Anderson,2005

This is a reader's guide to Conrad's novel Heart of Darkness as art not as a page turner but as art. As he has done with other works of Conrad, Anderson traces Conrad's art in a line-by-line analysis of most of this short novel. Anderson traces the unifying theme of the novel to Nietzsche's ideas in The Birth of Tragedy. Nietzsche interpreted ancient Greek tragedy as a reflection of Dionysian and Apollinian life experiences of the Greek audience. Apollo was a Greek god of the higher orders of civilization and the civilized restraint and control that is necessary for getting along with others. Dionysus, on the other hand, was a god of nature and fertility and is associated with unrestrained orgiastic worship. This author shows how Conrad used the contrast between the Apollinian and Dionysian to structure the form and content of the novel, how the contrast holds together the important artistic decisions made by Conrad, how Conrad mirrored the rebirth of ancient Greek tragedy as the Congo tragedy, the rape of the Congo by Europeans in the late 19th century, and how this could have happened, how the psyches of the Europeans unraveled in the Congo jungle. In Conrad's rendition, the unrestrained competitive and hostile Dionysian life forces at the heart of nature not only power the teeming jungle but also lurk in the inherited instincts of mankind. The European search for ivory in the Congo brought these primitive instincts to the surface out of their holes like serpents with venom of a mixture of desire and hate. The high ground of the novel is an irony: in the Congo, clothes do not make the man. The European exploiters, dressed in the very proper tropical whites, are savage in behavior, while naked man-eaters are restrained in behavior. As with Nietzsche before him, Conrad's approach anticipated central doctrines of Freud and Jung. Conrad's use of Nietzschean elements gives many modern readers a sense of dread or uneasiness, suggesting that the Nietzschean elements jostle important structures in our unconscious.

Journal of the Royal Horticultural Society Royal Horticultural Society (Great Britain), 1908. Vols for 1846-55 include Proceedings at meetings of the society. A Concordance to Conrad's Nostromo James W. Parins, Robert J. Dilligan, Todd K. Bender, 2020-04-30. Originally published in 1984, this volume follows others in the series. By looking up a word in the word frequency table, the user can find how often it occurs in the text. The verbal index indicates at what page and line the word occurs so that the user can turn to the field of reference to see the word in each of its contexts. This volume is part of a series which produced verbal indexes, concordances, and related data for all of Conrad's works.

Green Garry Marianne Kirlaw, 1898. Green Modernism Jeffrey Mathes McCarthy, 2016-04-08. One of the first studies to explore the relationship between environmental criticism and British modernism, Green Modernism explores the cultural function of nature in the modernist novel between 1900 and 1930. This theoretically engaged, historically informed book brings new materialist insights to novels by Conrad, Ford, Lawrence, and Butts.

Conrad's Angel Stuart Slade, 2018-10-05. Conrad de Llorente, Inquisitor. A soul eternally damned. After centuries tormented by guilt, Conrad's work saving the innocent finally won him a measure of peace, and at least some of the redemption he craves. Now respected by his peers, he lives in Bangkok and carries on his work protecting those unjustly condemned and who have nowhere else to turn. It is here that he faces his greatest ever challenge: a young woman who survived a horrifying attack as a child and has now become a career criminal Conrad faces a new and unprecedented challenge Knowing that Angel was betrayed by her family and believing his Church was responsible for the path her life has taken he feels obliged to try and save her soul Yet how does he go about saving somebody who does not want to be saved and redeeming a soul that spurns redemption Driven by the principle of hating the sin but loving the sinner Conrad accepts this new challenge and is determined to save Angel s soul if necessary at cost of his own
