These stories are interesting to read and to hear but they also have wider significance because they challenge stereotypes about Muslims who are portrayed as unhappy in love and sexually different, even dangerous. The young people who emerge in this book, contradicting racist and Islamophobic stereotypes, are assertive and creative, finding and making their own ways in matters of the body and the heart. Their stories about single life, meeting and dating, pressure and expectations, sex, love, marriage and dreams are at once specific to the young British Muslims who tell them and resonant reflections of human experience.
