Shooting The Hippo Death By Deficit And Other Canadian Myths:

Shooting the Hippo Linda McQuaig,1995 Gender in the Legal Profession Joan Brockman,2001 An analysis of the causes and implications of the gendered structure of the legal profession in Canada and elsewhere The author concludes that until there is significant change in how women are perceived in relation to domestic duties it is unlikely that they will attain equality within the legal profession Political And Economic Determinants of Population Health and Well-Being:

Vincente Navarro,Caries Muntaner,2020-11-26 The field of social inequalities in health continues its vigorous growth in the early years of the 21st century This volume following in the footsteps of Vicente Navarro s edited collection The Political Economy of Social Inequalities is a compilation of recent contributions to the areas of social epidemiology health disparities health economics and health services research The overarching theme is to describe and explain the evergrowing health inequalities across social class race and gender as well as neighborhood city region country and continent The approach of this book is distinctly multi trans and interdisciplinary the fields of public health population health epidemiology economics sociology political science philosophy medicine and history are all represented here Governing Education Benjamin

Levin,2005-01-01 Levin s unique combination of informed analysis with real stories of real events told by participants provides an incisive exploration of government in action Who is Afraid of the State? Gordon S. Smith,Gordon Scott Smith,Daniel Wolfish,2001-01-01 The essays in this collection argue that contrary to some private sector populists the state is in the best position to lead in making policy in a rapidly changing world and should retain and refine this responsibility

Rising Up Bryan Evans,Carlo Fanelli,Tom McDowell,2021-02-15 Canada has one of the highest rates of low wage work among advanced industrial economies In a labour market characterized by the ongoing fallout from COVID 19 deepening income inequality job instability and diluted union representation the living wage movement offers a response Rising Up traces the history and international context of living wage movements across Canada In the 1970s the balance of political and economic power began to shift in favour of business as trade unions weakened and governments failed to check corporate power By the 2000s austerity measures had dismantled social spending facilitating the growth of low waged employment Contributors to this astute collection of essays examine union and community based approaches to labour organizing migrant labour and media mis representations among other key topics Offering stimulating debate about living wages and social inequality Rising Up promotes alternatives to a neoliberalized labour market Not the Whole Story Lea Caragata,Judit Alcalde,2014-04-18 Not the Whole Story is a compilation of sixteen stories narrated by single mothers in their own way and about their own lives Each story is unique but the same issues appear again and again Abuse parenting as single mothers challenges in the labour market mental health and addictions issues a scarcity of quality childcare immigration and status vulnerability struggles with custody and poverty these factors combined with a lack of support contribute to their continued struggles The themes that recur across stories illustrate that the issues the women face are not just about individual struggle they demonstrate that major issues in Canada's social system have been neglected in public policy. In order for these issues to be addressed we need to challenge the flawed public policies and the negative discourse that continue to marginalize single mothers in terms of the opportunities in their own lives and in terms of how they are understood by other Canadians. The first person narratives of the struggles and issues faced by low income single mothers provide narrative richness and are augmented by introductory and concluding chapters that draw the narrative themes together and offer overarching discussion and analysis.

War, Big Oil and the Fight for the Planet Linda

McQuaig, 2011-12-14 National bestseller It's the Crude Dude is back with a slick new title and updated material. In War Big Oil and the Fight for the Planet McQuaig focuses on a truly planetary issue: the cataclysmic effects our addiction to oil is having on our environment and our ability to co-exist in the world. McQuaig's research, analysis and eye for detail combine to produce a riveting tale about the battle over oil that shapes our times and will determine our future. Readers of all political stripes will find this book provocative, timely and impossible to put down.

Building A Better World, 4th Edition Stephanie Ross, Larry Savage, 2023-01-03T00:00:00Z This fourth edition of Building a Better World offers a comprehensive introductory overview of Canada's labour movement. The book explores why workers form unions, assesses their organization and democratic potential, examines issues related to collective bargaining, grievances and strike activity, charts the historical development of labour unions and describes the gains unions have achieved for their members and all working people. This new and expanded edition also analyzes the challenges facing today's labour movement as a result of COVID-19 and the strategies being developed to overcome them.

Unequal Freedoms John McMurtry, 1998-01-01 Published Under the Garamond Imprint The intelligent citizen's complete guide to the theory and practice of the global market.

Honest Politics Now Ian Greene, David P. Shugarman, 2017-05-15 There have been enormous changes in Canadian public life in the past two decades. More and more politicians and officials are expected to act honestly and in the public interest. Yet for many, honest politics is still an oxymoron. Using high profile political scandals as case studies, this book explores the standards of accountability to which Canadian politicians are now being held. The authors discuss conflict of interest and abuse of trust cases such as Brian Mulroney's receipt at secret meetings of envelopes stuffed with thousand dollar bills, the gas plant scandal in Ontario, Allison Redford's self-serving authorizations of spending in Alberta, Mike Duffy and the Senate expenses scandal, party financing cases such as the Robocalls affair, dirty hands examples such as the sponsorship scandal and the Arrar affair, the cash for access controversy surrounding Justin Trudeau's fundraisers and municipal issues including the sagas of Rob Ford and Hazel McCallion. Canada is a leader among countries promoting ethical politics in a democratic society. In this book, expert authors from across the country discuss the strengths and weaknesses of measures now in place and point to the most important challenges that remain before Canadians can believe that honesty prevails in public life.

