background has been depicted the author himself is focused His ambiguous character and non persistent lifestyle are the source of many themes which can be retrieved from his works Thus understanding the man behind the stories is necessary in order to analyze the tales themselves Seclusion nature and Puritanism are constantly recurring topics in the author s life and work To become familiar with Hawthorne s relation to nature his ancestors and religion it is essential to understand the vast amount of symbols his stories His stories will be brought into focus and will be analyzed on the basis of the historical and biographical facts and further his particular style and purpose will be taken into consideration The second part of this book analyzes two of the author s most eminent and esteemed works namely Young Goodman Brown and The Scarlet Letter in terms of nature symbolism and the underlying moral intention Further it is examined to which extent the images correspond to the formerly explained historical facts and Hawthorne s emphasized characteristic features The comparison of the two works focuses on the didactic purpose for in all of his works Hawthorne s aim was to give a lesson Thus it will

Von Frank, 1991     Remodeling the Nation Duncan Faherty, 2007 In this interdisciplinary study Faherty argues that throughout the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries Americans conceptualized their still unsettled political and social states through metaphors of home building

During this period a pervasive concern with the design and furnishing of houses helped writers to manage previous encounters with settlements both native and European and to imagine and remodel a new national ideal. By aligning the period's architectural concerns registered in both the interior and exterior of houses with concurrent debates about the need to create a national identity in the wake of the American Revolution, Faherty registers how representations of the house were a crucial locus for debating broadly shared concerns about the anxieties of nation building. Topics include Abraham Lincoln's use of architectural motifs in his 1858 senatorial campaign, the house divided against itself speech, the arguments about domestic identity embodied in the designs of Mount Vernon and Monticello, the lingering import of colonial and indigenous settlements on post-revolutionary culture as registered in the work of William Bartram and Lewis and Clark, Charles Brockden Brown's representations of the multivalent legacies of Pennsylvania's architectural landscapes, Washington Irving's attempts to preserve and remodel national architectural and literary practices by underscoring the manufactured nature of European cultural production, the shifting importance of the house and American attitudes toward nature in the work of three generations of the Cooper family, and the gendering of domestic space in the work of Edgar Allan Poe, Nathaniel Hawthorne, and Herman Melville. Richly informed by contemporary work in literary studies, history, art history, and cultural criticism, Remodeling the Nation ranges incisively across the work of political theorists, social critics, novelists, poets, natural historians, landscape artists, travel writers, and authors of architectural and domestic treatises.

Collected Novels and Short Stories by Nathaniel Hawthorne (Complete and Unabridged) Including the Scarlet Letter, the House of the Seven Gables, the Blithedale Romance Nathaniel Hawthorne, 2013-04 Nathaniel Hawthorne is described as the Shakespeare of American Literature. His novels and stories are mostly set in Puritan New England and are often dark, exposing the psychological complexity and evil within humanity. His literature contains layers of allegory which deepen and enrich the stories. This book contains three novels and three collections of Hawthorne's short stories. The novels are The Scarlet Letter, features the first heroine in American literature, a woman shunned for adultery who draws on her inner strength and resolves unlike her male counterpoint who is divided and trapped by society. The House of the Seven Gables is a romance but not very romantic, a study of the residents of the house who are pitifully poor and their endeavours to survive. It is one of Hawthorne's few books with a happy ending. The Blithedale Romance features three people caught in a love triangle: Hollingsworth, the Puritan Zenobia, the suffragist and Priscilla, distant and aloof. A novel of depth and beauty and intrigue.
