Rural Household Studies In Asia:

Rural Household Studies in Asia, 1980 Rural Household Studies in Asia Hans P. Binswanger, 1980 Conference report on rural area household studies in Asia outlines methodological and social and cultural anthropology perspectives of home economics such as nutrition diets of infants time budget work at home leisure child labour demographic aspects and family behaviour marriage and fertility etc Bibliography diagrams graphs and statistical tables Conference held in Singapore 1976 aug Labour in Southeast Asia Becky Elmhirst, Ratna Saptari, 2004-05-07 In seeking to provoke debate the book reveals the variety of experiences evident in countries and regions marked by capitalist and post socialist regulatory frameworks and contrasting labour regimes histories and cultures The contributions show the importance of critically examining both the complex nature of global local links and the particular ways economic processes are around the themes of labour regimes labour processes labour mobility and labour communities the essays show how economic development is not only shaped by market forces but is also interlocked in systems of meaning Asian Population Studies Series, 1992

International Journal of Afro-Asian Studies, 2011-02-11 Women and Households in Indonesia Juliette Koning, Marleen Nolten, Janet Rodenburg, Ratna Saptari, 2013-11-19 Critically examines the usefulness of the household concept within the historically and culturally diverse context of Indonesia exploring in detail the position of women within and beyond domestic arrangements So far classical household and kinship studies have not studied how women deal with two major forces which shape and define their world local kinship traditions and the universalising ideology of the Indonesian regime which both provide prescriptions and prohibitions concerning family marriage and womanhood Women are caught between these conflicting notions and practices How they challenge or accommodate such forces is the main issue in this book Rice Research in Asia Robert Eugene Evenson, Robert W. Herdt, Mahabub Hossain, 1996 In order to achieve economic efficiency research organizations have established rigorous quantitative methods for priority setting One such organization the Rockefeller Foundation has drawn on this report to help determine the research goals it should emphasize in its funding A review of the problem of priority setting is presented followed by a discussion of approaches that have been used previously Several chapters demonstrate how a number of areas of plant science research have contributed to gains in rice productivity and also assess the current challenges of genetic improvement and pest control The economic framework for priority setting and previous methods are reviewed followed by a series of country case studies which provide more practical applications The End of the Peasantry in Southeast Asia R.E. Elson, 2016-01-13 This book analyses the changing context and conditions of production and livelihood amongst Southeast Asia's peasants since the beginning of the nineteenth century It argues that with demographic growth and the nineteenth century development of great global markets based on small scale production the size and economic significance of peasantries throughout the region was magnified However such changes brought with them new forces stronger states more regular legal systems a revolution in communications intensive commercialisation which themselves worked to undermine the foundations of peasant society and eventually to transform peasants into farmers workers and citizens

Environments of the Poor in Southeast Asia, East Asia and the Pacific Aris Ananta, 2014-11-11 This book provides examples of possible triple win solutions for simultaneously reducing poverty raising the quality of the environment and adapting to climate change The book provides empirical evidence and observations from sixteen case studies in Southeast and East Asia and from the Pacific It argues that a spatial approach focussing on the environments in which the poor and vulnerable live would trigger changes for development policies and implementation that better balance environmental and social concerns In line with the post 2015 Millennium Development Goals MDG and Sustainable Development Goals SDG agenda emphasizing integrated development approaches for the slum poor the upland poor the dryland poor the coastal poor and the flood affected wetland poor would also bring the environment and poverty agenda closer The book emerged from a cooperation of the Asian Development Bank ADB with the Institute of Southeast Asian Studies ISEAS in partnership with experts from research institutes and think tanks in the Asian region

The Malay World of Southeast Asia Patricia Lim Pui Huen, 1986 Over 5 000 entries arranged in four parts Part I comprises reference and general works to provide a guide to information on Southeast Asia Part II provides the setting of space and time Part III features the people and Part IV the many facets of culture and society language ideas beliefs values institutions creative expression and social and cultural change Within each section the arrangement is geographical beginning with Southeast Asia as a whole followed by the various countries in alphabetical order

Work Behavior of the World's Poor Mohammed Sharif, 2018-02-06 This title was first published in 2003 The working poor of the world are observed to engage in long hours in hard jobs and to work more if wages are further reduced Mainstream economics brushes off this tendency to increase labour supply as wages fall as perverse because it does not fit the conventional wisdom and tries to explain it as a result of subsistence mentality limited aspiration or target income behaviour of the poor This however ignores the observed fact that the poor work long hard hours but most of the time fail to meet their minimum needs of subsistence and live impoverished lives in absolute poverty deficient of both food and physical rest This book postulates that the observed behaviour is the result of economic distress the working poor suffer and analyses it as a rational behaviour using the conventional utility maximization framework and derives both theoretical and empirical results consistent with the observation This book aims to correct a serious misconception persisting in the literature relating to the working poor labour supply behaviour that is almost universally observed It also goes onto develop using the supply function a methodology to determine the standard of subsistence income and physical rest for the worker

