Rural Muslims In Transition:

Rural Muslims in Transition Sarfarazuddin Ahmad, 1991 Sociological study of villages inhabited by Muslims with reference to Pinjrawan Gaya District Bihar

Britain's rural Muslims Sarah Hackett, 2020-06-06 Immigration has long been associated with the urban landscape from accounts of inner city racial tension and discrimination during the 1960s and 1970s and studies of minority communities of the 1980s and 1990s to the increased focus on cities amongst contemporary scholars of migration and diaspora Though cities have long provided the geographical frameworks within which a significant share of post war migration has taken place Sarah Hackett argues that there has long existed a rural dimension to Muslim integration in Britain This book offers the first comprehensive study of Muslim migrant integration in rural Britain across the post 1960s period examining the previously unexplored relationship between Muslim integration and rurality by using the county of Wiltshire in the South West of England as a case study Drawing upon a range of archival material and oral histories it challenges the long held assumption that local authorities in more rural areas have been inactive and even disinterested in devising and implementing migration integration and diversity policies and sheds light on smaller and more dispersed Muslim communities that have traditionally been written out of Britain's immigration history

Islam in Transition Jessica Jacobson, 2006-08-21 Islam in Transition focuses on the ways in which Islamic religion still engenders powerful loyalties within what is now a predominantly secular society and how in their continual adherence to their religion many young British Pakistanis find a welcome sense of stability and permanence By presenting material collected in field work study and by using extensive quotations from interviews the author argues that in a world where concepts of identity are always being challenged traditional sources of authority and allegiance still survive

Muslim Women in Transition H. Y. Siddiqui, 1987 With reference to western Uttar Pradesh

Rural Muslim Women Sekh Rahim Mondal, 2005 Admittedly women's perspectives are not much reflected in the discourse and agenda development planning and interventions Due to lack of research there is tremendous scarcity of information about social condition of women among various Indian communities This book is solely devoted to examine the social situation of Muslim Women of India in general and the state of West Bengal in particular The situation of Muslim women of West Bengal specially of Northern region of this State has been described in details The present study seeks to explore Role and status of Muslim women as well as their problems and prospects Quality of Socio economic life of the Muslim women and the extent of changes that have occurred among them and Problems the Muslim women face towards their empowerment under contemporary changing world order The book also highlights some of the policy implications of major findings of the study With its original data and fresh theoretical perspective the book will serve the interest of social scientists policy makers and women activists

The Byzantine-Islamic Transition in Palestine Gideon Avni, 2014-01-30 Using a comprehensive evaluation of recent archaeological findings Avni addresses the transformation of local societies in Palestine and Jordan between the sixth and eleventh centuries AD Arguing that these archaeological findings provide a reliable though complex picture Avni illustrates how the Byzantine Islamic transition was a much slower and gradual process than previously thought and that it involved regional variability different types of populations and diverse settlement patterns Based on the results of hundreds of excavations including Avni's own surveys and excavations in the Negev Beth Guvrin Jerusalem and Ramla the volume reconstructs patterns of continuity and change in settlements during this turbulent period evaluating the process of change in a dynamic multicultural society and showing that the coming of Islam had no direct effect on settlement patterns and material culture of the local population The change in settlement stemming from internal processes rather than from external political powers culminated gradually during the Early Islamic period However the process of Islamization was slow and by the eve of the Crusader period Christianity still had an overwhelming majority in Palestine and Jordan

Rural Development in Iran, 1960-2020 Mostafa

Azkia,2025-06-30 This book is an authoritative account of rural development in Iran spanning 60 years and 2 distinct political regimes Professor Mostafa Azkia has spent many decades demonstrating the importance of participatory rural development not only in addressing rural problems but also in reducing urban concerns such as unemployment and overpopulation This book is the culmination of this work bringing together a detailed analysis of the theories history and strategies of rural and state development in Iran both before and after the Islamic Revolution Putting rural communities at the fore the book demonstrates that there has been significant progress in reducing the rural urban gap both in terms of income and standards of living resulting in a more equal path of socioeconomic development for Iran This comprehensive assessment from Iran's foremost rural sociologist will be an important read for researchers and professionals working on rural development and sociology in the Middle East

Clans, Pacts, and Politics: Understanding Regime Transition in Central Asia Kathleen A.

