Transfigurations Asbjørn Grønstad, 2008 In many senses viewers have cut their teeth on the violence in American cinema from Anthony Perkins slashing Janet Leigh in the most infamous of shower scenes to the 1970s masterpieces of Martin Scorsese Sam Peckinpah and Francis Ford Coppola to our present day undertakings in imagining global annihilations through terrorism war and alien grudges Transfigurations brings our cultural obsession with film violence into a renewed dialogue with contemporary theory Grønstad argues that the use of violence in Hollywood films should be understood semiotically rather than viewed realistically Transfigurations thus alters both our methodology of reading violence in films and the meanings we assign to them depicting violence not as a self contained incident but as a convoluted network of our own cultural ideologies and beliefs

Sensory Writing for Stage and Screen Michael Wright, 2015-09-05 Through a series of systematic explorations across a wide range of scenarios Sensory Writing for Stage and Screen offers script writers exercises for attending to their own sensory experiences as a means to exploring the sensory experiences and worlds of the characters they create

The Understructure of Writing for Film and Television Ben Brady, Lance Lee, 2010-06-28 This unique comprehensive introduction to screenwriting offers practical advice for the beginning writer whether college student or freelancer Based on their experience as professional writers and as teachers in a large successful screenwriting program at California State University Northridge the authors provide a progression of assignments at manageable screenwriting lengths for beginners They lead students through development of a premise treatment stepsheet and finally miniscreenplay essential elements in writing a longer script A major feature of the text is the use of many example scenes from contemporary and classic American films such as On the Waterfront Kramer vs Kramer The Godfather The Graduate Tootsie and more Other scenes are drawn from international films and dramatic literature The criticism of these scenes invites students to develop their own comparative models while simultaneously providing exposure to the central analytical terms of good dramatic writing The authors also place screenwriting within the larger tradition of dramatic writing in order to put the beginning writer in touch with the wealth of art experience and practical ideas the drama contains They provide an up to date practical discussion of marketing and copywriting a screenplay with addresses of relevant professional societies Most importantly they never offer an ill advised shortcut or restrict students to only one way of thinking about a character situation or scene In The Understructure of Writing for Film Television the student s thought and creativity are central