Intellectual Citizenship and the Problem of Incarnation Peter Eglin, 2012-11-08 Who has the right to know asks Jean

Francois Lyotard Who has the right to eat asks Peter Madaka Wanyama This book asks what does it mean to be a responsible academic in a northern university given the incarnate connections between the university's operations and death and suffering elsewhere Through studies of the neoliberal university in Ontario the imperial university in relation to East Timor the chauvinist university in relation to El Salvador and the gendered university in relation to the Montreal Massacre the author challenges himself and the reader to practice intellectual citizenship everywhere from the classroom to the university commons to the street Peter Eglin argues that the moral imperative to do so derives from the concept of incarnation Here the idea of incarnation is removed from its Christian context and replaced with a political economic interpretation of the embodiment of exploited labor This embodiment is presented through the material goods that link the many's compromised right to eat with the privileged few's right to know Contingent Work, Disrupted Lives Belinda Leach, Anthony Winson, 2002-11-23 Contingent Work Disrupted Lives examines the repercussions of economic globalization on several manufacturing dependent rural communities in Canada Foregrounding a distinct interest in the grassroots effects of such contemporary corporate strategies as plant closures and downsizing authors Anthony Winson and Belinda Leach consider the impact of this restructuring on the residents of various communities The authors argue that the new rural economy involves a fundamental shift in the stability and security of people's lives and ultimately it causes wrenching change and an arduous struggle as rural dwellers struggle to rebuild their lives in the new economic terrain Beginning with broader theoretical and empirical literature on global changes in the economy and the effects of these changes on labour the text then focuses exploration on manufacturing in Ontario with an analysis of five community case studies Winson and Leach give considerable attention to the testimony of numerous residents they report on in depth interviews with key respondents and blue collar workers in five separate communities ranging from diverse manufacturing towns to single industry settlements The result is an intimate contextual knowledge of the workers' lives and their attempts to adapt to the tumultuous economic terrain of 1990s rural Canada Winner of the John Porter Prize for 2003 awarded by the Canadian Sociology and Anthropology Association Unfinished Dreams Wayne Werry, 1998-01-01 Anthropologist Wayne Werry argues that self government can be realized only when individuals are secure in their cultural identity and can contribute to the transformation of their communities Werry's notion of community healing involves efforts to rebuild the human foundations for self governing Aboriginal societies He uses case studies to illustrate the processes that are essential to self government Building a Better World, 3rd Edition Stephanie Ross, Larry Savage, Errol Black, Jim Silver, 2020-05-27T00:00:00Z This third edition of Building a Better World offers a comprehensive introductory overview of Canada's labour movement The book includes an analysis of why workers form unions assesses their organization and democratic potential examines issues related to collective bargaining grievances and strike activity charts the historical development of labour unions and describes the gains unions have achieved for their members and all working people Lies the Media Tell Us James P. Winter, 2007 More disinformation and misinformation as perceived bad news threatens to disturb domestic tranquility Tax Is Not a Four-Letter Word Alex Himelfarb, Jordan Himelfarb, 2013-11-08 Taxes connect us to one another to the common good and to the future This is a book about taxes who pays what and who gets what More than that it s about the role of government about citizenship and our collective well being about the Canada we want The contributors leading Canadian practitioners and scholars explore how taxes have become a political no go zone and how changes in taxation are changing Canada They challenge the view that any tax is a bad tax and provide broad directions for fairer and smarter approaches This is a book that will be of interest to anyone concerned with public policy and public affairs economics and political science and to anyone interested in challenging the conventional wisdom that lower taxes and smaller government are the cures to what ails us Whose Brave New World? Heather Menzies, 1996 In this passionate and down to earth book Heather Menzies one of Canada s leading writers on technology and society steers us through the jargon of the Information Highway globalization and the Internet to grasp the moral and political issues at stake in the Brave New World of the new economy Menzies offers positive suggestions for reviving public debate and for a democratic renegotiation of the new economy and the Information Highway Canadian Newspaper Ownership in the Era of Convergence Walter C. Soderlund, Kai Hildebrandt, 2005-06 Canadian Newspaper Ownership in the Era of Convergence investigates the current state of Canada s newspaper industry in light of recent developments increasing concentration of ownership multi media convergence and controversy over the actions of proprietors Case studies examine how Conrad Black s acquisition of newspapers in the mid 1990s bringing his total ownership to over half of the country s dailies followed by the subsequent purchase of the most important of these by CanWest Global has actually influenced the content of newspapers Canadian Newspaper Ownership revisits social responsibility in the context of the changed media landscape as a means of prescribing how newspaper owners and employees might conduct themselves in the public interest Crossing the Atlantic Patrick M. Crowley, 2017-11-30 Given the legal political economic and social similarities that exist comparisons between the European Union EU and Canada can prove instructive This volume introduces the rationale for comparing Canada and the EU and reviews the political initiatives that have been undertaken to forge links between the two Taking the political and economic structure used by the EU it compares this structure to the Canadian model at both the federal supranational level and the local government level Using various disciplinary approaches and case studies specific policy areas are used to illustrate these comparisons and several of the papers in the collection extend these comparisons to the NAFTA level A highly useful reference tool Crossing the Atlantic will intrigue and inform an interdisciplinary and inter regional studies audience
