Current Practice in Forensic Medicine, Volume 2 John A. M. Gall,Jason Payne-James,2016-09-26 Forensic medicine is a broad and evolving field with areas of rapid progress embracing both clinical and pathological aspects of practice in which there may be considerable overlap This is the second volume in a series that provides a unique in depth and critical update on selected topics of direct relevance to those practising in the field of clinical forensic medicine and related areas including lawyers police medical practitioners forensic scientists and students The chapters endeavour to maintain a relevance to an international multi professional audience and include chapters on DNA decontamination The toxicity of novel psychoactive substances The relevance of gastric contents in the timing of death The effects of controlled energy devices The main risk factors for driving impairment The risk factors for harm to health of detainees in short term custody Autoerotic deaths Child maltreatment and neglect and The investigation of potential non accidental head injury in children Also included are chapters on excited delirium syndrome automatism and personality disorders Two topics not generally covered in standard clinical forensic medical textbooks include a forensic anthropological approach to body recovery in potential crimes against humanity and risk management and security issues for the forensic practitioner investigating potential crimes against humanity in a foreign country

The Global Body Market Michele Goodwin,2013-05-27 Black and gray markets for body parts are illegal but also pioneering and inventive Although this type of criminal activity requires dexterity and innovation these markets thrive and flourish sometimes in view of law On the other hand altruistic procurement is mired by low participation which encourages black market transactions Thousands of patients die each year waiting for an organ or bone marrow donation through the altruistic procurement system so some turn to the dark side This book offers a frank discussion of altruism in the global body market It exposes how researchers exploit their patients ignorance to harvest tissue samples blood and other biologics without consent chronicles exploitation in the name of altruism including the non consensual use of children in dangerous clinical trials and analyzes social and legal commitments to the value of altruism offering an important critique of the vulnerability of altruism to corruption coercion pressure and other negative externalities
