Rural Texas Sayings:

Rural Texas Sayings Ralph Cain, Robbie Prather, 2001-07 The independent reviews of the book are all good or excellent so far since Jan 14 to June 18 2009 The readers and reviewers really liked it a lot The first 40 pages are stories about my life growing to manhood It was a very exciting one and written in a fun way Then I tell about my experiences with politics service Abbie Hoffman and the civic groups James Hoffa plus a myriad of others who you probably heard of yourself Every word in this book is true and I have over 2 000 newspaper clippings and pictures to back that up Even the Second world war was written up less in the local papers and including the Phila Inquirer and New York Times papers The clippings are mostly from the mid 1970 s and 1980 s when I was leading Bucks and Montgomery Counties in Pa to develop a safer system of Public Drinking Water than the contaminated water we were getting from Philadelphia This became a very controversial project with 100 s of protestors at the pump site daily for over 10 years Politicians pro and con became involved and many people went to jail You will learn important info about your own water no matter where you live in this nation Are we dying off younger because of our water I think so The book is interesting and enjoyable to read and you will learn a lot that you didn't know This is enjoyable reading at its best To see more about this book including the inside cover go to www.raflow.com

Jones,2014-06-26 Weaving Words raises important questions about the impact of 21st century practices of education upon human creativity and joy in making meaning through writing It questions how writing is experienced and valued as a process and product of research as a means for personal and professional learning and how it is taught and experienced in the classroom and in teacher education Weaving Words brings together a range of critical perspectives upon writing within global agendas for education and research and considers the capacity for writing and reflection to disrupt and transform personal and professional understandings The parallel traditions of spinning and weaving and the sharing of stories through the spoken and written word shape the structure of this book its warp is constituted by chapters written by researchers in education its weft by the poems plays short stories and reflections of pre service teachers Both researchers and pre service teachers consider the challenges of becoming writers and the contradictions they encounter in transferring their understandings of being a writer to the teaching of writing with younger authors and in conducting research as writing Weaving Words engages with emerging debates around what forms of writing are valued and supported within 21st century teaching and research it demonstrates the power of writing for personal expression suggesting that writing that is creative opens spaces for making meaning and for constructing the world that are important for practices of education and for research Stories from Texas W.F. Strong,2018-06 Texas raconteur professor and radio personality W F Strong explains Texas like no one else Dozens of fascinating bits from Texas past and present are skillfully told by the Fulbright Scholar from Texas For this book celebrating his home state Strong has collected 75 of his NPR broadcasts You ll hear his inimitably Texan voice in your mind s ear as he weaves stories on subjects ranging from how to talk Texan to Texas bards and troubadours from tall Texas tales to Lone Star icons like Charles Goodnight Tom Landry and Blue Bell ice cream from legends and unsung heroes of the past to some heartfelt memories of his own In Our Own Words Various Authors,2017-08-24 When Georgia Southern College in the small town of Statesboro opened its doors to its first six colored students in 1965 it did so without much of the very public outcry faced at other schools and colleges as part of desegregation These six pioneers share their personal memories of integrating the college which opened doors for those who would follow In 2014 more than 5 400 African American students enrolled at the school now known as Georgia Southern University GSU The essays of those initial pioneers as well as those by fifteen other alums through the Class of 1985 demonstrate the perseverance of the human spirit and illustrate how social change can be achieved by boldly confronting difficult and frightening situations to bring about lasting reform Their stories of integration at the southern school tell of emotional ordeals some of which led to lasting scars and times of defeat Life wasn't easy if you were black on a predominantly white college campus But in the midst of despair comes triumph In Our Own Words also shares the determination and dedication of those early students most of whom went on to successful careers and personal accomplishments This powerful collection of essays that needed to be written showcases a group of students who never dreamed they would one day help shape the college's history and leave a legacy that would allow others to follow in their footsteps
