Shifting Horizons:

Shifting Horizons and Crossing Borders ,2024-07-29 The book captures key moments in the critical and creative dialogue of literary scholars poets and artists with poet author documentary film maker and literary scholar Stephanos Stephanides Employing a polyphonic and cross disciplinary perspective the twenty three essays and creative pieces flow together in cycles of continuities and discontinuities emulating Stephanides s fluid and transgressive universe Drawing on the broad topic of borders and crossings Shifting Horizons and Crossing Borders offers critical material on themes such as space and place dislocation and migration journeys and bridges movement and fluidity the aesthetics and the politics of the sea time nostalgia and trans cultural memory identity and poetics translation and translatability home and homecoming An invaluable reference for anyone interested in the crosscurrents between the poetic the cultural and the political Horizon Shift Barrett James Watten,1995 Death, Desire and Loss in Western Culture Jonathan Dollimore,2013-07-04 Death Desire and Loss in Western Culture is a rich testament to our ubiquitous preoccupation with the tangled web of death and desire In these pages we find nuanced analysis that blends Plato with Shelley Hlderlin with Foucault Dollimore a gifted thinker is not content to summarize these texts from afar instead he weaves a thread through each to tell the magnificent story of the making of the modern individual Lifetime M.S. Frings,2013-06-29 In comparison to Husserl and Heidegger Max Scheler s philosophy of time as first presented here is considerably wider in scope Using posthumous manuscripts Frings shows that Scheler conceived the origin of time in the self activating center of individual and universal life as threefold absolute time of a four dimensional expanse This serves as a basis for establishing the phenomenon of objective time in multiple steps of constitutionality including the physical field theory and theory of relativity For Scheler objective time even though anchored in absolute time deserves maximum attention in a technological society Frings focuses here with Scheler on time experience of values and among social groups time experiences in the mind set of capitalism in politics and morals in population dynamics and time experiences in the process of aging all of which were signposts in Scheler s thought before his early demise The Horizon That Moves With Us Richard Parr, We live with horizons those shifting lines between what we know and what lies beyond Yet as we walk toward them they retreat always moving just out of reach In The Horizon That Moves With Us Richard Parr explores the paradox of pursuing meaning in a world where every answer opens into further questions Drawing on philosophy poetry and the ordinary rhythm of human life he shows how our longings ambitions and uncertainties are not signs of failure but evidence of our shared humanity This is a book about movement rather than arrival about learning to live with the horizon s quiet refusal to stay still Perhaps truth is not at the end of the journey but in the steps we take while chasing it Wittgenstein and Gadamer Chris Lawn,2007-03-15 This is the first comparative study of the pioneering work on language of Ludwig Wittgenstein and Hans Georg Gadamer The Hermeneutics of Doctrine Anthony C. Thiselton,2007-11-08 Throughout the book Thiselton shows how perspectives that arise from hermeneutics shed fresh light on theological method reshape horizons of understanding and reveal the relevance of doctrine for formation and for life

Knowing Feminisms Liz Stanley, 1997-03-10 Knowing Feminisms looks at feminism as a vital source of new knowledge and new ways of working throughout a range of disciplines It also scrutinizes the sometimes highly problematic forms its presence within academia can take The contributors all well known feminist academics discuss the epistemological and ontological borderlands that feminisms inhabit which although within still remain other to the academy The book addresses fundamentally important questions such as Should feminists work within traditional disciplines or abandon them in favour of Women s Studies Is the idea of feminist pedagogy as empowerment actually one which de skills Does the feminist transformation of some academic disciplines signify that these are no longer significant sites of knowledge and or power Do the essential organizational features of disciplines and institutions depend upon repressive means or is it possible to transform these according to feminist principles Are some disciplines and types of institutions particularly resistant to feminist ideas Is an intellectual home for feminism ever possible or desirable within academia or is critical thinking best done from the margins Can Women s Studies as an organizational presence within the university encompass dissenting positions on these foundational questions or will it contain and control what can be said and by whom

