Ars Componendi Sermones Ranulf Higden, 2003 Ranulph Higden monk of St Werburgh's Abbey and well known author of the Polychronicon and other treatises penned a concise and user friendly Art of Preaching about 1346 His Ars componendi sermones follows a schematic common to many members of this genre and includes attributes desirable or necessary in the preacher methods for piquing an audience's interest the process of effective repetition and suggestions for creating rhythmic patterns in prose Its major focus however is the clear and comprehensive discussion of each thematic sermon part the theme or scriptural text its development in protheme and introduction its division subdivision and embellishment In structure and content Higden's prescriptive manual has affinities to contemporary rhetorical texts especially the artes poeticae and dictaminis and displays an analogous relationship with Ciceronian dispositio as developed in the De Inventione and Rhetorica ad Herennium A few of the many items of interest scattered throughout the text are Ranulph's insistence that preaching be separate from university exercises and his comments about various subjects like direct entry into heaven post mortem the scope of medieval optics what and who compose the church and the quadruple levels of scriptural exegesis

The Art of Preaching Siegfried Wenzel, 2013 Based on his wide ranging knowledge of late medieval Latin sermons from England as well as his editorial experience with medieval Latin texts Siegfried Wenzel offers critical editions of five instruction manuals on the art of preaching dating from 1230 to the fifteenth century Four of the texts are edited and translated for the first time the fifth is re edited from all extant manuscripts Each of the five sermons is accompanied by a facing page translation into English The book aims to stimulate interest and new research in a field that still awaits closer analysis of the relationships among existing treatises and of their historical development
