yet unsalaried participants in production processes The authors document the ways in which women suffer from technological development in industrialized and developing countries and assess how technological developments perpetuate inequalities between nations regions classes and sexes They discuss the implementation of modern technology in agriculture and its effects on rural women look at the position of women in the basic and applied sciences and in science policymaking and analyze the place of women in selected technology based industries

Gender Challenges Bina Agarwal,2015-12-21 An internationally acclaimed economist Bina Agarwal is known for her path breaking writings on agriculture property rights and the environment Her three volume compendium brings together a selection of her essays written over three decades Combining diverse disciplines methodologies and cross country comparisons the essays challenge standard economic analyses and assumptions from a gender perspective They provide original insights on a wide range of theoretical empirical and policy issues of continuing importance in contemporary debates The first volume spans varied dimensions of the author's writings on agrarian change from 1981 to the present It identifies gender inequalities in the impact of agricultural modernisation and technical change across Asia and Africa the links between women poverty and economic growth processes and data biases in measuring women's work It traces the gendered costs of droughts and famine and challenges top down methods of innovation diffusion Focusing on the key role of women farmers in food security it also offers innovative solutions including public land banks and group farming The second volume focuses on the author's paradigm shifting work on women's property status in South Asia Challenging conventional approaches to women's empowerment it demonstrates how promoting access to property especially land is key to enhancing women's economic and social well being and deterring domestic violence It details gender inequalities in inheritance laws public policies and land struggles and presents the bargaining framework for understanding and finding ways of overcoming these inequalities both within families and in markets communities and vis vis the state This third volume traces the relationship between gender and environmental change Critiquing ecofeminist assumptions it presents an alternative theoretical framework It also examines the causes of women s absence as well as the impact of their presence in environmental collective action Based on innovative fieldwork on community institutions for forest governance the author demonstrates how a critical mass of women can significantly improve conservation outcomes In conclusion she reflects on which features of feminist scholarship make for an effective challenge to mainstream economics
