Arun Kumar, 1997 Thanks to the recent realization that small and micro enterprises have the potential to generate more productive employment opportunities in the national economy Such studies assume importance mainly in the context of changing government policies towards this sector This book reviews the union government policy towards rural industries The primary survey has been restricted to a limited sample drawn from the metal enterprises in Kerala state      Gandhi and globalisation Angadi Ranga Reddy, 2009 Papers presented at the National Seminar on Impact of Gandhian Thought on Globalisation held at Tirupati during 29 30 March 2006      Endogenous Origins of Economic Reforms in India and Chin Rajiv G. Maluste, 2011-07 Attitudinal change in the context of economic reforms has been referred to in Rodrik and Subramanian 2005 DeLong 2003 Kohli 1989 and Panagariya 2004 2008 This dissertation provides empirical support for this literature establishing an earlier start for India's economic policy liberalisation than presented in stylized accounts It demonstrates the endogenous nature of the origins of these policy shifts Attitudinal change literature had directed attention to the need for further research into India's policy changes of the early 1980s and for studying broader comparability issues in other developing countries This research makes a contribution towards filling these gaps This dissertation shows that India started its economic liberalisation under the Indira Gandhi administration from 1980 to 1984 These findings depart from the conventional view that India's economic policy changes were initiated by the Narasimha Rao government in 1991 or by the Rajiv Gandhi administration in the mid to late 1980s The dissertation establishes that policy shifts of the early 1980s had endogenous origins in the political leadership's attitudinal changes The Indira Gandhi administration of the early 1980s revisited the statist policies of its previous tenure from 1966 to 1977 The new approach entailed more openness towards private enterprise scaling back the role of the public sector and starting India's integration into the global economy The dissertation also discusses the comparable role of attitudinal changes at the start of China's policy liberalisation led by Deng Xiaoping from 1978 to 1982 It focuses on the significance and challenges faced by China's political leadership in bringing about societal attitudinal change The dissertation concludes by drawing comparisons between India and China developing a linkage between their endogenous attitudinal changes and economic policy liberalisation

Meenakshisundaram, 2006 With special reference to India Journal of Rural Development, 2004 Trade Liberalisation and Poverty in South Asia Prema-chandra Athukorala, Jayatilleke S. Bandara, Saman Kelegama, 2012-05-23 The link between trade liberalisation and poverty has arguably been one of the most debated topics in development policy debate Existing studies on the subject have primarily used multi country cross sectional data and there is a growing concern about the limitations of this approach in providing a sound empirical basis for informing the policy debate These limitations point to the need for undertaking in depth analyses within individual countries over time In order to examine the connection between trade liberalisation and poverty this book provides case studies of trade policy reforms and poverty reduction outcomes of seven countries in South Asia Bangladesh Bhutan India Maldives Nepal Pakistan and Sri Lanka The South Asia region allows for an excellent comparative study given the widespread emphasis on liberalisation reforms in the region over the past two decades as well as highlighting significant inter country differences in terms of the timing and comprehensiveness of reforms and the heavy concentration of world poverty in the region This book is a useful contribution to studies on South Asia as well as International Trade and Development Economics Agricultural Policy Reform and the Rural Economy in OECD Countries OECD, 1998-03-09 The report comprising a main report and case studies on Canada France Greece Japan New Zealand Norway and Switzerland addresses socio economic development of rural areas The Third Revolution in the Chinese Countryside Ross Garnaut, Guo Shutian, Ma Guonan, 1996-04-18 The first revolution in the Chinese countryside was the land reform implemented in the liberated areas and extended throughout China after the proclamation of the People's Republic of China in 1949 This was important in the consolidation of the Communist Party's political power The second revolution was the decollectivization of agriculture and the shift to the household responsibility system as a basis for agricultural production The phenomenal increase in Chinese agricultural output from 1978 to 1984 resulted partly from the new system of production and with a resulting explosion of farm incomes. The second revolution in the Chinese countryside from the late 1970s set the scene for the third revolution: the freeing of markets for farm products and the linking of domestic markets and international markets. The third revolution is still in progress and this book explores its beginnings. Initially the book covers the issues of poverty in China and feeding the population. The second section describes the agricultural markets in China and the price reform of agricultural products. The next two parts discuss international and regional issues of China's agricultural economy. Finally there are contributions on what institutional changes have been associated with the third agricultural revolution. The contributions are from a team of experts on the Chinese economy from inside and outside China led by Professor Garnaut.

Assessing Prospective Trade Policy Oliver Morrissey, 2010-09-30 The European Union EU has provided trade preferences to the African Caribbean and Pacific ACP countries since 1975. To maintain these preferences a series of economic partnership agreements EPAs between the EU and regional groupings of ACP countries are being agreed. Negotiations started around 2003 and many framework agreements have been signed. As multilateral negotiations within the World Trade Organisation have stalled EPAs are currently the single most important policy issue for ACP trade. This volume assesses EPAs and the potential impact on ACP countries provides guidance for ACP negotiators in future negotiations and introduces methods to analyse the impact of future trade reforms. The essential features are that ACP countries commit to remove tariffs on substantially all imports from the EU and the EU offers improved market access to ACP exporters. For ACP countries the major impacts will be increased imports from the EU hence a loss of tariff revenue and increased competition from imports in domestic and regional markets implying significant adjustment costs which may be offset by some increases in exports to the EU. This collection excellently outlines a variety of analytical methods that can be used to assess the potential economic effects of trade policy reforms shows how these can be applied to EPAs and derives implications for the issues that should be addressed in negotiating the details of agreements. This valuable contribution offers a balanced assessment of the issues and should be essential reading for postgraduates and researchers focussing on Development Economics Furthermore the book is written in an accessible style and should be an excellent resource for trade negotiators and government officials concerned with trade relations as well as officials in the European Commission individual countries ACP Commonwealth EU and in multilateral organizations WTO UNECA World Bank UNCTAD      World Scientific Reference On Asia-Pacific Trade Policies (In 2 Volumes) Kym
