My Soul Looks Back James H. Cone, 1986 What is the relationship James Cone asks between my training as a theologian and the black struggle for freedom For what reason has God allowed a poor black boy from Bearden to become a professional systematic theologian As I struggled with these questions I could not escape the overwhelming conviction that God's spirit was calling me to do what I could for the enhancement of justice in the world especially on behalf of my people My Soul Looks Back chronicles the author's grappling with these questions as well as his formulation of an answer an answer that would lead to the development of a black theology of liberation Firmly rooted in the black church tradition James Cone relates the formative features of his faith journey from his childhood experience in Bearden Arkansas and his father's steadfast resistance to racism through racial discrimination in graduate school to his controversial articulation of a faith that seeks to break the shackles of racial oppression In describing his more recent encounters with feminist Marxist and Third World thinkers James Cone provides a compelling description of liberation theology and a vivid portrayal of what it means to profess a faith that does justice Back cover
