   Inventing Atlantic Canada Corey James Arthur Slumkoski,2011-01-01 When Newfoundland entered the Canadian Confederation in 1949 it was hoped it would promote greater unity between the Maritime provinces as Term 29 of the Newfoundland Act explicitly linked the region s economic and political fortunes On the surface the union seemed like an unprecedented opportunity to resurrect the regional spirit of the Maritime Rights movement of the 1920s which advocated a cooperative approach to addressing regional underdevelopment However Newfoundland s arrival did little at first to bring about a comprehensive Atlantic Canadian regionalism Inventing Atlantic Canada is the first book to analyse the reaction of the Maritime provinces to Newfoundland s entry into Confederation Drawing on editorials government documents and political papers Corey Slumkoski examines how each Maritime province used the addition of a new provincial cousin to fight underdevelopment Slumkoski also details the rise of regional cooperation characterized by the Atlantic Revolution of the mid 1950s when Maritime leaders began to realize that by acting in isolation their situations would only worsen   Atlantic Canada's Irish Immigrants Lucille H. Campey,2016-08-06 A transformative work that explodes assumptions about the importance of the Great Irish Potato Famine to Irish immigration In this major study Lucille Campey traces the relocation of around ninety thousand Irish people to their new homes in Atlantic Canada She shatters the widespread misconception that the exodus was primarily driven by dire events in Ireland The Irish immigration saga is not solely about what happened during the Great Potato Famine of the 1840s it began a century earlier Although they faced great privations and had to overcome many obstacles the Irish actively sought the better life that Atlantic Canada offered Far from being helpless exiles lacking in ambition who went lemming like to wherever they were told to go the Irish grabbed their opportunities and prospered in their new home Campey gives these settlers a voice Using wide ranging documentary sources she provides new insights about why the Irish left and considers why they chose their various locations in Nova Scotia New Brunswick Prince Edward Island and Newfoundland She highlights how through their skills and energy they benefitted themselves and contributed much to the development of Atlantic Canada This is essential reading for anyone wishing to understand the history of the Irish exodus to North America and provides a mine of information useful to family historians   The Tenant League of Prince Edward Island, 1864-1867 Ian Ross Robertson,1996 Historical writing about the middle years of the 1860s in British North America has focused almost exclusively on the Confederation movement and the theme of nation building As a consequence scholars have largely overlooked one of the most successful extra parliamentary movements of common people in the history of North America which flourished in Prince Edward Island during those very years The Tenant League produced a highly compelling history in that it played a decisive role in undermining the leasehold system of land tenure that Britain had imposed a century earlier Through an exhaustive study of period documents Ian Ross Robertson examines the origins the modus operandi and the impact of this organization In doing so he has illuminated a rich part of Canadian history   Sailor's Hope Rusty Bittermann,2010 The story of an important figure in the history of pre Confederation Canada   Maritime Capital Eric W. Sager,Gerald E. Panting,1996 In this final volume of the Atlantic Canada Shipping Project Sager and Panting argue that the decline of the shipping industry was not as has commonly been assumed the inevitable result of the conversion from wood and sail to iron and steam They show that the merchant class in failing to maintain a merchant marine built and owned in their region contributed in no small way to the Maritimes present state of underdevelopment Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR   Acadiensis ,2004   CURRENT CONTENTS ,1997   International Books in Print ,1990   Technology and Culture ,1996   The Mariner's Mirror Bibliography for ... ,2000   Canadian Books in Print ,2001   Canadian Books in Print.
