Shifting Circles Of Support:

Shifting Circles of Support Rajni Palriwala, Carla Risseuw, 1996-05-07 Contributors including historians lawyers anthropologists and sociologists provide eleven essays addressing change and continuity in intimate life arrangements with a focus on kinship family and gender relations and the degree of support and security they offer in view of the influence of macroeconomic and political processes Printed in India AltaMira Press a division of Sage Publications is at 1630 North Main Street Suite 367 Walnut Creek CA 94596 Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR Silences and Soundbites Philip J. Havik, 2004 Set in the pre colonial Guinea Bissau region Silences and Soundbytes deals with the largely ignored roles women and men played as traders and brokers in Afro Atlantic trade settlements emerged after first contact in the fifteenth century Largely based upon unpublished archival material the book traces the evolution of these riverine settlements and their populations until the military occupation by Portugal in the early twentieth century It holds that the formation of settlement communities that operated the relay trade along the region s many rivers between the region s hinterland and the coast created opportunities for enterprising and well connected women Living in the Shadow of the Large Dams Dzodzi Tsikata, 2006-05-01 Studies of populations affected by Large Dams are usually about physically displaced and resettled communities This book on the Volta River Project breaks with the mould and tackles the long term environmental and socio economic impacts of the Akosombo and Kpong Dams and livelihood responses of two neglected groups downstream and lakeside communities In a detailed study which takes a gendered political economy of livelihoods approach the book considers the contribution of factors such as the environmental restructuring of the Lower Volta the exodus of its most economically active population to the Volta Lake the State s neglect of affected communities the changing socio economic context of Ghana and social relations of class gender and kinship to livelihood trajectories and outcomes Writing the Women's Movement Mala Khullar, 2005 Contributed articles presented earlier at several seminars on women s studies and feminism in India South Asians in Kenya Pascale Herzig, 2006 For more than a century a substantial South Asian minority has been living in Kenya Within a few decades a majority of the Kenyan Asians has managed to transform their living conditions from an impoverished rural background in South Asia to a globalised and economically successful middle class in East Africa Therefore this research sets an example of migration as an opportunity for social mobility The study is based on empirical data collected with South Asians in Kenya who were differentiated by gender age migratory generation and other social boundaries The research is divided into three levels of analysis interethnic and intra ethnic relations i e the relations within the South Asian minority as well as the relations within the family To understand the complexity of migrants lives an approach of geographies of intersectionality was developed which takes different intersecting social boundaries into account and additionally considers the significance of place The study shows that migration has an impact on the relations between genders age groups and migratory generations and leads to changing identities and new lifestyles Book jacket Equality,

Inequalities and Diversity Geraldine Healy, Gill Kirton, Mike Noon, 2010-11-10 Equality Inequalities and Diversity offers an authoritative critical analysis of equality inequality and diversity in organizations Using international examples it explores contemporary concepts and debates based on original research in a number of fields and sectors an ideal course companion for anyone studying diversity

Kinship and Food in South East Asia Monica Janowski, Fiona Kerlogue, 2007 There has been a growing acceptance that food has an important role in establishing and structuring social and kin relations in South East Asian societies This study looks at a wide variety of groups in the region and demonstrates that within all of them the feeding relationship is fundamental to the establishment and the nature of relations within generations and between generations Presenting material from ten societies in the region the papers included in this volume argue that the feeding of foods drink and meals based on the focal starch crop grown by these agricultural groups rice in eight of the groups covered here sago in one and cassava in one is used to manipulate biological kinship and to construct a kinship particular to humans which is nevertheless founded in a natural process the flow of life blessings and potency between generations

The Women, Gender and Development Reader Nalini Visvanathan, Lynn Duggan, Nan Wiegersma, Laurie Nisonoff, 2011-07-07 The Women Gender and Development Reader is the definitive volume of literature dedicated to women in the development process Now in a fully revised second edition the editors expertly present the impacts of social political and economic change by reviewing such topical issues as migration persistent structural discrimination the global recession and climate change Approached from a multidisciplinary perspective the theoretical debates are vividly illustrated by an array of global case studies This now classic book has been designed as a comprehensive reader presenting the best of the now vast body of literature The book is divided into five parts incorporating readings from the leading experts and authorities in each field The result is a unique and extensive discussion a guide to the evolution of the field and a vital point of reference for those studying or with a keen interest in women in the development process

Social Security Between Past and Future Franz von Benda-Beckmann, Keebet von Benda-Beckmann, 2007 Social security is a particularly precarious issue where states hardly provide any services in periods of need and distress This book analyses the arrangements relationships through which food shelter and care are provided on the island of Ambon famous spice island in Eastern Indonesia It also shows how relations of support tie Ambonese migrants in the Netherlands to their home villages and how normative conceptions of need and care among kinsmen and villagers change over time Though special in their own historical setting Ambonese networks of care and support are illustrative of poor rural populations in the Third World Focusing on the precursors of the violent conflict that erupted in 1998 the book shows that social security is like a magnifying glass linking past present and future

