Shepperton Babylon:

Shepperton Babylon Matthew Sweet, 2006 A history of British movies which includes the scandals the suicides the immolations and the contract killings It is the product of thousands of conversations with veteran film makers From Silent Film Idol to Superman Jonathan Croall, 2023-06-02 A popular romantic actor with a fan club rivalling that of Ivor Novello John Stuart was frequently mobbed by his adoring fans He starred in films by Alfred Hitchcock and G W Pabst played opposite British stars such as Madeleine Carroll Fay Compton Gracie Fields and German actor Conrad Veidt and was also the first actor to ever speak on screen in Britain Yet despite a film career lasting six decades and 172 films his name and achievement are little known today With access to Stuart's private archive his surviving films press cuttings film reviews interviews profiles features and gossip columns his son Jonathan Croall presents a detailed account of an actor who made a significant contribution to the British film industry of the 20th century Acting for the Silent Screen Chris O'Rourke, 2016-11-30 A shop girl wins a newspaper competition and is transformed overnight into a transatlantic celebrity An aristocrat swaps high society for the film studio when she consents to perform in a series of films thus legitimising acting for what some might have considered a low art Stories like these were the stuff of newspaper headlines in 1920s and reflected a craze for the cinema They also demonstrated radical changes in attitudes and values within society in the wake of World War I Chris O'Rourke investigates the myths and material practices that grew up around film actors during the silent era The book sheds light on issues such as the social and cultural reception of cinema the participatory film culture expressed through fan magazines instructional booklets and movie star competitions and the working conditions encountered by actors behind the scenes of silent films Drawing on extensive research and a wealth of archival materials O'Rourke examines how dreams of stardom were fuelled and exploited in the interwar period and reconstructs the personal narratives and experiences of the first generation to imagine making a living on screen In doing so he reveals a missing and much sought after piece of cinematic history to bring to life the developing industries social attitudes and norms of a period of enormous change The Great British Dream Factory Dominic Sandbrook, 2015-10-01 SPECTATOR BOOKS OF THE YEAR 2015 Britain's empire has gone Our manufacturing base is a shadow of its former self the Royal Navy has been reduced to a skeleton In military diplomatic and economic terms we no longer matter as we once did And yet there is still one area in which we can legitimately claim superpower status our popular culture It is extraordinary to think that one British writer J K Rowling has sold more than 400 million books that Doctor Who is watched in almost every developed country in the world that James Bond has been the central character in the longest running film series in history that The Lord of the Rings is the second best selling novel ever written behind only A Tale of Two Cities that the Beatles are still the best selling musical group of all time and that only Shakespeare and the Bible have sold more books than Agatha Christie To put it simply no country on earth relative to its size has contributed more to the modern imagination This is a book about the success and the meaning of Britain's modern popular culture from Bond and the Beatles to heavy metal and Coronation Street from the Angry Young Men to Harry Potter from Damien Hirst to The X Factor

How Stage Playwrights Saved the British Cinema, 1930-1956 David Cottis, 2024-12-26 Examines the film careers and work of British playwrights who worked as screenwriters between 1930-1956 During the period between the 1927 Cinematograph Films Act and the new drama of the 1950s many British writers associated with the stage also wrote for films bringing the techniques of the well made play with them Some like Bernard Shaw Noel Coward and Terence Rattigan were screenwriter stars part of the publicity of the films they worked on Pygmalion Brief Encounter The Way to the Stars Others were less celebrated but had long successful screen careers such as R C Sherriff author of Journey's End who worked on films as different as The Invisible Man The Four Feathers and The Dam Busters Using the authors original archives this book follows the way in which these writers adapted their stage skills for the screen contributing to the post war Golden Age of the British cinema and creating the classic form of screenplay that continues today

Dark Star Alan Strachan, 2018-10-25 Winner of the Society for Theatre Research Book Prize 2020 Vivien Leigh was perhaps the most iconic actress of the twentieth century As Scarlett O'Hara and Blanche Du Bois she took on some of the most pivotal roles in cinema history Yet she was also a talented theatre actress with West End and Broadway plaudits to her name In this ground breaking new biography Alan Strachan provides a completely new full life portrait of Leigh covering both her professional and personal life Using previously unseen sources from her archive recently acquired by the V&A he sheds new light on her fractious relationship with Laurence Olivier based on their letters and diaries as well as on the bipolar disorder which so affected her later life and work Revealing new aspects of her early life as well as providing glimpses behind the scenes of the filming of Gone with the Wind and A Streetcar Named Desire this book provides the essential and comprehensive life story of one of the twentieth century's greatest actresses

Seventies British Cinema Robert Shail, 2019-07-25 Seventies British Cinema provides a comprehensive re-evaluation of British film in the 1970s The decade has long been written off in critical discussions as a doldrums period in British cinema perhaps because the industry facing near economic collapse turned to unacceptable low culture genres such as sexploitation comedies or extreme horror The contributors to this new collection argue that 1970s cinema is ripe for reappraisal giving serious critical attention to populist genre films they also consider the development of a British art cinema in the work of Derek Jarman and Peter Greenaway and the beginnings of an independent sector fostered by the BFI Production Board and producers like Don Boyd A host of highly individual directors managed to produce interesting and cinematically innovative work against the odds from Nicolas Roeg to Ken Russell to Mike Hodges As well as providing a historical and cinematic context for understanding Seventies cinema the volume also features chapters addressing Hammer horror the Carry On films Bond films of the Roger Moore period Jubilee and other films that responded to Punk rock heritage cinema and case studies of key seventies films such as The Wicker Man and Straw Dogs In all the book provides the final missing piece in the rediscovery of British cinema
