Rural Industrialization in China Jon Sigurdson, 2020-03-17 Small scale industries in rural areas in China are today an essential element of regional development programs This monograph analyzes two main development strategies One involves technology choices in a number of industrial sectors most of which were initiated during the Great Leap Forward in the late fifties The scaling down of modern large scale technology through a product or quality choice combined with changes in the manufacturing processes is discussed at some length for nitrogen chemical fertilizer and cement The other approach is the integrated rural development strategy where a number of activities are integrated within or closely related to the commune system This strategy includes industry as only one component of many instruments where improved public health education and improved agricultural technology contribute to achieving such policy objectives as increased employment and productivity regional structure and related aspects of China's rural industrial sector. This book analyses China's historical experience of industrialization. It adopts a critical stance towards China's development strategy and proposes an alternative approach outlining its main features. Due to the great importance and special problems of China's rural modernization, special attention is devoted to analysis of the rural sector. Many of China's rural socio-economic problems are similar to those encountered in other developing countries. It is intended that the book will increase understanding of China's socio-economic development as well as contributing to wider debates in the theory of economic development. The Development of Township, Village, and Private Enterprises Shin-Ray Lee, 1992. Rural Industrialization in China Yanrui Wu, 1990. Rural Industrialization in China Hong Chun Yang, 1987.

Maxwell, 2014-06-28. China's Road to Development is a collection of papers by specialists on aspects of China's economy and society. It covers a wide range of subjects from development strategy to the specifics of small-scale energy exploitation from the role of women in China's development to the greening of China through great efforts in afforestation. Commenting on the limited issue original edition, a special issue of the journal World Development from which this volume has been greatly expanded, Dr Knowles, President of the Rockefeller Foundation, wrote: "A magnificent collection of essays by very astute and experienced observers covering everything from population control, health, economic planning, trade, city planning and rural development to Chinese aid in building the Tanzania-Zambia railway. If I could only afford two books on modern China, I would get this one."

Industrialization and China's Rural Modernization Fureng Dong, 1992-01-01. Rural Industrialization in China Erik Baumann, 1991. Rural China Takes Off Jean C. Oi, 1999-05-17. In this incisive analysis of one of the most spectacular economic breakthroughs in the Deng era, Jean C. Oi shows how and why Chinese rural-based industry has become the fastest growing economic sector, not just in China but in the world. Oi argues that decollectivization and fiscal decentralization provided party officials of the localities, counties, townships and villages with the incentives to act as entrepreneurs and to promote rural industrialization in many areas of the Chinese countryside. As a result, the corporatism practiced by local officials has become effective enough to challenge the centrality of the national state. Dealing not only with the political setting of rural industrial development, Oi's original and strongly argued study also makes a broader contribution to conceptualizations of corporatism in political theory. Oi writes provocatively about property rights and principal-agent relationships and shows the complex financial incentives that underpin and strengthen the growth in local state corporatism and shape its evolution. This book will be essential for those interested in Chinese politics, comparative politics and communist and post communist systems      China's Agricultural Modernization On Kit Tam, 2023-08-01 Originally published in 1985 this study investigates the actual experience in mechanization during the Fourth Five Year Plan period a period which represented in many ways a new stage in China's rural development It examines the historical perspective and the development approach under which mechanization efforts were exerted during this 5 year period and the mechanism outcomes and problems these entailed The book addresses the issues involved in agricultural development and mechanization through a more integral analysis of the way technological transformation has been linked to China's quest for social and economic development      Practicum Report [microform] : Rural Industrialization in China Xiaojian Wang, 2001

Manager Empowerment in China Ray Yep, 2003-12-08 Institutional changes in rural China caused by the economic reforms of the post Mao era have led to a new pattern of state society interaction in the rural polity Central to this is the spectacular rise of a group of managerial elites Contrary to economic predictors this has been accompanied by the development of an interdependence between these managers and the state This book provides an analysis of the new state society relationship and demonstrates the complexity and fluidity involved in institutional development and market transformation
