Shopping in Space Elizabeth Young, Graham Caveney, 1992 A selection of literary criticism and cultural commentary that provides a broad assessment of the American brat pack writers such as Jay McInerney Bret Easton Ellis and Tama Janowitz authors who have had commercial success but whose output is often dismissed as shallow Shopping in Space Elizabeth Young, Graham Caveney, 1993 A combination of cultural analysis and literary criticism that reveals such books as Jay McInerney's Bright lights big city and Bret Easton Ellis's Less than zero to be illuminating critiques not merely products of a society shaped by consumer capitalism and media saturation Bret Easton Ellis's Controversial Fiction Sonia Baelo-Allué, 2011-06-23 Blank Fictions James Annesley, 1998 In this challenging book the author identifies the principle features of this new genre and interprets them as responses to modern society A Companion to Twentieth-Century United States Fiction David Seed, 2010-01-21 Through a wide ranging series of essays and relevant readings A Companion to Twentieth Century United States Fiction presents an overview of American fiction published since the conclusion of the First World War Features a wide ranging series of essays by American British and European specialists in a variety of literary fields Written in an approachable and accessible style Covers both classic literary figures and contemporary novelists Provides extensive suggestions for further reading at the end of each essay Liberalism and American Literature in the Clinton Era Ryan M. Brooks, 2022-06-30 Liberalism and American Literature in the Clinton Era argues that a new post postmodern aesthetic emerges in the 1990s as a group of American writers including Mary Gaitskill George Saunders Richard Powers Karen Tei Yamashita and others grapples with the political triumph of free market ideology The book shows how these writers resist the anti social qualities of this frantic right wing shift while still performing its essential gesture the personalization of otherwise irreducible social antagonisms Thus we see these writers reinvent political struggles as differences in values and emotions in fictions that explore non antagonistic social forms like families communities and networks Situating these formally innovative fictions in the context of the controversies that have defined this rightward shift including debates over free trade welfare reform and family values Brooks details how American writers and politicians have reinvented liberalism for the age of pro capitalist consensus Enter at Your Own Risk Leora Lev, 2006 Dennis Cooper has been both praised and censured as the most controversial writer working today for his creation of a searing outlaw textuality that charts psychosexual terrain uncensored by desire police This volume is the first to explore Cooper's significance as a pioneering literary artist who illuminates the hidden or repressed extremities of the fin de millennium American zeitgeist Leora Lev has assembled a roster of internationally acclaimed scholars fiction writers filmmakers and artists who conjure a provocative encounter between Cooper's fiction European transgressive literature and philosophy e.g. Sade Rimbaud Bataille Bresson and American psychocultural topographies New York Fictions Peter Brooker, 2017-09-08 In this original study Peter Brooker takes issue with the simplified opposition of postmodernism to modernism in accounts of the modern period Instead he follows the course of modernity in the spectacular example of New York to reveal the complexities of both modernist and postmodern responses to the city Brooker's study refers us to the fiction of Doctorow Don DeLillo and Toni Morrison and especially to the new urban ethnic writing Here the voice of creative dissent and cultural hybridity expresses the best in a tradition of American newness this Peter Brooker calls the new modern The text is an important contribution to contemporary debates on modernism and postmodernism providing a thorough interdisciplinary study of new American writing within the socio economic context of New York City and will be of great interest to students of American Studies Cultural Studies and Literature Representing and Imagining America Philip John Davies, 2019-06-01 The international authors of this book open a range of windows on our study of the USA

American Culture in the 1980s Graham Thompson, 2007-03-13 This book looks beyond the common label of Ronald Reagan's America to chart the complex intersection of cultures in the 1980s. In doing so it provides an insightful account of the major cultural forms of 1980s America: literature and drama, film and television, music and performance art and photography, and influential texts and trends of the decade from White Noise to Wall Street, from Silicon Valley to MTV and from Madonna to Cindy Sherman. A focused chapter considers the changing dynamics of American culture in an increasingly globalised marketplace.

Bret Easton Ellis Naomi Mandel, 2011-01-20 Collection of new critical essays on Bret Easton Ellis focusing on his later novels American Psycho 1991, Glamorama 1999 and Lunar Park 2005. Masculinity in Contemporary New York Fiction

Peter Ferry, 2014-08-21 Masculinity in Contemporary New York Fiction is an interdisciplinary study that presents masculinity as a key thematic concern in contemporary New York fiction. This study argues that New York authors do not simply depict masculinity as a social and historical construction but seek to challenge the archetypal ideals of masculinity by writing counter-hegemonic narratives. Gendering canonical New York writers namely Paul Auster, Bret Easton Ellis and Don DeLillo illustrates how explorations of masculinity are tied into the principal themes that have defined the American novel from its very beginning. The themes that feature in this study include the role of the novel in American society, the individual and urban society, the journey from innocence to awareness of masculinity, the archetypal image of the absent and/or patriarchal father, the impact of homosocial relations on the everyday performance of masculinity, male sexuality and the male individual and globalization. What connects these contemporary New York writers is their employment of the one of the great figures in the history of literature, the flâneur. These authors take the flâneur from the shadows of the Manhattan streets and elevate this figure to the role of self-reflexive agent of male subjectivity through which they write counter-hegemonic narratives of masculinity. This book is an essential reference for those with an interest in gender studies and contemporary American fiction.

