Ships of War Edward J. Reed, Edward Simpson, J. D. Jerrold Kelley, 2012-08

The dawn of the modern warship. This interesting illustrated work concerns the considerable variety of ships of war that were designed and launched during the latter part of the nineteenth century. The author takes as his starting point the era of the American Civil War and the time of the emergence of Monitors, ironclads, early submersibles, and indeed the coming of powered ships, which would shortly consign the age of naval sail to history. In warfare, there can be no room for sentiment, since every nation must be able to bring armaments to bear equal at least to any potential enemy. So on the oceans, just as it was with land armies, the navies of the world raced into the industrial age and machine-powered warfare. The new vessels adopted a host of innovations in construction, capability, function, weaponry, and ordnance and quickly replaced famous fighting ships of sail and a mode of fighting that had endured for centuries. This overview covers the period up to 1887 and examines the warships of the world's navies. The expansive text is supported by many line drawings of the vessels described, as well as technical and cross-section drawings. A number of statistical charts are also included, making this an indispensable reference work for all those interested in naval warfare during the second half of the 19th century. Leonaur editions are newly typeset and are not facsimiles; each title is available in softcover and hardback with dustjacket; our hardbacks are cloth bound and feature gold foil lettering on their spines and fabric head and tail bands.

Ships, Salvage, and Sinews of War Worrall Reed Carter,Elmer Ellsworth Duvall,1954 US Standard-type Battleships 1941-45 (1) Mark Stille,2015-03-20 Written by US Navy expert Mark Stille this book offers a unique insight into the Standard type classes of US battleships It provides a detailed investigation into the histories of each of the warships in the Standard type battleship classes the first three of which the Nevada Pennsylvania and New Mexico formed the US Navy s main force in the inter war period The Standard types reflected a new design philosophy by designing each class to meet common standards of maneuverability and handling vessels of different classes could operate as a single tactical unit without being limited by the performance of the slowest and least maneuverable ship At the time of their construction these ships incorporated the latest design features such as triple gun turrets Although they were rendered increasingly obsolete by evolving naval doctrines and the ascendancy of the fast battleship they served with distinction throughout World War II This study combines analysis of design features and an absorbing narrative of operational histories to offer a comprehensive picture of the Standard type battleships from the brutal destruction of the USS Arizona to the triumphant occupation of Japan
