Shifting Sands, 2000 Collection of articles with reference to the Indian scene Globalisation and the Middle Classes in India Ruchira Ganguly-Scrase, Timothy J. Scrase, 2009 This book discusses and analyses both the economic and cultural sides to globalisation in India providing much needed data in relation to several dimensions including the changing costs of living household expenditure debt and consumerism employment and workplace restructuring gender relations and girls education global media and satellite television and the significance of English in a globalising India Book Jacket Labor, Globalization and the State Debdas Banerjee, Michael Goldfield, 2007-12-13 This book explores the impact of neoliberal globalization on labour markets and the state in the developed and developing world It focuses especially on the United States and the economies of Asia in particular India Liberalized trade and investment are thought by neoliberals to be the best levers for raising labour standards provided labour market flexibility and capital market restructuring accompany them Labour market flexibility and capital market restructuring at a first glance appear to be complementary and symmetric policies In practice however they might have very asymmetric consequences This book addresses these issues and it presents a comprehensive analysis of the key questions such as How far is globalization a real threat to the conventional systems of wage fixation employment pattern and basic rights at work in both developed as well as underdeveloped countries Are casualization and informalization of the workforce direct outcomes of deregulation How do labour organizations cope with the volatility of the labour market Are the existing labour market conditions and forms of labour organizations misfits in the globalized business world Is it at all feasible to choose a high road that combines some degree of labour market flexibility with better labour standards This book will be of interest to academics working on International Development Development Economics Political Economy Comparative Labour Studies and Asian Studies Shifting Sands, 2000 While gender has become increasingly important in development policies there is less awareness that policies and the consequences of structural adjustment are never gender neutral The myth of neutrality continues while women often suffer de facto exclusion from the development process because of methods of implementation Globalisation means that resources for the social sector will come out of an ever shrinking common pool where women will get even less priority In this meticulous study the contributors all well known scholars Joy Deshmukh Ranadive K Seeta Prabhu Malavika Karlekar Sumi Krishna Kumud Sharma Preet Rustogi Vasudha Jain and Indrani Mazumdar examine what happens once these macro policies affect women at the micro level especially the poorer women in urban slums and rural villages Sociology and Social Anthropology in India Yogesh Atal, 2009 The Indian Council of Social Science Research the premier organization for social science research in India conducts periodic surveys in the major disciplines of the social sciences to assess disciplinary developments as well as to identify gaps in research in these disciplines Livelihood and Gender Sumi Krishna, 2004-02-20 Extrait de la couverture Contrary to expectations the recent emphasis on environmental and communitarian rights as in wasteland and watershed development in South Asia has reinforced existing gender biases and created new inequalities This significant volume critically examines the complex and many layered process of mainstreaming gender in natural resource management The contributors build a richly textured genderscape of community resource rights in varied contexts unravel the gender barriers in traditional practices community institutions and modern systems of governance document diverse approaches to livelihood and present a strong case for gender equity in sustainable resource management Globalization, Culture and Inequality in Asia Timothy J. Scrase, Todd Joseph Miles Holden, Scott Baum, 2003 Contemplating globalization from a sociological perspective it is without doubt that a major site for social political economic and cultural change in the new millennium lies in the Asian region The chapters in this book seek to describe and analyze a number of key aspects of social and cultural change wrought by globalization in the Asian region The underlying theme in the book is the multi dimensional way in which globalization in the form of ideas practices and technology have introduced social inequalities in specific contexts In particular the book examines how inequality has been reproduced challenged and theorized in Asia by the advent of globalizing culture Written by experienced and established scholars the study provides both theoretical explanation and discussion and analysis of empirical data from a range of social cultural and political economic perspectives and draws on studies from several countries in the region The Silken Swing Fernando Franco, Women Reclaiming Sustainable Livelihoods Wendy Harcourt, 2012-04-26 This volume highlights women s work sustaining local economies and environments particularly in response to the current food fuel and climate crises It includes women s role in the green entrepreneurship women s reproductive and productive work in the care economy and a further examination of eco feminist debates

Routledge Handbook of Gender in South Asia Leela Fernandes, 2021-11-15 This new edition of the Routledge Handbook of Gender in South Asia provides a comprehensive overview of the study of gender in South Asia The Handbook covers the central contributions that have defined this area and captures innovative and emerging paradigms that are shaping the future of the field It offers a wide range of disciplinary and interdisciplinary perspectives spanning both the humanities and social sciences focusing on India Pakistan Bangladesh and Sri Lanka This revised edition has been thoroughly updated and includes new chapters thus adding new areas of scholarship The Handbook is organized thematically into five major parts Historical formations and theoretical framings Law citizenship and the nation Representations of culture place identity Labor and the economy Inequality activism and the state The Handbook illustrates the ways in which scholarship on gender has contributed to a rethink of theoretical concepts and empirical understandings of contemporary South Asia Finally it focuses on new areas of inquiry that have been opened up through a focus on gender and the intersections between gender and categories such as caste ethnicity sexuality and religion This timely study is essential reading for scholars who research and teach on South Asia as well as for scholars in related interdisciplinary fields that focus on women and gender from comparative and transnational perspectives Gender Justice, Development, and Rights Maxine Molyneux, Shahra