Collins,1999 Transitional Selves Marcus Bussey,Meera Chakravorty,Camila Mozzini-Alister,2023-05-30 This book engages with the ethics and practices of identity formation in a world experiencing identity stress It engages with crucial questions such as What models are shaping our view of ourselves and the society in which we live What images ground our perception of what is true and real How have the images been historically produced What are the effects of such models on definitions of self Should we break free from these images if we get to know what they are Is it possible to change our models in order to create freer identities Through a range of distinctive lenses the essays in the volume deals with the ideas of the liminal self the digital self identities in flux and offers up anthropologies of self selves that situates current identity processes within their cultures and explores strategies and dilemmas from this perspective This key volume will be of interest to scholars and researchers of literary stories critical theory social theory social anthropology philosophy and political philosophy

Encyclopaedia of Indian Women Through the Ages: The middle ages Simmi Jain,2003 Youth Studies in Transition: Culture, Generation and New Learning Processes Thomas Johansson,Marcus Herz,2019-01-29 This book provides an updated and fresh introduction to recent theoretical developments in youth studies It expands upon these developments and introduces new discussions and perspectives It presents three central theoretical traditions in youth studies and explores the possibilities of redefining some of the central concepts but also of combining different theoretical perspectives After depicting the theoretical landscape of youth studies the book explores generations and new subjectivities Next it examines subcultures and transitional spaces mediatization and learning processes One chapter is set aside for a discussion on the body the self and habitus and this is followed by a chapter on postcolonial spaces Before presenting its conclusions the book delves into the development of youth studies theory and everyday life All together the book taps into what is happening in the everyday lives of young people and employs a methodology that can be used to create bridges between young people s voices and experiences on the one hand and societal and cultural transformations on the other The Family in Transition ,1971

Democracy and Islam in Indonesia Mirjam Künkler, Alfred Stepan, 2013-08-27 Indonesia s military government collapsed in 1998 igniting fears that economic religious and political conflicts would complicate any democratic transition Yet in every year since 2006 the world s most populous Muslim country has received high marks from international democracy ranking organizations In this volume political scientists religious scholars legal theorists and anthropologists examine the theory and practice of Indonesia s democratic transition and its ability to serve as a model for other Muslim countries They compare the Indonesian example with similar scenarios in Chile Spain India and Tunisia as well as with the failed transitions of Yugoslavia Egypt and Iran Essays explore the relationship between religion and politics and the ways in which Muslims became supportive of democracy even before change occurred and they describe how innovative policies prevented dissident military groups violent religious activists and secessionists from disrupting Indonesia s democratic evolution The collection concludes with a discussion of Indonesia s emerging legal pluralism and of which of its forms are rights eroding and rights protecting