From Page to Proclamation Clare Schwantes,2024-11-19 This pioneering work invites readers to embark on a transformative journey through the heart of liturgical worship and scriptural proclamation It introduces a new tier to biblical hermeneutics exploring the ways in which the liturgical event and the ecclesial community color the interpretation of Scripture Weaving together insights from Gadamer s philosophical hermeneutics with the rich tapestry of Catholic liturgy the author proposes that the meaning of a proclaimed Scripture passage emerges not from an analysis of the text itself but in the vibrant interplay of multiple horizons Bible Lectionary homilist and worshiper Through a lens of play and festival the intricate relationship between tradition and contemporary worship is explored showcasing how the sensory richness of the Catholic liturgy shapes the interpretation of Scripture It challenges readers to view the Lectionary as a living text intimately connected to the worshipping assembly and the modern world This thought provoking work offers both theoretical insights and practical implications for scholars clergy and worshipers alike It inspires a fresh perspective that resonates with the contemporary Catholic experience guiding worshipers toward a profound engagement with Scripture in the dynamic event of liturgical celebration

Quantum Coherence - Proceedings Of The International Conference On Fundamental Aspects Of Quantum Theory — To Celebrate 30 Years Of The Aharonov-bohm-effect Jeeva Anandan,1991-03-30 The foundations of quantum mechanics has acquired tremendous importance in recent years for three reasons First a large number of experiments have tested concepts which previously were purely theoretical Second ideas from the foundations of quantum mechanics are being applied now to many fields such as condensed matter physics quantum statistics quantum cosmology and quantum gravity Third difficulties in constructing a quantum cosmology and theory of gravity have made many theorists examine the foundations of quantum theory to see if quantum mechanics itself needs to be modified Very distinguished physicists from around the world gave talks on their recent research on a variety of theoretical and experimental aspects on these subjects at this conference

The Nature of Things Graham Buxton,Norman C. Habel,2016-11-16 In 2015 a conference on Rediscovering the Spiritual

in God's Creation was held at the Serafino winery complex in the McLaren Vale region of South Australia. The aim of the conference was not to seek consensus but to survey the landscape with a view to intentional responsible action in caring for God's creation. Delegates were challenged to recognize their own worldviews and to widen their horizons to encompass the enormity of the transcendence and immanence of God's presence in all creation. A group of leading international scholars and experts in the fields of science, ecology, theology and ethics participated in a multidisciplinary conversation on the spiritual in creation with the aim of discovering fresh horizons with regard to creation care, liturgy, justice and discipleship within the Christian community. The chapters in this volume reflect the diversity of perspectives summarized in The Serafino Declaration which was crafted towards the end of the conference. This declaration which opens the volume outlines a range of views relating to the presence of the spiritual in creation, views that are both traditional and radical. This volume highlights the current concern over ecological destruction and finds sources of inspiration in the deepest roots of our traditions and forms of spirituality to sustain efforts towards custodianship of the land and care for God's creation. The Shifting Sands of the North Sea Lowlands Katie Ritson, 2018-10-26. Global seawater levels are rising and the low-lying coasts of the North Sea basin are amongst the most vulnerable in Europe. In our current moment of environmental crisis, the North Sea coasts are literary arenas in which the challenges and concerns of the Anthropocene are being played out. This book shows how the fragile landscapes around the North Sea have served as bellwethers for environmental concern both now and in the recent past. It looks at literary sources drawn from the countries around the North Sea: Denmark, Germany, the Netherlands and England from the mid nineteenth century onwards, taking them out of their established national and cultural contexts and reframing them in the light of human concern with fast-changing and hazardous environments. The six chapters serve as literary case studies that highlight memories of flood disaster and recovery attempts to engineer the landscape into submission, perceptions of the landscape as both local and global and the imagination of the future of our planet. This approach which combines environmental history and ecocriticism shows the importance of cultural artefacts in understandings of and responses to environmental change and advocates for the importance of literary studies in the environmental humanities This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of the Environmental Humanities including Eco criticism and Environmental History as well as anyone studying literature from the Germanic philologies The Social Life of Climate Change Models Kirsten Hastrup, Martin Skrydstrup, 2013

Drawing on a combination of perspectives from diverse fields this volume offers an anthropological study of climate change and the ways in which people attempt to predict its local implications showing how the processes of knowledge making among lay people and experts are not only comparable but also deeply entangled Through analysis of predictive practices in a diversity of regions affected by climate change including coastal India the Cook Islands Tibet and the High Arctic and various domains of scientific expertise and policy making such as ice core drilling flood risk modelling and coastal adaptation the book shows how all attempts at modelling nature's course are deeply social and how current research in climate contributes to a rethinking of nature as a multiplicity of modalities that impact social life