A Home Divided , 1993-12 A challenge to economic theories that view the household as a harmonious unit with a single decision maker this book shows that in the Third World the household is an arena of conflict marked by inequality and negotiation over income and expenditures Dwyer and Bruce s introduction is followed by eleven field studies four in Asia four in Africa and the Middle East and three in the Caribbean and Central America These twelve essays by economists sociologists anthropologists and demographers provide a cogent analysis of household structure dynamics and women s bargaining context This book will be of interest not only to specialists in gender studies but also to ethnologists and other social scientists Peasants in the Making Diana

Wong,1987 This study of the so called Green Revolution in the rice bowl region of Malaysia aims to provide an interpretation of recent changes in the Malaysian agrarian structure and to make an analytical and theoretical contribution to the long standing intellectual debate on the agrarian question By joining the micro world of household social structure and economy to the macro world of changes in production relations it traces out a specific trajectory of agrarian development in Malaysia

Women and Mediation in Indonesia S.T. van Bemmelen,E. Touwen-Bouwsma,A. Niehof,2021-12-06 This volume is the product of an international workshop on Women and Mediation organized in Leiden in 1988 by the Koninklijk Instituut voor Taal Land en Volkenkunde KITLV and the Werkgroep Indonesische Vrouwenstudies WIVS a Dutch interdisciplinary study group on Indonesian women The book contains a selection of fourteen contributions sociological anthropological and historical ranging geographically from Sabang to Merauke from the Toba Batak North Sumatra to the Dani Irian Jaya Loosely centred around the concept of mediation many of the articles include new data derived from archival research and fieldwork One cluster of articles concentrates on theoretical questions concerning the concept of mediation Another cluster deals with brokerage in the economic and social fields A third cluster focuses on mediation in the cultural domain which many extend to mediation between different cultures elite agrarian Western Indonesian or between the human and the suprahuman world between macrocosm and microcosm Mediation by women has been overlooked not only in the social sciences in general but also in the field of women studies in particular The present volume explores the theme of mediation by women in general and in Indonesia in particular Smallholders, Householders Robert McC. Netting,1993 Contrasting the prevailing theories of the evolution of agriculture the author argues that the practice of smallholding is more efficient and less environmentally degrading than that of industrial agriculture which depends heavily on fossil fuel chemical fertilizers pesticides and herbicides He presents a convincing case for his argument with examples taken from Africa Asia Europe and the Americas and demonstrates that there are fundamental commonalities among smallholder cultures Smallholders Householders is a detailed and innovative analysis of the agricultural efficiency and conservation of resources practiced around the world by smallholders Essays on Literature and Society in Southeast Asia Tham (Seong Chee),1981 Women in Rice Farming

International Rice Research Institute,1985 Income Growth and Gender Bias in Childhood Mortality in Developing Countries Mika Ueyama,2007 Time Use Research in the Social Sciences Wendy E. Pentland,M. Powell Lawton,Andrew S. Harvey,Mary Ann McColl,2007-05-08 Despite the fact that for most of us time is a central focus of our lives the examination of what we do with our time and why has received limited attention as a method for understanding human behavior in the social sciences Humans view and use of time shows tremendous variation including across cultures and with age lifestyle and gender For many of us a sense of time is ever present We speak of time as a commodity a resource an ally an enemy and a gift It maybe on our side on our hands with us or against us We perceive it to change speeds dragging vs flying vs standing still and lest it get away on us we attempt to harness and control it with clocks schedules and deadlines We describe our use of time in a myriad of ways we spend it save it waste it kill it give it take it and grab it The impetus for this book grew from a three day research symposium where established time use researchers from a variety of disciplines from Canada the United States Finland Australia and New Zealand gathered together to merge their knowledge and resources to collaborate in examining the relationship between human time utilization and health and well-being We gratefully acknowledge the financial support for the symposium received from the Government of Canada's Program for International Research Linkages and M Powell Lawton without whose support and encouragement this book would likely not exist

Poverty, Inequality, and Inclusive Growth in Asia Juzhong Zhuang, 2011-10-01 While Asia's growth record in recent decades is remarkable it has been marred by rising inequalities This book looks at recent trends of income and non income inequalities in developing Asian countries discusses their underlying driving forces and examines key policy issues that need to be addressed to ensure that the benefits of growth will be more equitably shared in Asia The book also presents a set of country studies that provide rich information on growth poverty and inequality dynamics and the policy challenges that arise in marching toward inclusive growth
