Raising Hell The Rebel In The Movies:

Raising Hell Terence Pettigrew, 1986-01-01 Looks at the character of the rebel as portrayed by Hollywood from the thirties to the eighties describes the careers of actors associated with that type of role and discusses important films of each period
Rebel Without a Cause J. David Slocum, 2005-09-27 Five decades after the production and initial release of Rebel Without a Cause this book examines both the complicated historical moment in which the film was made as well as its continuing and pervasive influence on film today The contributors track how the film continues to speak to diverse audiences as a touchstone for imagined anxieties over adolescence and coming of age traditional values of family and community threats from abroad and the provocations of mass or consumer society Although the specific sources and motivations for rebellion have shifted what has persisted is the film's singular power to represent rebellion in what could otherwise be seen as the everyday and to move viewers to ponder its causes
When Frankie Went to Hollywood Karen McNally, 2015-04-20

This first in depth study of Frank Sinatra's film career explores his iconic status in relation to his many performances in postwar Hollywood cinema When Frankie Went to Hollywood considers how Sinatra's musical acts television appearances and public commentary impacted his screen performances in Pal Joey The Tender Trap Some Came Running The Man with the Golden Arm and other hits A lively discussion of sexuality class race ethnicity and male vulnerability in postwar American culture illuminates Karen McNally's investigation into Sinatra's cinematic roles and public persona This entertainment luminary she finds was central in shaping debates surrounding definitions of American male identity in the 1940s and 50s

Masked Men Steve Cohan, 1997-12-22 The fifties marks the moment when a heterosexual homosexual dualism came to dominate U S culture's thinking about masculinity The films of this era record how gender and sexuality did not easily come together in a normative manhood common to American men Instead these films demonstrate the widely held perception of a crises of masculinity Masked Men documents how movies of the fifties represented masculinity as a multiple masquerade Hollywood's star system positioned the male actor as a professional performer and as a body intended to solicit the erotic interest of male and female viewers alike Drawing on publicity poster art fan magazines and the popular press as a means of following the links between fifties stars their films and the social tensions of the period Cohan juxtaposes Hollywood's narratives of masculinity against the personae of leading men like Cary Grant Humphrey Bogart John Wayne Charlton Heston Yul Brynner William Holden Montgomery Clift Marlon Brando and Rock Hudson Masked Men focuses on the gender and sexual masquerades that organized their performances of masculinity on and off screen