Country Reports on Human Rights Practices ,2001 Inside the Islamic Republic Mahmood Monshipouri, 2016 Goes beyond the media stereotype of fashionable parties in North Tehran to examine the quotidian realities of how society has evolved in Iran since the 1979 revolution Ceramics in Transition: Production and Exchange of Late Byzantine-Early Islamic Pottery in Southern Transjordan and the Negev Elisabeth Holmqvist, 2019-07-31 This book focuses on the utilitarian ceramic traditions during the socio political transition from the late Byzantine into the early Islamic Umayyad and Abbasid periods in southern Transjordan and the Negev Production clusters manufacturing techniques distribution patterns and material links between communities are analysed How Power Shapes Energy Transitions in Southeast Asia Jens Marquardt, 2016-12-01 An understanding of the role of energy related governance systems and the conditions required for a shift towards renewables in developing countries is urgently needed in order to tap into the global potential of low carbon development Although renewable energy sources have become technically feasible and economically viable social and political factors continue to persist as the most critical obstacles for their dissemination How Power Shapes Energy Transitions in Southeast Asia conceptualizes power for the field of sustainable energy governance Based on empirical findings from the Philippines and Indonesia the book develops an analytical approach that incorporates power theory into a multi level governance framework The book begins with a profound background on renewable energy development around the world and presents major trends in development cooperation A power based multi level governance approach is introduced that is rooted in development thinking Examining how coordination and power relations shape the development and dissemination of renewable energy technologies the book also shows how decentralization affects low carbon development in emerging economies Sparking debate on the ways in which energy transitions can be triggered and sustained in developing countries this book will be of great interest to students and scholars of renewable energy development and environmental politics and governance as well as practitioners in development cooperation Muslims in Britain Sophie Gilliat-Ray,2010-06-10 Drawing upon sociology history anthropology and politics this book provides an informed understanding of the daily lives of British Muslims Becoming Arab Yossef Rapoport,2025-11-18 How late medieval Middle Eastern peasants adopted Arab cultural identities and formed village clans During the later Middle Ages peasants in Egypt and Greater Syria came to view themselves as members of Arab clans that had originated in the Arabian Peninsula They expressed their Arab identity by wearing Arab headgear adopting an Arab dialect and circulating a new genre of popular epic that told heroic tales of pre Islamic Arabia In Becoming Arab Yossef Rapoport argues that this proliferation of Arab village clans did not come about through mass migration and displacement but reflected an internal transformation Drawing on extensive documentary literary administrative and material evidence Rapoport shows that the widespread formation of Arab village clans in late medieval Egypt and Greater Syria was a gradual process the result of mass rural conversion to Islam and a new landholding regime in which peasants shifted from being landowners to being tenants After the eleventh century Rapoport contends Middle Eastern villagers were turning Arab These Arab village clans were not merely administrative regimes imposed from above villagers enthusiastically embraced their new identities New converts to Islam adopted Arab lineages to claim status and as a counter identity to urban based Turkish elites Arab identity was used by clans to mobilize rural uprisings against the ruling sultans and to resolve disputes among villagers Challenging traditional historiography of the Middle East which views Arab clansmen as pastoralists whose identity separated them from that of the wider peasantry Rapoport argues that the pervasive establishment of Arab village clans was the most important development in the history of the Middle Eastern countryside in the Islamic era Christian Martyrs under Islam Christian C. Sahner,2018-08-14 A look at the developing conflicts in Christian Muslim relations during late antiquity and the early Islamic era How did the medieval Middle East transform from a majority Christian world to a majority Muslim world and what role did violence play in this process Christian Martyrs under Islam explains how Christians across the early Islamic caliphate slowly converted to the faith of the Arab conquerors and how small groups of individuals rejected this faith through dramatic acts of resistance including apostasy and blasphemy Using previously untapped sources in a range of Middle Eastern languages Christian Sahner introduces an unknown group of martyrs who were executed at the hands of Muslim officials between the seventh and ninth centuries CE Found in places as diverse as Syria Spain Egypt and Armenia they include an alleged descendant of Muhammad who converted to Christianity high ranking Christian secretaries of the Muslim state who viciously insulted the Prophet and the children of mixed marriages between Muslims and Christians Sahner argues that Christians never experienced systematic persecution under the early caliphs and indeed they remained the largest portion of the population in the greater Middle East for centuries after the Arab conquest Still episodes of ferocious violence contributed to the spread of Islam within Christian societies and memories of this bloodshed played a key role in shaping Christian identity in the new Islamic empire Christian Martyrs under Islam examines how violence against Christians ended the age of porous religious boundaries and laid the foundations for more antagonistic Muslim Christian relations in the centuries to come
