Homestead, 2021-03-02 A groundbreaking new look at American novelist Willa Cather's creative process What would Willa Cather's widely read and cherished novels have looked like if she had never met magazine editor and copywriter Edith Lewis In this groundbreaking book on Cather's relationship with her life partner author Melissa J Homestead counters the established portrayal of Cather as a solitary genius and reassesses the role that Lewis who has so far been rendered largely invisible by scholars played in shaping Cather's work Inviting Lewis to share the spotlight alongside this pivotal American writer Homestead argues that Lewis was not just Cather's companion but also her close literary collaborator and editor Drawing on an array of previously unpublished sources Homestead skillfully reconstructs Cather and Lewis's life together from their time in New York City to their travels in the American Southwest that formed the basis of the novels The Professor's House and Death Comes for the Archbishop. After Cather's death and in the midst of the Cold War panic over homosexuality the story of her life with Edith Lewis could not be told but by telling it now Homestead offers a refreshing take on lesbian life in early twentieth century America

The History of Modern Korean Fiction (1890-1945) Young Min Kim, 2020-11-09 This book explores the history of modern Korean literature from a sociocultural perspective Rather than focusing solely on specific authors and their works Young Min Kim argues that the development of modern media shifting conceptualizations of the author and a growing mass readership fundamentally shaped the types of narratives that appeared at the turn of the twentieth century In particular Kim follows the trajectory of the sin sosol new fiction as it meshed with the new print and media culture to give rise to innovative and hybrid genres and literary styles In doing so he compellingly illuminates the relationship between literary systems and forms and underscores the necessity of re locating literary texts in their sociohistorical contexts

Write with Fire Charles Allen Gramlich, 2009-07-01 This guide to writing fiction is divided into three sections Part One deals with the mechanics of writing How do you get ideas and shepherd them through the writing and editing process into finished and publishable form Where do you look for markets Part Two consists of more general articles about writing and writers Part Three includes pieces that are more personal to the author's own history as a writer A bibliography of suggested reading completes the guide Page 4 of cover
