Shoot for the stars. You may not get the stars-but
you may get the moon.