Razavi,2002-11-07 This text examines contemporary issues such as neoliberal policies democracy and multiculturalism analyzing them from a gender perspective It examines how liberal rights and ideas of democracy and justice have been absorbed into the political agendas of women s movements The State in India After Liberalization Akhil Gupta,Kalyanakrishnan Sivaramakrishnan,2010-10-04 This book assesses the changing nature of the state in the period after liberalization in India It includes detailed analysis of its implications for important issues such as inequality poverty basic needs provision citizenship federalism and democratization Rethinking Displacement: Asia Pacific Perspectives Ruchira Ganguly-Scrase,Kuntala Lahiri-Dutt,2016-04-08 This book responds to the need to explore the multitude of interconnected factors causing displacements that compel people to move within their homelands or traverse various borders in the contemporary world that is characterised by extensive and rapid movements of people It addresses this need by bringing together historical and contemporary accounts and critical examinations of the displaced by articulating the commonalities in their lived experiences It accomplishes the task of charting a new path in displacement studies by offering a number of studies from interdisciplinary and diverse methodological approaches comprising ethnographic and qualitative research and literary interpretations to emphasise that although the forms and conditions of mobility are highly divergent individual experiences of displacement and placelessness offer a critical challenge to the artificial categorisations of people s movements Each chapter adds insights into the different configurations of displacement and placement and offers fresh interpretations of migration and dislocation in today s rapidly changing world The contributors critically examine a variety of displacement processes and experiences in the context of war tourism neoliberal policies of development and the impact of various agro forestry policies They focus on a range of countries enabling a thorough comparative analysis in terms of scope and range of examples and methods of analysis This book makes an original contribution to the growing body of literature on displacement and will appeal to a wide readership including advanced undergraduates and graduate students and professors in disciplines such as human geography development studies sociology and anthropology regional studies and comparative impact assessment Black Women, Globalization, and Economic Justice Filomina Chioma Steady,2002 Caribbean Women Writers and Globalization Helen Scott,2006 Helen Scott approaches contemporary Caribbean women s writing in the context of global and local economic forces Considering each text within its national historical and cultural origins while acknowledging regional and international patterns Scott examines the dynamics of imperialism and illuminates the specific aesthetic qualities that reach beyond the confines of geography and history in the work of such writers as Oonya Kempadoo Jamaica Kincaid Edwidge Danticat Pauline Melville and Janice Shinebourne Writing the Women's Movement Mala Khullar,2005 Contributed articles presented earlier at several seminars on women s studies and feminism in India African Women and Globalization Jepkorir Rose Chepyator-Thomson,2005 Extrait de la couverture The phenomenon of globalization has influenced the African social and cultural landscape in a variety of ways Yet its effect on women s lives has not figured prominently in the scholarship on Africa In this volume scholars deconstruct important issues and provide perspectives on understanding and transforming women s experiences in Africa Some of the issues highlighted include the education of girls in Kenya women s role in agriculture and crop production in Africa women as culture mediators in music the participation of women in sports conservation of biodiversity and women in resource management in East Africa and the informal sector as a survival strategy in Nigeria

Globalization and Transnational Surrogacy in India Sayantani DasGupta,Shamita Das Dasgupta,2014-02-14 From computer support and hotel reservations to laboratory results and radiographic interpretations it seems everything can be outsourced in our globalized world One would not think so with parenthood however especially motherhood as it is a fundamental activity humans have historically preserved as personal and private In our modern age however the advent and accessibility of assisted reproductive technologies ARTs and the ease with which they have traversed global borders has fundamentally altered the meaning of childbearing and parenting In the twenty first century parenthood is no longer achieved only through gestation adoption or traditional surrogacy but also via assisted reproductive technologies ARTs where science and technology play lead roles Furthermore in a globalized world economy where the movement and transfer of people and commodities are increasing to serve the interests of capitalism gamete donation and surrogate birth can traverse innumerable geographic socio economic racialized and political borderlands Thus reproduction itself can be outsourced This edited volume explores one specific aspect of the new assisted reproductive technologies gestational surrogacy and how its practice is changing the traditional concept of parenthood across the globe The phenomenon of transnational surrogacy has given rise to a thriving international industry where money is being legally exchanged for babies and reproductive labor has taken on a lucrative commercial tone Yet law research and activism are barely aware of this experience and are still playing catch up with rapidly changing on the ground realities This interdisciplinary collection of essays assuages the dearth of knowledge and addresses significant issues in transnational commercial gestational surrogacy as it takes shape in a peculiar relation between the West primarily the United States and India

Doing Gender, Doing Geography Saraswati Raju,Kuntala Lahiri-Dutt,2012-12-06 Until the 1970s gender had been invisible in analyses of social space and place in the androcentric discipline of geography While recent contributions to feminist geography have challenged this in India the engagement of geographers with gender by being conservative in its choice of focus and orthodox in methodology has been unable to destabilise the established disciplinary order However with younger scholars becoming increasingly interested in studying gender in geography novel and innovative methods that include combinations of quantitative and qualitative analyses visual sources and in depth case studies are being tried out and accepted in geography despite its masculine legacy This pioneering study brings together Indian geographers contributions to understanding gender and through them seeks to enrich the discipline of geography It engages with the recent spatial turn in the social sciences which has reclaimed the explanatory power of space and place in social theory that had been nearly lost to deconstructive postmodernist scholarship The volume draws entirely from the Indian scholarship showcasing contextualised knowledge production but hopes to initiate a a dialogue with scholars elsewhere working with feminist methodologies