Mediating Means and Fate Saskia Brand, 2021-11-22 Why do birth rates fail to drop in Sub Saharan Africa This question has preoccupied demographers and population planners for decades The expectation of fertility decline is based on the demographic transition model which still dominates demographic thinking and which assumes a universal development towards low mortality and fertility levels following modernisation This book argues that population dynamics can only be understood when viewed in their particular context It provides both a critique of demographic methods and theorizing and a detailed analysis of fertility issues in the rapidly changing urban environment of Bamako capital city of Mali A new light is shed on the population debate through the conceptualization of the meso level illuminating a part of the social world which usually remains obscure

Sociology and Social Anthropology in India Yogesh Atal, 2009 The Indian Council of Social Science Research the premier organization for social science research in India conducts periodic surveys in the major disciplines of the social sciences to assess disciplinary developments as well as to identify gaps in research in these disciplines

Migrant Remittances in South Asia M. Rahman, T. Yong, A. Ullah, 2014-11-25 This volume provides theoretical treatments of remittance on how its development potential is translated into reality The authors meticulously delve into diverse mechanisms through which migrant communities remit investigating how recipients engage in the development process in South Asia

The Contemporary Indian Family B. Devi Prasad, Srilatha Juvva, Mahima Nayar, 2020-07-15 This book analyses the dynamics of the development of family structure in India over the past few decades It captures the diversities and challenges of contemporary families and provides a culture and region specific overview of how families adapt and change generationally The book explores the paradigms of understanding family life in India through illustrations which trace patterns of family formations in the context of large scale social economic and media driven changes Besides discussing the ongoing debates on the sociology of family the chapters in this volume also look at diverse families experiencing poverty conflict and displacement and demystifies families with members having a disability or non normative sexual orientation The book will be useful to students and researchers of various disciplines such as sociology social work family studies women s studies and anthropology

The Practice of Sociology Maitrayee Chaudhuri, 2003 This book grew out of a need to examine the practice the teaching and research of sociology in India This need was in turn prompted by the experience of the contributors as students and teachers of the problems of understanding communicating the connections between sociology and the society in which one lives and between sociological theory and empirical studies

Gender in the Making, 2024-06-24

Negotiation and Social Space Carla Risseuw, Kamala Ganesh, 1998 This volume of original essays a companion to Shifting Circles of Support offers a fresh conceptualisation which views individuals and then relationships as crucial elements in the study of family and kinship

Institutional Provisions and Care for the Aged Sebastian Irudaya Rajan, Carla Risseuw, Myrtle Perera, 2008 Institutional Provisions and Care for the Aged provides a detailed comparative study of social and economic issues facing the elderly in India Sri Lanka and the Netherlands All three countries offer interesting insights and this book addresses a wide spectrum of issues faced by the elderly and an understanding of the processes at work in the broader social and economic context

Socializing Care Maurice Hamington, Dorothy C. Miller, 2006-01-10 Criticism is often levied that care ethics is too narrow in scope and fails to extend to issues of social justice

Socializing Care attempts to dispel that criticism Contributors to the volume demonstrate how the ethics of care factors into a variety of social policies and institutions and can indeed be useful in thinking about a number of different social problems Divided into two sections the first looks at care as a model for an evaluative framework that rethinks social institutions liberal society and citizenship at a basic conceptual level The second explores care values in the context of specific social practices like live kidney donations or settings like long term care as a framework that should guide thinking Ultimately this collection demonstrates how society would benefit from a more serious engagement with care ethics

Security, Socialisation and Affect in Indian Families Ira Raja, 2016-05-23 Sociological research on Indian families has largely focused on questions of household form and structure to the exclusion of not only the more nebulous dimensions of family life and relationships but also the discursive and imagined aspects of our familial worlds such as may be accessed through an analysis of film literature and the electronic media Moreover when sociological inquiry has sought to go beyond the demographic and census aspects of the household it has trained its eye on the heterosexual family centred on the conjugal couple frequently at the expense of those relational patterns and diversities that fall outside the familiar circuits of desire within the family The present volume brings together ten essays from a range of disciplines including law literature anthropology sociology and queer studies to engage with hitherto neglected and emergent aspects of Indian family life This book was published as a special issue of South Asia Journal of South Asian Studies

Juki Girls, Good Girls Caitrin Lynch, 2016-11-15 When a government program brought garment factories to rural Sri Lanka women workers found themselves caught between the pressures of a globalizing economy and societal expectations that villages are sanctuaries of tradition These women learned quickly to resist the characterization of Juki girls female garment workers already established in the urban sector as vulgar and deracinated instead asserting that they were good girls who could embody the nation's highest ideals of femininity Caitrin Lynch shows how contemporary Sri Lankan women navigate a complex web of political cultural and socioeconomic forces Drawing on extensive ethnographic research conducted inside export oriented garment factories and a close examination of national policies intended to ease the way for globalization Lynch details precisely how gender nationalism and globalization influence everyday life in Sri Lanka This book includes autobiographical essays by garment workers about their efforts to attain the benefits of being seen as good while simultaneously expanding the definition of what sort of behavior constitutes appropriate conduct These village garment workers struggled to reconcile the role thrust upon them as symbols of national progress with the negative public perception of factory workers Lynch provides the context needed to appreciate the paradoxes that globalization creates while painting a sympathetic portrait of the individuals whose life stories appear in this book