Dennis Cooper Paul Hegarty, Danny Kennedy, 2012 Dennis Cooper's writing has acquired a ferocious reputation for its bold experimentation, its transgressive content and its emotional content which is both Romantic and touching whilst cold and hard edged. For over twenty years Cooper has explored the boundaries of human living and sexuality's centrality to that living. The extreme situations he develops in his writing bring out parts of gay experience that a consensual community often shies away from, likewise the heterosexual mainstream. His most important genre is undoubtedly fiction but Cooper has also written poetry, large quantities of journalistic works notably for Artforum and Spin and recently has had great success and recognition with theatrical works. The book enters deep into the worlds Cooper fabricates and into the coolness of his expression. This challenging work is addressed by a group of mostly young and new critical writers and academics who provide creative responses to Cooper's artistry. The contributions which cover the breadth of Cooper's work develop themes and devices that advance his profound and disturbing world view. In addition to the artistic responses, the topics in the critical pieces range from sexuality in the suburbs to neurological responses to the work via the limits and possibilities of bodies. Others look at the implications of contemporary electronic communication as outlined in Cooper's recent work or the use of space Cooper's writing receives a multi-faceted contextualisation and his literary ideas are made accessible to any reader interested in learning why Cooper is today regarded as one of the foremost writers in expressing the psychological point behind the centrality of sexual expression Star Authors Joe Moran, 2000-02-20 In America authors are as likely to be seen on television talk shows or magazine covers as in the more traditional settings of literary festivals or book signings Is this literary celebrity just another result of dumbing down Yet another example of the mass media turning everything into entertainment Or is it a much more unstable complex phenomenon And what does the American experience tell us about the future of British literary celebrity In Star Authors Joe Moran shows how publishers the media and authors themselves create and disseminate literary celebrity He looks at such famous contemporary authors as Toni Morrison J D Salinger Thomas Pynchon Don DeLillo John Updike Philip Roth Kathy Acker Nicholson Baker Paul Auster and Jay McInerney Through an examination of their own work biographical information media representations and promotional material Moran illustrates the nature of modern literary celebrity He argues that authors actively negotiate their own celebrity rather than simply having it imposed upon them from reclusive authors such as Salinger and Pynchon famed for their very lack of public engagement to media friendly authors such as Updike and McInerney Star Authors analyses literary celebrity in the context of the historical links between literature advertising and publicity in America the economics of literary production and the cultural capital involved in the marketing and consumption of books and authors

Encyclopedia of Contemporary Writers and Their Work Geoff Hamilton, Brian Jones, 2015-04-22 Presents an alphabetical reference guide detailing the lives and works of authors associated with the English language fiction of the twentieth and twenty first centuries Bret Easton Ellis's American Psycho Julian Murphet, 2002-01-11 This is part of a new series of guides to contemporary novels The aim of the series is to give readers accessible and informative introductions to some of the most popular most acclaimed and most influential novels of recent years from The Remains of the Day to White Teeth A team of contemporary fiction scholars from both sides of the Atlantic has been assembled to provide a thorough and readable analysis of each of the novels in question Eighties People Kevin L. Ferguson, 2016-05-01 Through an examination of 1980s America cultural texts and media Kevin L Ferguson examines how new types of individuals were created in order to manage otherwise hidden cultural anxieties during the American 1980s Exploring a variety of strategies for fashioning self knowledge in the decade this book illuminates the hidden lives of surrogate mothers crack babies persons with AIDS yuppies and brat packers These seemingly simple stereotypes in fact concealed deeper cultural changes in issues relating to race class and gender Through a range of texts Eighties People shows how the commonplace reading of the 1980s as a superficial period of little importance disguises the decade's real imperative a struggle for self definition outside of the limited set of options given by postmodern theorizing Bret Easton Ellis G. Colby, 2011-08-15 This book reads the whole of Bret Easton Ellis's oeuvre to date from Less Than Zero to Imperial Bedrooms and asks to what extent Ellis's novels can be read as critiquing the cultural moments of which they are a part Ellis s work can be thought of as an enactment of a process of underwriting contemporary culture which offers new paths of understanding and ways of critiquing the contemporary author s place in the relations of production
