The Landscape of Reform Ben A. Minteer, 2006 In The Landscape of Reform Ben Minteer offers a fresh and provocative reading of the intellectual foundations of American environmentalism focusing on the work and legacy of four important conservation and planning thinkers in the first half of the twentieth century Liberty Hyde Bailey a forgotten figure in the Progressive conservation movement urban and regional planning theorist Lewis Mumford Benton MacKaye the forester and conservationist who proposed the Appalachian Trail in the 1920s and Aldo Leopold author of the environmentalist classic A Sand County Almanac Minteer argues that these writers blazed a significant third way in environmental ethics and practice a more pragmatic approach that offers a counterpoint to the anthropocentrism versus ecocentrism use versus preservation narrative that has long dominated discussions of the development of American environmental thought Minteer shows that the environmentalism of Bailey Mumford MacKaye and Leopold was also part of a larger moral and political program one that included efforts to revitalize democratic citizenship conserve regional culture and community identity and reclaim a broader understanding of the public interest that went beyond economics and materialism Their environmental thought was an attempt to critique and at the same time reform American society and political culture Minteer explores the work of these four environmental reformers and considers two present day manifestations of an environmental third way Natural Systems Agriculture an alternative to chemical and energy intensive industrial agriculture and New Urbanism an attempt to combat the negative effects of suburban sprawl By rediscovering the pragmatic roots of American environmentalism writes Minter we can help bring about a new civic minded environmentalism today

Organizing the Green World: A Conceptual History of Botanical Classification Tod F. Stuessy, 2025-09-02 This book focuses on plant systematics and evolution with special interest on the history and philosophy of botanical classification Tracing the history of how humans have dealt with ordering the plant world is very much a glimpse of how human culture and science have progressed over the past 2000 years The objective in this book is to present ideas on plant classification beginning with classical Greek and Roman scholars through the Middle Ages into the Renaissance and finally to the modern 21st century Significant quantitative methods in classification have originated within the past 70 years which have never before been integrated with previous historical perspectives Most textbooks of systematic botany contain an historical introduction or perhaps a chapter on the history of classification but this book presents much greater detail on the classifications themselves and the cultural dimensions of the different time periods Biographical detail is also provided to give a better appreciation of the individual botanists who have contributed new ideas in the search for maximally predictive systems
