My Life / Inside Out Angelo R. Avila, Jr.,2013-02-26 My unstructured upbringing and cares to the wind attitude led to my frequent incarceration from childhood to adulthood it s a disturbing story which is primarily aimed at the adult reading audience who enjoy reading about reality situations and crime I have always been a reader and to a large extent that helped me become a self taught person Born on the banks of the Colorado River in Arizona and raised up in the Marcos De Niza barrio projects in South Phoenix I experienced the injustices of the cotton fields Maricopa County Juvenile Detention Home and Arizona State Industrial School at Fort Grant Arizona I wandered the desperate streets of Los Angeles and the forlorn railroad tracks alone like a lost person without a purpose in life I was locked up in the jails of Phoenix and Los Angeles before winding up in the California State penitentiary system Upon my release I struggled to stay out of the pen and took the jobs that society at large would never want to take Through numerous personal tragedies incarcerations and unfortunate circumstances I lost control of my life No one was ever able to change my destructive behavior The changes when they occurred came from within me when I could no longer cope with the situations I had cast my self into Looking back I can now see what I couldn t see during those hopeless time periods I was very fortunate to finally be able to leave that life behind me through relationships that believed in me and successfully worked and built myself a civil service work career from which I retired I now spend my days enjoying life s simple pleasures after all my previous tragic missteps My objective in life now is to become an accomplished writer American Rhapsody Joe Eszterhas,2001-03-13 If the Watergate scandal was a previous generation s National Nightmare then maybe the Clinton scandal was our National Wet Dream and who better to narrate it than the screenwriter Joe Eszterhas In American Rhapsody Eszterhas whose credits include Basic Instinct and Showgirls and Charlie Simpson s Apocalypse for which he was nominated for a National Book Award takes us through the events that threatened to topple a president and left most of the nation's citizens with at the very least a bad taste in their mouths. Taking full advantage of his considerable journalistic and storytelling talents, Eszterhas gives us every fact, rumor, or innuendo surrounding the president's foibles in the context of late century American politics and entertainment. Here Washington and Hollywood do more than just flirt with each other; they share the same bed. From scandal-mongers Matt Drudge, who began as a Hollywood gossip, and Ken Starr to would-be president paramours Sharon Stone and Barbra Streisand to his final, unimpeachable witness Willard, none other than President Clinton's talking penis, Eszterhas gives us the goods on the story that nobody could stop talking about, and thanks to American Rhapsody, will be impossible to think about the same way again.

Hollywood's Dirtiest Secret Hunter Vaughan, 2019-03-12 In an era when many businesses have come under scrutiny for their environmental impact, the film industry has for the most part escaped criticism and regulation. Its practices are more diffuse; its final product less tangible, and Hollywood has adopted public relations strategies that portray it as environmentally conscious. In Hollywood's Dirtiest Secret, Hunter Vaughan offers a new history of the movies from an environmental perspective, arguing that how we make and consume films has serious ecological consequences. Bringing together environmental humanities, science communication, and social ethics, Hollywood's Dirtiest Secret is a pathbreaking consideration of the film industry's environmental impact that examines how our cultural prioritization of spectacle has distracted us from its material consequences and natural resource use. Vaughan examines the environmental effects of filmmaking from Hollywood classics to the digital era, considering how popular screen media shapes and reflects our understanding of the natural world. He recounts the production histories of major blockbusters Gone with the Wind, Singin' in the Rain, Twister, and Avatar, situating them in the contexts of the development of the film industry, popular environmentalism, and the proliferation of digital technologies. Emphasizing the materiality of media, Vaughan interweaves details of the hidden environmental consequences of specific filmmaking practices, from water use to server farms, within a larger critical portrait of social perceptions and valuations of the natural world. Cinema Art, 1926 Nat Fleischer's All-time Ring Record Book ...
