54 Soudias Jenifer Neils, 2025-01-30 Founded in 1881 the American School of Classical Studies at Athens is the oldest American overseas research institute It has hosted and trained hundreds of classical scholars and archaeologists and more recently expanded its mission to include Byzantine and later Greek history and culture This book compiled by the School's first female director in its 140 years traces for the first time the growing presence and prestige of this academic facility which sponsors the long term excavations of ancient Corinth and the Athenian Agora as well as one of the most important laboratories for archaeological science in Europe Migrations Alexandra Barratt, Stephanie Hollis, 2009-05-27 Over two hundred items are catalogued in Medieval and Renaissance Manuscripts in New Zealand Collections 1989 Most are in institutional collections and were donated by late nineteenth and early twentieth century book collectors notably Sir George Grey 1812-98 Governor and later Premier of New Zealand Having been transported across the globe the manuscripts have remained for the most part beyond the purview of northern hemisphere scholars The contributors to this interdisciplinary collection of essays include international experts such as Christopher de Hamel Richard Gameson Margaret Manion and Michael Orr curators of New Zealand manuscript collections New Zealand academics and a PhD student

Migrations has two main aims to lodge the Early European manuscripts in New Zealand within the international discourse of postcolonial heritage and to place them within the mainstream of manuscript studies by drawing attention to their intrinsic significance and their relationship with manuscripts held in overseas collections Part One focuses on the motives and historical circumstances underlying the formation of the principal collections and the subsequent changes in the ways that this heritage has been regarded Three of the essays centre upon the bibliophiles who donated their manuscripts to public libraries Others consider specific manuscripts as indices of changing attitudes to European particularly British cultural heritage National identity pedagogy and curatorial practices are among the issues canvassed Part Two consists of new scholarly studies of particular manuscripts which examine them in relation to the cultural and documentary context in which they were produced or transmitted Manuscripts studied include a twelfth century copy of music treatises by Boethius and Guido of Arezzo probably from Christ Church Canterbury a Perugian breviary owned by an Augustinian friar Antonio da Macerata a book of hours adapted for Scottish use the Rossdhu Hours and a fragment of an early fifteenth century book of hours produced by a London workshop and added to the Hours of Margery Fitzherbert Migrations is an imaginative and ambitious contribution to twenty first century manuscript studies Most notably the editors have invited manuscript scholars to address the issues raised by the manuscripts location New Zealand itself and its colonial history become tools for thinking with about dispersal about cultural memory about access about the meanings ascribed to artefacts The editors have assembled a distinguished group of scholars in order to produce a collection of essays that is a coherent whole and at the same time individually driven by the intellectual curiosity that is the true sign of distinction The book is a triumph Professor Felicity Riddy Deputy Vice Chancellor and Professor of English University of York This excellent book makes a major contribution to the study of medieval manuscript collections in New Zealand and will open up a little known area of extremely important material to an international audience The quality of the scholarship throughout the book is very high and the essays on the individual manuscripts present the material in the context of recent new approaches in the study of medieval and Early Modern manuscripts Nigel Morgan Hon Professor of Art History University of Cambridge Head of Research Parker Library MSS Project Corpus Christi College     Historical Collections Michigan State Historical Society,1886     A Directory of History of Medicine Collections ,1993     Report of the Assistant Director and of the Curators of the U.S. National Museum United States National Museum,1883     Report of the National Museum United States National Museum,1892     Encyclopedia of Library and Information Science Allen Kent,Harold Lancour,1970-11-01 The Encyclopedia of Library and Information Science provides an outstanding resource in 33 published volumes with 2 helpful indexes This thorough reference set written by 1300 eminent international experts offers librarians information computer scientists bibliographers documentalists systems analysts and students convenient access to the techniques and tools of both library and information science Impeccably researched cross referenced alphabetized by subject