1950s Martin Halliwell, 2007-03-13 This book provides a stimulating account of the dominant cultural forms of 1950s America fiction and poetry theatre and performance film and television music and radio and the visual arts Through detailed commentary and focused case studies of influential texts and events from Invisible Man to West Side Story from Disneyland to the Seattle World's Fair from Rear Window to The Americans the book examines the way in which modernism and the cold war offer two frames of reference for understanding the trajectory of postwar culture The two core aims of this volume are to chart the changing complexion of American culture in the years following World War II and to provide readers with a critical investigation of the 1950s The book provides an intellectual context for approaching 1950s American culture and considers the historical impact of the decade on recent social and cultural developments Closely Watched Trains Marilyn Fabe, 2014-11-24 How do films work How do they tell a story How do they move us and make us think Through detailed examinations of passages from classic films Marilyn Fabe supplies the analytic tools and background in film history and theory to enable us to see more in every film we watch Ranging from D W Griffith's The Birth of a Nation to James Cameron's Avatar and ending with an epilogue on digital media Closely Watched Trains focuses on exemplary works of fourteen film directors whose careers together span the history of the narrative film Lively and down to earth this concise introduction provides a broad complete and yet specific picture of visual narrative techniques that will increase readers excitement about and knowledge of the possibilities of the film medium Shot by shot analyses of short passages from each film ground theory in concrete examples Fabe includes original and well informed discussions of Soviet montage realism and expressionism in film form classical and modern sound theory the classic Hollywood film Italian neorealism the French New Wave auteur theory modernism and postmodernism in film political cinema feminist film theory and practice and narrative experiments in new digital media Encompassing the earliest silent films as well as those that exploit the most recent technological innovations this book gives us the particulars of how film arguably the most influential of contemporary forms of representation constitutes our pleasure influences our thoughts and informs our daily reality Updated to include a discussion of 3 D and advanced special effects this tenth anniversary edition is an essential film studies text for students and professors alike Captured on Film Bruce Crowther, 1989 Prison has long fascinated film makers and audiences alike The author explores the dark enclosed world of prisons on film from light hearted comedies to the deeper implications of people imprisoned for their political and religious beliefs Dalton Trumbo, Hollywood Rebel Peter Hanson, 2015-08-13 As a screenwriter novelist and political activist Dalton Trumbo stands among the key American literary figures of the 20th century he wrote the classic antiwar novel Johnny Got His Gun and his credits for Spartacus and Exodus broke the anticommunist blacklist that infected the movie industry for more than a decade By defining connections between Trumbo's most highly acclaimed films including Kitty Foyle Thirty Seconds Over Tokyo and Roman Holiday and his important but lesser known movies The Remarkable Andrew He Ran All the Way and The Boss the author identifies how for nearly four decades Trumbo used the archetype of the rebel hero to inject social consciousness into mainstream films This new critical survey the first book length work on Trumbo s screenwriting career examines the scores of films on which Trumbo worked and explores the techniques that made him at the time he was blacklisted in 1947 Hollywood s highest paid writer Hanson reveals how Trumbo dealt with major themes including rebellion radical politics and individualism while also detailing lesser known areas of Trumbo s screenwriting such as his troubling portrayal of women the dichotomy between his proletarian attitude and bourgeois lifestyle and the almost surreptitious manner in which he included antiestablishment rhetoric in seemingly innocuous scripts An extensive filmography is included

Performing Illusions Dan R. North,2008 The camera supposedly never lies yet film s ability to frame cut and reconstruct all that passed before its lens made cinema the pre eminent medium of visual illusion and revelation from the early twentieth century onwards This volume examines film s creative history of special effects and trickery encompassing everything from George M li s first trick films to the modern CGI era Evaluating movements towards the use of computer generated synthespians in films such as Final Fantasy the Spirits Within 2001 this title suggests that cinematic effects should be understood not as attempts to perfectly mimic real life but as constructions of substitute realities situating them in the cultural lineage of the stage performers and illusionists and of the nineteenth century With analyses of films such as Destination Moon 1950 Spider Man 2002 and the King Kong films 1933 and 2006 this new volume provides an insight into cinema s capacity to perform illusions

An Accented Cinema Hamid Naficy,2018-06-05 In An Accented Cinema Hamid Naficy offers an engaging overview of an important trend the filmmaking of postcolonial Third World and other displaced individuals living in the West How their personal experiences of exile or diaspora translate into cinema is a key focus of Naficy s work Although the experience of expatriation varies greatly from one person to the next the films themselves exhibit stylistic similarities from their open and closed form aesthetics to their nostalgic and memory driven multilingual narratives and from their emphasis on political agency to their concern with identity and transgression of identity The author explores such features while considering the specific histories of individuals and groups that engender divergent experiences institutions and modes of cultural production and consumption Treating creativity as a social practice he demonstrates that the films are in dialogue not only with the home and host societies but also with audiences many of whom are also situated astride cultures and whose desires and fears the filmmakers wish to express Comparing these films to Hollywood films Naficy calls them accented Their accent results from the displacement of the filmmakers their alternative production modes and their style Accented cinema is an emerging genre one that requires new sets of viewing skills on the part of audiences Its significance continues to grow in terms of output stylistic variety cultural diversity and social impact This book offers the first comprehensive and global coverage of this genre while presenting a framework in which to understand its intricacies
